Citizens generally should attend the meeting to be held at the Commercial Club rooms Monday evening to consider the advisability of having a Fourth of July celebration. If we are to celebrate the matter must be taken in hand without delay. It seems to us that about the best plan to pursue is to raise a purse, turn it over to the fire department and let the members manage the celebration. This has been done in the past and the programs have been very satisfactory.

French and Bacon to be Re-Appointed.

A Washington special in Wednesday's State Journal says: Senators Millard and Dietrich disposed of another important bit of federal patronage today, joining in a recommendation to the secretary of the interior of Frank Bacon, receiver of the North Platte land office and George E. French, register, for re-appointment. The commissioner of the general land office gave these officials a flattering testimonial of efficiency and they were endorsed by many leading republicans of Nebraska. Their terms will expire August 8, but it is expected that their nomination will be confirmed at the present session of congress.

Commencement Exercises.

The sixteenth annual commencement of the North Platte high school was held at the opera house Tuesday evening before an audience that almost filled the seating capacity of the building. The curtain was raised at 8:45 and on the stage were seated the fourteen graduates, the members of the board of education, the high school instructors and two of the local clergy. Overhead in the rear of the stage was placed the motto of the class, "Forward, Guide Right," the letters of which were formed of incandescent lights. In front were draped the class colors—red and white. The stage presented a very pretty appearance.

The exercises opened with an invocation by Rev. Mr. Greenlee, followed with a selection by the Arion Octette. As Fenna Caroline Beeler, the salutatorian, stepped to the front of the stage she received generous plaudits from the audience. Miss Beeler is a bright, winsome young lady, and her address was well prepared and delivered in clear and distinct tones.

The address delivered by Rev. John F. Seibert was one replete with good advice, the subjects being treated largely along spiritual lines. Particularly effective were his remarks on the need of confidence.

Mrs. J. H. Hershey rendered a solo sweetly and with much expression and responded to an encore.

Miss Ione Lenore Neir, who passed the highest examination and therefore became valedictorian, delivered a well prepared address and was greeted with applause from the audience; evidence that she occupied a warm place in the hearts of her hearers.

A solo by Ira L. Bare was followed by the presentation of diplomas by F. E. Bullard, accompanying the same by well-timed remarks.

The exercises closed with a selection by the octette and the benediction by Rev. Seibert.

With the closing of these exercises, nine young ladies and five young men enter upon the stern realities of life. To successfully combat the opposition which they will meet on the road to a successful life will require courage, ambition, confidence. We believe that each member of the class possesses these and that they will win, and win handsomely. The people of North Platte feel a justifiable pride in the class of 1902—they expect much from them, and we believe there will be no disappointment.

In a practice game of ball Wednesday evening, the Union Pacifics defeated the Y. M. C. A. team by a score of fifteen to one. Considerable ragged playing was noticeable on the part of the Y. M. C. A's., and the Union Pacifics did not play a snappy game, probably because it was not considered necessary.

Lands Not to be Leased.

At the instance of J. H. Edmisten, Congressman Neville has made an inquiry at the interior department as to whether or not it was the purpose of the government to lease lands designated as forest reserves and withdrawn from homestead entry. Mr. Neville has been advised by the secretary that there is absolutely no foundation for the rumor which is current in Nebraska that these lands will be leased, as there is no law in existence authorizing the leasing of lands within forest reserves.

Still Another Tale Told of Archbishop Ryan's Ready Wit.

When Archbishop Patrick J. Ryan of Philadelphia, who has just been appointed a member of the Board of Indian Commissioners by the President, was a very young priest he was stationed at a parish in St. Louis, where Archbishop Kendrick presided over the diocese, says the New York Times. The latter lived in a very small, unpretentious house, scarcely in keeping with his position in the church.

One day when Father Ryan was passing the house of the archbishop, accompanied by a Chicago priest, who was visiting the Mound City, he pointed out the house as the residence of the head of the local church. The Chicago priest said with surprise:

"Why, you should see the splendid residence we have in Chicago for our archbishop!"

"Yes," responded Father Ryan, "but you should see the splendid archbishop we have in St. Louis for our residence."

Saves Sleep for His Firm.

There is a man in New York city who holds down a hilarious job. He serves a big firm in the capacity of buying entertainer. The buyers whom he entertains suppose him to be a junior partner of the firm, but he isn't. He is simply a buffer between the firm and the buyers. He saves sleep for the firm, and big heads and that morning feeling. He bears the brunt of the buyer's stored-up skittishness. The average buyer has an anticipatory glitter in his eyes from the minute that he sets foot in town. There is much that he desires to see. This buyer entertainer shows it to him. Sometimes he meets a buyer who nearly outdoes him in the high-ball home stretch about 2 o'clock in the morning; but, as a rule, he gets the buyer to his hotel in safe condition.

Precautions Against Kidnaping.

A New York paper tells how the little daughter of a multimillionaire—name not given—is taken for a walk every pleasant morning. The child is accompanied by two maids, one walking on either side, and behind these come two men servants, burly of build, of determined aspect and both armed with revolvers. All this because the parents fear their darling may be kidnaped.
