RINCKER'S Book Store

The Milton sale Wednesday, according to all accounts, was about the biggest thing that has come down the pike lately. It amounted to about $10,000 and as showing how the farmers and stockmen of this section are fixed. Mr. Pielsticker, who clerked the sale says that not over $500 in notes were taken. One man who bought a big bunch of mules gave him a check for $4,800 and another buyer drew his check for $2,000. The weather was fine, there was a big crowd out and the stuff generally brought a good price—Wallace Winner.
