Michael McNamara Dead.

A telegram received by John Kellher yesterday afternoon announced the death of Michael McNamara at Peoria, Ill., at 10:30 a. m. that day. Death was due to bladder and kidney trouble, with which Mr. McNamara had been afflicted for some time past and from which friends held little hope of his recovery.

For over a quarter of a century the deceased was a highly respected and esteemed resident of North Platte and the announcement of his death was received with much regret by his many friends in town.

Rev. Crane's Condition.

Last evening's Kearney Hub says: Mr. Crane continues to improve, notwithstanding the severe relapse he experienced Sunday, when the physicians gave up all hopes of saving him, his case took a sudden change for the better and this evening finds him stronger and quieter than for several days. Miss Woods, head nurse in the Omaha M. E. hospital, is now in attendance on the patient. Numerous visitors have been in the city to call on the family, a greater portion having been from Lexington. This evening the doctors say that with reasonable care Mr. Crane's recovery is assured.

Repertoire Company Coming.

The Myrtle Vinton Repertoire Company will appear at Lloyd's opera house Nov. 3d, 4th and 5th. The Madison Star has the following to say in regard to a second engagement there: "The opera house was crowded to the doors last night to witness the sensational play, 'A Midnight Call' and no audience ever left the theatre better pleased with a play. The crowd was virtually in an uproar during the entire performance, storms of applause being showered upon the clever actors. It is the universal opinion of theatre goers that Myrtle Vinton and her excellent company has given the best entertainment of anything on the boards this season."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Without a doubt the most popular piano in North Platte is located in the rooms, judging from the number of times it is used, from morning until night and then some. Without a doubt the Y. M. C. A. is one of the most popular places in this city. Proven by the large membership that it has; 289 railroad men, 218 others, total 507 and more in sight.

"Cut it Loose" was the topic used by State Secretary J. P. Bailey last Sunday at the men's meeting. A fine audience of men heard of some of the things that men are tied to that drag down manhood. He showed the fellows how to cut loose from them and the result upon their lives of such cutting loose. Who can tell the result of that hour?

H. S. Boal Found Dead.

A telegram received at 3:15 last evening by Mrs. W. F. Cody stated that her son-in-law H. S. Boal had been found dead in his room at a hotel in Sheridan, Wyo. The first telegram gave no particulars of the cause of death, but a message received last night stated that Mr. Boal had been suffering intensely from neuralgia, that to find relief he had taken chloroform and that he had administered an overdose. Mrs. Cody left this morning for Omaha where she will meet Mrs. Boal, the two children and Miss Irma Cody, who have been in Kansas City, and from there they will go to Sheridan. The remains will probably be taken to Chicago, the former home of the deceased, for interment.

The news of Mr. Boal's death was a shock to his many old friends in North Platte and to the friends of Mrs. Boal, and to the latter the sympathy of our people is extended.

IT WAS SUICIDE.

Since the above was put in type, the following is taken from a Sheridan dispatch to the World-Herald: Mr. Boal had just returned from the Chicago market, where he had accompanied a train load of cattle last week. In the early forenoon today he mingled with the guests at the hotel, and his subsequent absence was passed unnoticed.

About 3 o'clock this afternoon Manager Morgan had occasion to enter the room occupied by Mr. Boal, and found the latter lying on the bed with a sponge and cloth, saturated with chloroform, covering his nose and mouth. Mr. Morgan telephoned for Dr. Newell, who arrived a few minutes later, but found that life was extinct.

Before ending his earthly career he wrote three letters, one to his wife, one to Hon. H. C. Alger and one to Howard French, proprietor of the Sheridan Inn, and his very warm personal friend. Those to Mrs. Boal and Mr. Alger have not as yet been opened. The one addressed to Mr. French reads as follows:

"Friend Howard: Excuse this trouble I am about to make in your house, but I will make use of your hospitality in this way for the last time. I would rather be close to friends in a thing of this sort than among strangers. H. S. BOAL."

The deceased came to North Platte in 1885 and for a year or two was engaged in the real estate and loan business with Geo. T. Field. In November, 1888, he was married to Miss Arta L. Cody, and later Mr. Boal assumed the management of the Scout's Rest Ranch. In 1894 Mr. Boal engaged in the cattle business in northern Wyoming and was regarded as one of the leading cattlemen of that section.

That he should take his own life is a great surprise to his North Platte friends, as it is known that his family relations have ever been pleasant, and the members have been very devoted to each other. It is also believed that his finances were not in such condition as to lead him to commit the act.

Officials Say No Settlement in Sight.

The report that Harriman had called for an arbitration committee to settle the strike on the Union Pacific is believed to have some foundation in fact, as it is thought the Harriman interests fear a more serious complication of difficulties by the threatened strike of their trainmen on the Southern Pacific. The general attitude of the Union Pacific officials would seem incompatible with the theory that Harriman was seeking a settlement of the strike. President Burt, General Manager Dickinson and Superintendent of Motive Power McKee all assert that "so far as the company is concerned the strike is over." They insist that the affairs of the company are not hampered enough by present difficulties to suggest the need of negotiations for peace with the former workmen. Only Sunday Mr. Dickinson made this statement:

"There are no plans for a settlement that I have any knowledge of. We have managed our affairs so that by the first of the year they will be in normal condition and the road will then be absolutely free from any effects of the strike. Our power is effected to a slight extent, that is true, but not seriously, and we will be able to overcome every obstacle without calling upon the strikers. Our shops are turning out more work today than they were one year ago."

To these versions the strikers enter one emphatic and unconditional rebuttal. They say that if the company is turning out more work from its shops than formerly it is because the shops are being run night and day. The strikers are serenely confident of the victory and insist that the company's attitude is a disguise.—Omaha Bee.

Precautions Against Kidnaping.

A New York paper tells how the little daughter of a multimillionaire—name not given—is taken for a walk every pleasant morning. The child is accompanied by two maids, one walking on either side, and behind these come two men servants, burly of build, of determined aspect and both armed with revolvers. All this because the parents fear their darling may be kidnaped.

Costliest City in the World.

Only one public official in the United States handles more money than the comptroller of New York city, and that official is the secretary of the treasury, says Leslie's Weekly. The government of Greater New York costs more every year than the combined expenses of the governments of half a dozen states. From the year's beginning to the end the comptroller of the metropolis receives and disburses about $600,000,000—more than half a billion dollars. Half of this is paid into the treasury through taxes and other sources of revenue, and half is paid out in the running expenses of the city, a large part of which is expended in salaries and wages of city officers and employees, for there are 40,000 persons on the city's pay roll—persons enough to make a very good-sized city in themselves.
