Mrs. Mary A. Perritt Dead.
Mary A., wife of Fred Perritt, died at her home in this city Wednesday morning at the age of fifty-three years. Death was due to Bright's disease of the kidneys, which became fully developed about two months ago. For two weeks prior to death her condition was such that the final end was expected daily.

The deceased had resided in the county and city for many years, and though of a retiring disposition gained a large circle of friends and acquaintances who held her in high esteem by reason of her many good qualities. She is survived by a husband and one son.

The funeral was held from the family residence this afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Geo. A. Beecher and the Ladies of the Maccabees, the deceased being a member of that order. The K. O. T. M. also attended.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The North Platte association grows nicely. It has the largest membership today it has ever known. We have 271 railroad men and 183 others, a total of 454 and if the twenty-five members that have not renewed as yet this month will do so by Saturday we will have a membership to be proud of.

Astonished! The new firemen and brakemen are, when they see the rooms and know the privileges are theirs for three dollars a year.

The secretary approached a body of four firemen yesterday and told his little story about baths, books, music, gymnasium and reading room and in fifteen minutes each of the four had a membership ticket in his pocket good for a year.

John E. Nichol, the assistant secretary, is getting hold of the work nicely. He is making many friends among the young men and is greatly relieving the general secretary who has been tied down very close with the work during the past year.

It is a remarkable fact that during the whole summer the men's meetings on Sundays have been very well attended and we expect to see them grow as the cool weather comes. We invite all men to the meeting next Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Don't stay away because you are not fixed up, as many say, but come as you are. Overalls and dark shirts go all right at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. All we want is men. S.

Take up Irrigation.
Thirty or forty representative business men and citizens attended the meeting held at the Commercial Club rooms last evening for the purpose of considering the national irrigation law and taking steps toward securing reservoir sites for this and other counties in Western Nebraska. Congressman Neville, who is a member of the congressional committee on irrigation, was present and gave in detail the provisions of the bill, which were discussed at length.

As a result of the deliberations, a committee consisting of J. E. Evans, H. M. Grimes, E. F. Seeburger, C. P. Ross and Ira L. Bare were appointed to take such preliminary steps as was necessary, and later meet in conference with like committees from Cheyenne, Deuel, Keith and other counties. At this district meeting suitable petitions will be drawn up and when signed by the residents of the counties will be submitted to the interior department asking that the section represented by the petitions be passed upon by the officials as to its practicability for the construction of ditches and reservoirs by the government.

The meeting last evening was also enlightened in regard to the bill which Congressman Neville had introduced changing the homestead law so as to make it possible for an entryman to secure 1,280 acres of land instead of 160 acres in the semi-arid section of Nebraska, which practically means that portion of the state lying west of Cozad. This matter will be taken up by the Commercial Club and such assistance given as is possible. Those present last evening expressed themselves in favor of the measure.

The meeting also discussed the recent disorderly conduct of a certain element which for several years has been allowed to free a hand. This conduct was unanimously denounced and steps will probably be taken to better preserve the peace in the future.

You are invited to worship at the Christian church next Lord's day morning, in the Bible school at 10:30, and at preaching service at 11:30. Evening service will be adjourned from our own building, and will be conducted in unison with the Presbyterians at their church. C. F. SWANDER, Minister.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Strike Condition.

Today's Omaha Bee sizes up the strike condition as follows: Union Pacific strike affairs have again relapsed into a quiet, dry routine in which there is no indication of concession from either side. The importation of non-union men for the shops is still kept up by the company and this is taken as evidence that the officials are not contemplating an early settlement. The strikers are proceeding with their plans for a whole winter's campaign if necessary. While both factions apparently are displaying a determined front, serenely confident in the hope of victory, it is generally believed that amicable terms of settlement would be heartily welcomed. Certain things have transpired during the last few days which tend to support this theory. Yet neither the railroad company nor the strikers manifest a disposition to take the first step in the direction of bringing this strife to an end.

Chas. P. Cox returned yesterday from a few days' visit in Denver.

Another lot of imported men will reach North Platte tonight or tomorrow morning.

The Union Pacific officials who had been in town for a few days returned to Omaha Tuesday night.

H. Zentmeyer began work Wednesday night as third truck dispatcher between North Platte and Cheyenne.

Three of the seventy-one engines ordered by the Union Pacific company, left Philadelphia Wednesday and will reach Omaha the early part of next week.

The non-union man sent to an Omaha hospital Monday night is reported by a local physician to have been suffering from a bad attack of typhoid fever.

Supt. Ware says 800 cars enroute east and west are passing daily through the railroad yards of this city. This is considered very heavy traffic for this season of the year.

The construction of the addition to the freight warehouse has been delayed by the non-arrival of heavy timber for the sills. This lumber reached Sidney yesterday and will probably be down today.

The committee of railway telegraphers, who had been waiting in Omaha two weeks for an audience with General Manager Dickinson, left Wednesday without having secured the wanted conference.

Certainly the railroad officials cannot complain of the attitude of the strikers during the past few days. No Partisan village of the east has been more quiet and orderly and the local papers have not been compelled to "conceal the true facts," as has been complained by the company officials.

A dozen or more non-union men arrived Tuesday night and were put to work in the local shops. Although thirty-five or forty men have been sent here during the past three weeks, the number of men quitting work has been nearly as large as the number imported during that time, so the number at work is practically the same as a month ago.

Last Tuesday ten warrants were sworn out for the arrest of President Burt of the Union Pacific, charging him with false imprisonment, the complaining witnesses being strike breakers who were brought from Indiana. These men charge that they were offered from thirty-two to thirty-nine cents an hour, but that they received but seventeen cents. When they reached Council Bluffs enroute to Omaha the doors were locked and they were held prisoners. President Burt gave bond of one thousand dollars for his appearance Wednesday. President Burt was arraigned before Judge Burka Wednesday morning, entered a plea of not guilty, was admitted to bonds in the sum of three thousand dollars and trial set for next Wednesday.
