A. F. Beeler was at the county seat on business before the county commissioners on Wednesday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Beeler.
 G. L. Mudd on the Paxton ranch left a few days ago Missouri to accompanying his wife home who has been there on a visit for some time.
 J. W. Prickett attended the annual meeting of the G. A. R. at Hastings this week.
 W. C. Cole will ship several car loads of hogs west from Birdwood station the first of the coming week. It will not be long before he will have another large number ready for shipment.

Chas. McDonald, who has been assisting J. G. Fecken in operating his threshing outfit this season, did not go with it to Gothenburg. He has been haying for the Gamble Land company.
 Jim McMichael, a contractor and builder of the county seat, will erect Frank Cook's new farm residence.

Mrs. W. H. Hill, of Hershey, entertained the ladies' aid society on Wednesday. The usual routine of work was indulged in and seasonable refreshments were served. All those present report a social meeting.
 James Wilson is having an addition 30x40x18 feet erected to his already commodious barn. James McMichael of North Platte is doing the work.

Rev. Chamberlain of this circuit will deliver his last sermon at Hershey Sunday previous to conference.
 We are told that the Payne Investment company of Omaha is negotiating for the purchase of the Fecken land in Nichols precinct.

 The hay is about all cut for this season, but not near all baled as the last cutting was stacked and will be baled and shipped from the stack. Seeberger & Co., being unable to get presses with which to press this season, have purchased one of their own and put a crew at work.

D. S. McConnell, on the Ottenstein farm, contracted one thousand bushels of corn to W. S. Cole who owns the largest hog ranch in western Nebraska, at forty cents per bushel the other day. This price is a very good one off.
