The fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trout was operated upon yesterday for appendicitis, Drs. Quigley and Dent performing the operation.

A gallery has been constructed in the rear of the Ginn & White store-room which will be used as an office, thus giving more floor space for the display of goods.

The social given by the Catholic ladies at the home of Mrs. Wm. Maloney Wednesday evening was largely attended. A very nice lunch was served and duly enjoyed.

County Treasurer Langford will soon issue statements to the 4,000 taxpayers of the county notifying them of the amount of their 1908 personal tax, which becomes delinquent December 1st.

The Woman's Relief Corps, which had leased the opera house picture show Wednesday evening, were accorded a very generous patronage, practically all the seats being occupied throughout the evening.

S. D. Butcher, of Kearney, who is engaged in the photograph card business, spent yesterday in town taking additional views of the city. He has already on the market about thirty North Platte views.

Work on the new Presbyterian church is progressing nicely and some idea of the general appearance of the structure can be obtained. The contractor is certainly doing his work in a very substantial manner.

It may be that The Tribune is giving its readers an over-dose of political matters this issue, but on the theory that every man wants to be versed in political affairs so that he can vote intelligently, the several additional pages are sent out.

David Hunter, of Sutherland, was in town yesterday making arrangements to sell part of his apple crop to local merchants. His yield this year is only about 800 bushels, but he says they are unusually fine in quality. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will spend this winter in Southern California.

If you have an old stove you want to trade for a new one call on Workman & Derryberry.

The number of special sales now advertised by North Platte merchants ought to draw to the town those who are looking for bargains in merchandise.

The "White Ribbon Special", carrying 146 delegates to the annual W. C. T. U. convention at Denver, passed through this terminal Tuesday night about 10:30.

The rain Monday badly washed the hill roads north of town, making them almost impassible. Commissioner Kocken, who has charge of the roads, will see that they are at once repaired.

The official ballots for the November election, which are now being printed, are six feet long. The voter who is inclined to "split" his ticket will have quite a job picking out his preferred candidates.

The DeLacys, the song and dance artists who have been furnishing specialties at the opera house picture show this week, are among the best who have appeared here. A change of acts is announced for tonight and tomorrow night.

Conductor Herman LeDioyt took the "White Ribbon" special through to Denver Tuesday night. He says most of the delegates were ladies past middle age, and were inclined to be somewhat nervous over incidents connected with the trip.

"Doing more business with less help than ever before," was the statement made at the Union Pacific freight house the other day. Shipments of hay and cattle have been heavy this month, and the receipts of freight are in keeping with the general prosperity of the town and surrounding country.

In speaking of Bob Smith, who appears at Masonic hall next Monday evening under the auspices of the O. E. S., W. C. Howard, president of Columbia College, Oregon, says: Robert Ogden Smith gave a recital last night in our city under the auspices of Columbia College. It was thoroughly appreciated and pronounced excellent by the best critics. He did not fail to make his point at any time. I consider him one of the best impersonators I have yet heard. He is sure to please and will make the heart lighter and the impulses of his hearers better.

Members of the Coterie club were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Raynor Monday evening and very enjoyable did the function prove. The entertaining feature was high five, the first prizes being won by Mrs. Maggie Hall and Will Baskins and the consolation emblems by Mrs. Asa Snyder and Mrs. Kelsey. Refreshments were served at the close.

The Monday Evening Bridge Club was formed Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Hannah Keliher. The first session will be held Monday evening Nov. 3 at the home of Miss Geraldine Bare. Both afternoons proved exceptionally pleasant for all present.

Engineers Mike Hayes and Pat Norris, who lately returned from a stay at Excelsior Springs, Mo., believe they were considerably benefitted by the visit. Both were "run down" physically and troubled with nervousness, and the outward and inward use of the water, together with the rest from labor, proved beneficial. While there they met Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Letts, of Laramie, and it will probably be of interest to Mrs. Letts' North Platte friends to learn that during her stay there she became an expert equestrienne as well as a steady patron of the bowling alley.

We have the most complete line of heating stoves we have ever had, consisting of the Jewel base burner and small heaters. The Retort Oak in the hard and soft coal burners. Cole's Original Hot Blast in the different sizes. Besides these we have the Oak in a very small cheap stove. We can supply your wants in the stove line. Come in. WORKMAN & DERRYBERRY.

Johnson-Johnston Wedding.

Herman Johnson and Miss Minnie Johnston were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Johnston, in this city at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. F. Seibert performed the ceremony in the presence of a dozen relatives of the contracting parties. Following the ceremony the bride and groom and the guests drove to the latter's farm, north of the river, where a wedding supper was served.

The bride was born at her father's farm in Moran Canyon, east of the city, and lived there since. She is a very pleasant young lady and has many friends in that section. Mr. Johnson has lived on the farm north of the river for twenty years, is an industrious young man and commands the respect and good will of many acquaintances in North Platte.

"Her First False Step," which will be seen at The Keith tomorrow evening, is in five acts and relates a pretty story of sentiment. There is a great deal of emotional work, as well as many exciting scenes, among which shows the attempted bank robbery. The slums in the tenement district of the great East Side in New York, about which everyone has heard or read of, showing how our less favored brothers and sisters exist, while the comedy and specialties interspersed throughout the action of the play is of the side-splitting order.

Two laborers were killed about thirty miles west of Cheyenne on the Union Pacific at 6:30 Monday night when a caboose on the work train was blown from the track and down a thirty-foot embankment. The worktrain was returning to Buford, where it was to lay up for the night, and as it reached the big fill just east of Sherman the wind twisted the caboose from the rear of the train and hurled it down the thirty-foot embankment, killing two laborers and injuring nearly all the laborers more or less. Thirty men were in the caboose when it went over the embankment. Roadmaster Corliss was seriously injured.

The State Journal is trying awful hard to get people to give that daily a trial. Its offer now is to send the paper from date until January 1, 1909, for only 50 cents without Sunday, or 75 cents with Sunday. The publishers feel sure that anyone who tries the State Journal will stick. However, they have adopted an absolute rule of stopping every subscriber when his term is out. If there is anything that makes a man mad it is to subscribe for a city daily and then have to fight with the publishers to get it stopped or pay for something he doesn't want. The Journal's new plan will be popular.
