In a card to this office, Joe Schwaiger, who is visiting at LaGrande, Ore., says: "Have not seen anything I like better than Nebraska. Miss Ella Blake, of North Platte, has been elected a teacher in the city schools here and they gave her a big boost. This town has eighteen saloons, but will be "dry" after July 1st. The fellows here who favor saloons want a law passed that will fine the saloon keeper when a man gets drunk instead of fining the one who is drunk. I suppose that's the saloon keeper's last hope. It does seem too bad to break up business when the saloons are as fine as they are here."

The Junior Normal, in connection with the county teachers' institute, opened yesterday with an enrollment of 150, which by last evening had increased to 155, and this morning ten more pupils were enrolled. Not only is the attendance very gratifying to Principal Beattie and his assistants, but the interest displayed by the students, and the manner in which the work is taken up by the teachers is indicative of a very successful term. It is confidently expected that before the end of the week the enrollment will reach the two hundred mark.
