Each Win a Game.

The Kansas City Red Sox took the first game from North Platte Wednesday afternoon by a score of two to nothing after fifteen innings of extremely fast ball playing. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish, and the visitors scored in the last inning only through an accident to fielder Cullon, who stepped in a hole while running for a long fly and fell, thus missing the ball, and an error by fielder Priest. With Paul in the box for the locals, the visitors scored eight hits, while the visiting pitcher was hit for six safe ones, three of which were two baggers, and yet the conditions were such at the time that the two baggers were without results. The visiting pitcher struck out sixteen and Paul ten. Twice North Platte got a man on third, but could not score. The game was replete with fine work, both infield and outfield plays being sensational in a number of instances.

In the second game yesterday between the two teams the locals reversed the score of the preceding day, winning in a swift game by a score of two to nothing. The first six innings resembled Wednesday's game, but in the seventh luck favored the locals and a score was made, followed by another in the eighth. Lowell and Short formed the North Platte battery and their excellent work was supported by the team in an errorless game. Five hits were taken off Lowell and a similar number off the visiting pitcher.

Westbound passenger travel is very heavy over the Union Pacific. On No. 15 Wednesday night a North Platte man who got on at Kearney could not find a vacant seat.

Bridgeport commercial club has sent a committee of three business men to Omaha to confer with the officials of the Union Pacific railroad company with a view of securing a satisfactory depot site and transportation facilities at that place.

Major Chas. Hine, who is the "walking delegate" for Julius Krutchnan, in a recent interview at Omaha said: "Loyalty is a great thing among railroad men, and the Union Pacific is noted all over the country for the loyalty of its employes. The Tribune is certain that this statement is true as to North Platte, for the employes here are very loyal to the company."
