Whatever friction that may have existed between the transportation and motive power departments on the Union Pacific in the past, promises to be obliterated after January 1st when the two departments will to some degree be consolidated. After that date when an engine crosses the turn table to go out on the road it, as well as the engineer and fireman, will be in the exclusive charge of the transportation department, instead of the motive power department. Just how this new rule will work, remains to be tested, but officials believe that it will prove more satisfactory.

Have You Idle Money.

BUCHANAN COMPANY.

Where the Shoe Pinches.

Why do you insure your house, and furniture, and stable, against fire?

Because if you don't, and they burn up, the loss will fall on you.

Why do you neglect to insure your life?

Because if you die—and you will die some day—the loss will not fall on you but on somebody else—your wife or daughter, or aged mother, or invalid sister or some other defenceless dependent.

You haven't viewed the question in this way? Then think it over, and drop a card to the undersigned.
