Dear Madam:

Spices since the early dawn of history have been considered drugs, but with the advanced (?) methods of competition this line gradually passed from the shelves of the pharmacist into other hands, unfortunately, in many instances, at the expense of quality. The new Pure Food Law again places competition on an even basis and we take this means of advising you that we are dealers in Spices of the highest quality, in fact, "As good as nature grows."

Respectfully,

Schiller & Co.,
Family Druggists.

It is said that the Harriman roads are in the market for 6,000 steel cars, which will cost between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. This is the largest order contemplated since the business depression and indicates the Harriman belief in returning prosperity. There is keen competition for the order, and it is likely that the Harriman people will secure a very low price.

The Oshkosh Excursion.

A hustling committee of eleven business men has been appointed by the president of the Commercial Club to make arrangements for and boost the excursion to Oshkosh September 23, to participate in the big barbecue to be pulled off in celebration of the completion of the railroad to that progressive town. It is safe to predict that this committee will make a showing proportionately equal to the great committee of thirty-seven in Omaha, who had charge of their recent trade excursion. The personnel of the committee is as follows: John J. Halligan, Arthur McNamara, W. H. McDonald, J. F. Clabaugh, J. Q. Wilcox, C. K. Martini, Arthur Rush, E. J. Vanderhoof, Joe Stone, F. R. Ginn and Chas. T. Whelan.

The Tribune calls upon our citizens to mark this date upon the calendar and get ready to join the boosters in representing North Platte on this important occasion.

Better Train Service to Oshkosh.

The commercial club has been endeavoring to secure better service on the north river branch. President Evans has been in correspondence with the management of the Union Pacific looking towards this end. While the better service that is promised may not be directly due to these efforts it is gratifying that an additional train will be run. The answer to Mr. Evans' last letter speaks for itself:

Omaha, August 14, 1908.

Mr. J. E. Evans,
Pres., Commercial Club,
North Platte, Neb.

Dear Sir:

Referring further to your letter of July 2nd. As we are at present extending the Oshkosh line the probability is that we will increase the service during the week to two trains so that we will provide better service than what you have proposed in the motor car proposition. Yours very truly,

A. L. MOHLER.

Mr. Stebbins on the "Constitution."

Mr. Editor will you please give me a little space again as several have asked me why I do not write again. The Constitution is the collective body of the fundamental law of a county or state, giving their legislatures the power to make laws for the betterment of those to be governed by them; is a law against horse stealing, a law against counterfeiting, a law against drunkenness, if a man does either he is considered a criminal and is tried before a court and fined. In view of the above facts, it would be unconstitutional for any body of legislators to try and grant a license to a business that they knew would make criminals. I am glad to know that our constitution is not so feeble minded as to recognize the legality of men when they claim the constitutional right to license a business that does make criminals of their constituency. It is not in our constitutional law giving men the right to license a business that does make criminals as the liquor business does. Consequently the liquor business is an out-law because it never was nor can be recognized as an in-law, and to me it stands as an in-law today because of the rottenness of our politics. How is our politics to get better by those that will swear they will be no longer a slave to serve such rottenness? Can a better proposition be offered? Never send men to our legislatures that have or will affirm, they have a constitutional right to license a business that does make criminals, because such men are not loyal to it and they violate their oath of office. Men ought to be glad that some dare to try and get this rotten liquor criminal making business out of our politics and have our politics a partner with it and its crimes as it is to day.

Respectfully
CRYSUS STEBBINS.

A Peculiar Corn Field.

Moses Saad, a Syrian farmer living in Platte precinct, has a hundred-acre field of corn that has not an ear in it. The corn is tall, of good color, and looks well, but it is said the stalks are devoid of ears. A few weeks ago a hot wind or something of the kind is said to have blasted the tassels at a critical time, killing the pollen and thus preventing fertilization, and consequently the formation and growth of ears. The area covered by the heat embraces a tract of country about three miles square. Such conditions are rare, but can be prevented, it is said, by planting every tenth row of corn about ten days later than the balance of the field, thus insuring the necessary fertilization either from the first or last planting.—Lexington Pioneer.

Notice to the Public.
