Claim of A. S. Baldwin, costs in county cases and office expenses allowed on general fund for $9.30.

Reports of A. S. Baldwin county judge for first and second quarters of 1902 checked with his books and found correct and are hereby approved.

July 23, 1902

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present full board and county clerk, when the following business was had and done.

Whereas, H. S. Ridgely, county attorney for Lincoln county, has filed bills amounting to $950.00 for extra compensation for services rendered Lincoln county for expenses, twenty trips to Omaha in the case of the U. P. Ry against Lincoln county, for janitor and stenographer work, for expenses attending coroner's inquests, for postage box rent and for postage stamps, covering a period of three years and six months, and whereas the said H. S. Ridgely has not shown to the satisfaction of the board that he has kept an accurate account of expenses and the amount of postage stamps used and has not furnished proper vouchers for the same, and whereas the said H. S. Ridgely has not shown to the satisfaction of the board that he has been allowed the services of janitor and stenographer or even asked for the same, and whereas it is known to the board that the said H. S. Ridgely does not devote his entire time and services to the county and is conducting a private business for which he may need a postoffice box, and whereas in the opinion of the board a county officer receiving a stipulated salary cannot be allowed extra compensation for services rendered the county.

Therefore be it resolved that the entire bill be disallowed, provided that upon satisfactory proof and proper vouchers being furnished by said H. S. Ridgely as to the amount of postage stamps used and the necessary traveling and hotel expenses while performing work for the county outside of Lincoln county and within the state of Nebraska that part relating to these items may be reconsidered, and provided further postoffice box rent may be prorated between county and private business, which resolution was rejected by the following vote: voting yes J. D. Kellner, voting no Robbins and McCullough.

On motion the claim of H. S. Ridgely for 600.00 fees and expenses in U. P. R. R. land case in the U. S. court in Omaha be disallowed. Voting to disallow, Robbins and McCullough, not voting Kellner.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

Charles McDonald and mother have moved from Hershey into the house on the Gabel Land Company's farm near Nichols formerly owned by J. C. Gyger.

Mrs. W. M. Dymond departed Tuesday for Cheney, Washington, where she will join her husband and son Frank who at the present time are employed at or near that place.

Dr. and Mrs. Eves of Hershey, went down to the county seat on business last Monday, returning the following day.

A. W. Arnett has about seventy-five acres of corn in one field that is at this time fully five and one-half feet in height and all eared out in fine shape. For the number of acres it cannot be beaten in western Nebraska. There are a number of smaller fields that are just as good as far as they go.

Jim Abbott was repairing bicycles one day this week. He is up to date in this work.

The second crop of alfalfa is about harvested for hay and the most of it in the stack up this way.

Over on the Max Beer ranch now occupied by W. L. Brownfield there were three runaway teams in the meadow the other day at the same time, two hitched to hay wagons and one to a mower. They tangled things up to some extent but done no great amount of damage.

M. Mickelsen, who is interested in the Silver Lake Mine and Milling Company, departed the early part of the week for there. His wife and daughter accompanied him as far as Denver, where they will visit until his return.

J. W. Abbott of Hershey, spent the early part of this week at Julesburg, his former abiding place.

Mrs. Ed Ware and children of Elm Creek, are visiting relatives and old time friends in this locality. Ed, who is with a threshing machine in that section, will come up in the valley where they will locate. We are pleased to have them with us again.

The spring grain is about all harvested in this vicinity and some of it is in the stack.

The hay dam recently put in at the headgates of the old canal has proven successful and the main canal as well as all of its laterals are full of water and its patrons are using water on their corn.

Mrs. R. W. Calhoun of Nichols, entertained relatives from Chicago this week who were enroute for the mountains on a pleasure trip.

Ed Ewell, the jolly Dutchman of the Grand Island beet sugar factory, was visiting the boys and looking after the beet crop in this locality this week. He seemed well pleased with the present outlook for a large crop of beets in this locality.

Mrs. Albert McConnell entertained the ladies' aid society last Wednesday.

W. S. Cox and crew are harvesting the second crop of alfalfa on Mrs. Calhoun's farm at Nichols.

A German by the name of Peterson and family consisting of a wife and three boys enroute by teams from the eastern part of the state to Seattle, Washington, stopped in the valley about a month ago and went to work in the beet fields and up to date they have earned about two hundred dollars. They understand the business.
