Morgan Davis Dead.
Mrs. James Shea received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Morgan W. Davis, of Paonia, Col. The deceased was a resident of North Platte many years ago, following the trade of a plasterer. Later he moved to a farm near Wellfleet, where he remained a number of years, and five or six years ago he removed to Paonia. The Lincoln county friends of Mr. Davis will regret to learn of his death. He was an excellent man and well liked by all acquaintances.

WALAMO---Something New for Inside Paint.

Many women who are having their houses done over this season are using Walamo Paint instead of paper, especially for plastered rooms. There is no doubt whatever that this method is more hygienic and cleanly.
The walls can be washed down and do not need to be renewed each season. It is much more economical than paper.

Many are Poisoned

As the result of attending a dance at the new barn of Fred Malone, north of the river, and eating chicken sandwiches forty people are seriously ill. Eighty-three persons were present and without exception, all who ate the sandwiches are sick.
The chicken had been run through a meat grinder on Friday and it is thought that during this process it was contaminated and from then until Saturday night, when it was eaten, putrefaction took place and the people were poisoned.
This morning the doctors report that with few exceptions, all of the patients are out of danger, although it will be several days before the results can be told. At least ten residents of North Platte are very sick, but all are out of danger now.
