TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Sam Richards, who is conducting a business at Lexington, arrived on No. 11 Wednesday.

H. M. Porter, the pop man, made a business trip to the towns west of here the latter part of the week.

Dan Atkinson, of Kearney, came up from Maxwell Tuesday and left Thursday morning for Sutherland.

The term of federal court, which convenes next Monday, will bring to North Platte at least one hundred jurors and witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hahler are spending a few days recuperating in a camp on the banks of the Neosho River, near Humbolt, Kansas.

James Britt and Stanley Ketchel, the two pugilists who have gained considerable notoriety of late, passed through to Denver on No. 1 Wednesday.

Joseph Herrod, district foreman at Columbus, came up on No. 11 Wednesday. Mrs. Herrod, who has been visiting in the city for several weeks will return with him.

About twenty couples attended the dancing party at Masonic hall Wednesday evening. The warm weather did not apparently detract from the enjoyment of the evening.

At the meeting of the Chautauqua concession committee, the concessions on the grounds were awarded to Dickey Bros. They will serve ice cream, soft drinks, confectionery and bakery goods.

M. B. Smith, owner of the artificial ice plant at Lexington, was in town Wednesday and established a local agency with Joe Spies as agent. The first carload will be sent up tomorrow. The ice will be delivered at fifty-five cents per hundred pounds.

Frank Turpie who has been attending the Colorado school of mines is visiting for a week with friends and relatives in town. He will spend the summer prospecting on his mother's timber land in Missouri and next year he will attend Columbia University in the city of New York.

Girl Wanted—For general housework, apply 510 West Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Friedman, who had been guests at the Pizer residence, left Tuesday for Duluth, where Mr. Friedman will engage in business. It was their intention to remain in town for a month, but the building to be occupied by Mr. Friedman was completed earlier than expected.

The North Platte ball team returned Tuesday night from their western trip, having played five games, winning at Kimball, winning one game at Cheyenne and losing one, losing at Sidney and winning at Ogalalla, or winning three and losing two games on the trip. The game at Ogalalla Tuesday was a good one, the score being one to nothing in favor of the North Platte team.

Success of One Man.

S. J. Koch, of Nowell precinct, came to Lincoln county twenty-three years ago with sixty cents in his pocket. He was then a young man of eighteen, and for five years worked on the Nowell ranch in that precinct. Like all other thrifty young men, Jake Koch was anxious to get a home or farm of his own, and his first investment was to purchase a timber-claim relinquishment, which he later entered as a homestead. As he earned money he made improvements on the land, then began getting together a bunch of cattle. By thrift and close application to business Mr. Koch prospered, and today owns 1240 acres of valley land worth $30.00 per acre, has a herd of 500 cattle, and several thousand dollars worth of horses, and on this property does not owe a cent. The home of Mr. Koch is a most comfortable one, surrounded by trees and a blue grass lawn, with substantial barns and out-buildings. Just a short time ago he marketed $4,400 worth of cattle in South Omaha.

This mention of Mr. Koch is not to give him undue publicity, but to show what brain and brawn can accomplish in Lincoln county.

Railroad News.

The Union Pacific now has a cream express car service. The car comes west as far as North Platte on train No. 13 and returns on No. 4.

About fifty cars of Sherman gravel per day is being shipped through to points on the first district where the double track had not been ballasted.

We have just received direct from Colgate & Co. their new package of Talcum powder—twice the size of the 25c package, for 35c. A big saving to talcum powder users. Violet and Cashmere Bouquet Odors. At Schiller & Co., Family Druggists.

The Union Pacific have recently issue a folder entitled "The North Platte Valley, Nebraska." It contains many typical pictures of western Nebraska and an elaborate description of its possibilities and opportunities. If the assertions and statements are true, we live in a richer and more fertile country, than that along the river Nile.

Special Agent Tim Keliher of the Union Pacific has just recovered some Japanese goods supposed to be stolen from cars in the Cheyenne yards. The goods, consisting of some Japanese fancy beaded curtains, were found in the homes of two switchman, Ott and Bostwick. The men claimed they had found the goods in the yards. They were discharged from the service on the company pending an investigation.

Beginning July 1st the stock inspection law—H. R. No. 137—affecting stock shipments in counties where shippers have petitioned for a stock inspector and are entitled to one, goes into effect. It requires the inspection of stock before shipment. Stock to points having inspection, however, such as Chicago, Kansas City, South St. Joseph, South Omaha and Sioux City is not affected. The law makes it incumbent upon railroad companies as well as the shippers to see to it that the measure is complied with.

The Burlington has asked for bids for the construction of forty-five miles of road from Kirby to Shoshoni. This link is part of the second line to be built by the Burlington from Nebraska to Wyoming, and is destined in time to be the low grade freight line from Nebraska to the north coast country, via Hastings, Kearney, North Platte, Bridgeport, Guernsey, Orin Junction, Shoshoni, Kirby, Frannie and Billings. This line was financed at the time of the panic, and plans were made to begin throwing dirt all along the line from Kearney to Wyoming and in Wyoming. In fact some grading was done along the line of the North Platte river west of North Platte when the first announcement was made.

A Former North Platte Boy.

The following concerning a former North Platte boy is taken from the Milwaukee Free Press:— Prof Edward C. Elliott of the department of education has been given the chair of "director of courses in education" by the board of regents of the university of Wisconsin.

Prof. Elliott is one of the best known educators in America. He is a Chicagoan by birth, but was educated at the university of Nebraska to which state his parents removed in 1885.

He received his degree of bachelor of science in 1895 and followed with a masters degree two years later. In 1905 he received his doctor's degree at teachers college of Columbia university.

From 1896 to 1899 Prof. Elliott was city superintendent of schools at Leadville, Col. Before that he had held the position of instructor in science.

Prof. Elliott came to the university of Wisconsin in 1905 from Columbia university where he had obtained his degree of doctor of philosophy.

During the past three years he has been in charge of the special investigations for the United States bureau of education and also of the consulting legislative service.

Prof. Elliott is the author of several works on education, notably "Some fiscal aspects of Public Education in American cities" which appeared in 1905 and "State School Systems," an exhaustive treatise in two volumes the second volume of which is just off the press.

Dr. Elliott will spend Saturday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott on his way home from Denver, where he delivered a series of lectures at the university of Denver.

Talented Company.

Mr. Sanford Dodge and his talented company gave a spirited performance of "The Three Musketeers" at the theatre last night to a very appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

Sanford Dodge makes a splendid D'Artagnan, giving that fascinating role with spirit, dash and good discretion. His comedy work is especially good and he was warmly applauded.

Miss Louise Marshall is very capable as the queen. She has a very pleasing personality and a sympathetic voice which fits the part to perfection, and she showed much dramatic power in the scenes with the cardinal, especially in the last act. Her work was very good throughout.—Helena (Mont.) Independent, September 16, 1908.

Guy C. Barton Dead.

Guy C. Barton died at Omaha Wednesday evening at the age of nearly seventy years. He had been in poor health for several years. The deceased was a resident of North Platte for about a dozen years, leaving here for Omaha in the spring of 1882. While a North Platte resident he was engaged in the cattle business with M. C. Keith. Mr. Barton erected and occupied the large brick house in the east part of town now owned by W. M. Cunningham.
