The Water Works Question.

The following is the portion of the franchise given to the water company twenty years ago and now expired, over which the people and water company do not agree: "The City of North Platte shall have the option and privilege, at any time after the expiration of ten years from the passage of this ordinance, upon giving six months prior notice in writing to said water company, its associates, successors or assigns, to purchase said works and all property connected therewith and necessary for the effective operation of the same, at a fair of words for Uncle Sam and his people valuation to be ascertained as follows: In the event of said city and water works company, its associates, successors or assigns, failing to agree on the price, then three disinterested experts of good intelligence, non residents of Lincoln county, shall be chosen and sworn to determine the value. One to be appointed by the said city, one by said waterworks company, its associates, successors or assigns and the other by the two arbitrators so appointed. The three appraisers shall then proceed to determine the value of said works, and in the event there being no hydrant rental existing at the time of said appraisment, the last existing contract shall be included in the estimated value of those still in existence.
