A dozen or more young people were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlow Tuesday evening and were entertained in a delightful manner.

Miss Emma Osborne, a Lincoln Co. teacher was married Sept 20th at Des Moines, Iowa, to George H. Bothe a wealthy farmer of Plum City, Wis.

The remains of Mrs. Farrell, who died at the Pulver hospital Monday afternoon, were buried in the local cemetery Wednesday afternoon, a short service being conducted by Rev. Chapman. No word could be obtained from the husband, who is supposed to be in Sioux City.

"In Dreamland", the dramatic fantasy by Emmet Devoy, the author, bristles with unique situations. The conventional has been successfully avoided throughout and the play is refreshingly novel in consequence. The illusions, pantomime and electrical deceptions are startling from the rise until the fall of the curtain.

During the past week marriage licenses were issued to two girls under age, one fifteen, the other sixteen and one-half years old. In both cases the parents accompanied them before Judge Elder and gave their consent. The marrying of mere children should be prohibited by the enactment of a law. Think of a girl of fifteen or sixteen assuming the responsibilities of married life when her conception of things in general amounts to nothing.

Miss Ethel McWilliams succeeds Miss Mabel Day as saleslady at Hoagland's. Mrs. M. Hayes and son left Wednesday for a fortnight's visit at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

J. E. Fillion has sold his garage on east Fifth street to Frank Corpenning of Cozad, who will take possession October 1st.

A light frost was visible yesterday morning, the first of the season. It was so light that little damage to vegetation resulted.

Maurice Fowler says he met about forty former North Platte people in Los Angeles, and they all seem to be doing well. Jake Wolf is now located there, as is also Louie Nauman and "Shorty" Davis.

Judge Elder united in marriage Wednesday evening at his office Michael Kyne, of Sheridan, Wyo., and Miss Edith Canning, of Ringold. The couple left on a night train for Sheridan, where they will reside.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday evening to John W. Schwerdt and Miss Esther Beightel, both of this city. The couple were married Wednesday night by Rev. Williams at the Presbyterian manse and will go to housekeeping in the Third ward.

Lincoln county ships out annually about fifteen thousand head of cattle, which are worth in the neighborhood of a half million dollars. The value of the hogs shipped is probably as large. The stock interests of Lincoln county are worth considering.

Wanted—One dozen good pullets, four or five months old. Advise price and breed. Address C. E. Hoffhine, 312 E. 25th St., Cheyenne, Wyo.

The eight Japs arrested Monday night on the charge of shooting craps were arraigned before Police Judge Elder Wednesday forenoon. Three of the eight plead guilty and were fined twenty-five dollars each and costs, the other five pleaded not guilty, and as there was some question as to their identification, they were discharged on the payment of the costs. The total amount collected from the eight was $115.

With lots in the Trustee's and Banks' addition still on the market, with the new Taylor addition in the south going on the market next year, those looking for cheap and good building lots should have no trouble in securing just what they want. This writer is confident that the future growth of North Platte justifies the laying out of all these additions—the town is destined to be a city of ten thousand within the next ten years.

The card party given by the Knights of Columbus at the Odd Fellows hall Wednesday proved a very enjoyable affair. The evening was spent in playing progressive high five, fourteen tables being used. The lady's prize was carried off by Miss Hannah Kellher while the gentleman's was awarded to John DeRoife. Punch, waffles and confections were served during the evening by Misses Loretto Murphy and Bessie Smith. The committee, who had charge of the affair, are deserving of credit for their efforts which made this event a decided success.

New Cigar Factory.

W. A. Cauffman and W. C. Hahn have associated themselves together for the purpose of manufacturing cigars and next week will open a factory in the room south of the Porter bottling works on Locust street. The concern will be known as the North Platte Cigar Co., and will aim to put a superior quality of goods on the market.

New Addition Next Year.

A non-resident who owns 20 acres of land adjoining the city limits, writes a friend that the Burlington will be throwing dirt in North Platte within the next year, and that in view of this he will lay out an addition to the city. He proposes to grade the streets, put in permanent side-walks and curbing, lay water and sewer mains and plant trees on the outside of the walks. fact the lots will be put in the best of shape, and he believes they will meet with a ready sale.

Brings Serious Charge.

A special to the State Journal from York dated September 21st, says: C. A. Keefe has filed complaint in the county court against George M. Stryker and Samuel C. Nelson charging them with securing money by fraud while acting as agents for the York Alfalfa Milling company. Keefe charges that the defendants have appropriated $5,000 worth of the company's property to their own use. The case will come up for trial September 29. The defendants gave bond for $5,000. The York Alfalfa Milling company is the name used by the promoters who have been attempting to establish an alfalfa mill at this place.

Missionary Scott Retired.

W. W. Scott, who for fifteen or more years has been a Presbyterian Sunday school missionary in Western Nebraska with headquarters at North Platte, has been retired, probably because he has outlived his usefulness, at least a younger man has been appointed to succeed him. We have been intimately acquainted with Missionary Scott for a long term of years, and have found him a man willing to deny himself in order to help others, a most conscientious man and a willing worker. To be retired at his age after so long service and not provide him with some other work is certainly an uncharitable act on the part of the Sunday school missionary board.

Foot Ball Schedule.

The high school foot ball team has dates for seven games, the full number for the season. The teams against which they will play are the Lexington, Kearney, Grand Island and Sterling high schools and the Kearney Military Academy. Two games will be played with Lexington and Kearney and one with each of the other three teams, and of the seven games, five will be played on the local field. The first game will be with Lexington on October 8th on the North Platte field and the Thanksgiving game will be played with the same team at Lexington.

The team is taking daily practice under the coaching of M. K. Neville and Mr. Stone, both of whom are well up in foot ball.

The Selfish Husband.

The selfish husband is effectually cured of a tendency to flirt by the appearance of daughter of Venus with a magic wand "In Dreamland". The wand brings out so many startling changes as to mystify the audience and drive the erring husband to the verge of distraction. The power of Venus, to the theatregoer, appears to be omnipotent. She launches thunderbolts, destroys and builds up as the whim seizes her. This delightful fantasy with Emmet Devoy, the author, in the role of the husband, and the beautiful Hermine Stone as a daughter of Venus supported by a cast of unusual excellence will be the attraction at the Keith theatre Saturday evening, September 25th.

Ten Thousand Bushels of Apples.

David Hunter, of the Glenburnie fruit farm north of Sutherland, was in town Wednesday and presented the Tribune and others with baskets of peaches grown in his orchard. The peach crop this year is light, the old trees having passed their usefulness, while the others are yet too young for heavy bearing, and his crop will be limited to seventy-five bushels. Those presented to this office were as fine, both in size and flavor, as any we have seen shipped in this season.

It is in apples that the Glenburnie orchard takes a stellar position this season. Mr. Hunter feeling confident that the crop will total ten thousand bushels. Already over 1,000 bushels of fall varieties have been marketed, and they form but a small part of the crop. Mr. Hunter anticipates no trouble in finding a good market, as the apple crop is way short.

Leave or phone you order now, today, to Newton's Book store.

Taylor Addition to be Sold at Auction.

This valuable property has been ripe for improvement for a number of years but the owner being a non-resident has done nothing with it till the present.

Now it has been decided to let the people of North Platte and vicinity have an opportunity to purchase lots in this valuable addition at a fraction of what they are really worth, and upon a plan available to everybody. The date of this sale will be announced later by this paper.

The lots in this addition are almost all first-class residence lots, being with very few exceptions high and level. The property is located on the main thoroughfare of the city, only six blocks from the court house and city high school and will be but four blocks from the proposed site of the new Burlington passenger depot.

There is now permanent cement walks to within 150 feet of this addition. The main street is also graded the entire distance past this property. The soil is the best in town, being simply perfect for growing rich gardens and making splendid lawns being free from alkali. The perpetual water right from the Suburban Irrigation Ditch, goes with all this property. This will add very much to the ease and rapidity at which shade and fruit trees and ornamental shrubs can be matured.

The state, county, and city are now planning to beautify a boulevard past this entire addition to the Experimental Farm.

It can be easily seen that this is the most favored part of the entire city and the place where the greatest advance in price will occur.

These are only a few of the many attractions which are available to purchasers of lots in the Taylor Addition.

Receiver Woodhurst, of the U. S. land office, has taken a vacation and went to Oshkosh Wednesday to attend the horse races.

Julius Kruttschnitt, of the operating department of the Harriman lines, passed through to the Pacific coast Tuesday night.

Julius Pizer went to Omaha Wednesday night to transact business for a couple of days and to attend Jewish Atoneament Day services tomorrow.

Dennis McKillip, living northwest of town, made final proof on his homestead yesterday. Mr. McKillip says his corn will make thirty or forty bushels per acre.

Joe Tridle, democratic candidate for sheriff, was in town yesterday enroute home from a campaign trip to the east part of the county. Joe says things look rosy for him, but of course he may be whistling to keep up his courage.

Practically all corn in Lincoln county is now out of the way of frost. The crop throughout the county is practically up to the average. In some sections corn is unusually good, while in other sections it is not up to the average, and putting the good with the bad the result is about the average for several years past.

Services as usual at the Presbyterian church on Sunday. The pastor Rev. Williams will be in his pulpit both morning and evening. There will be good music at each service. The public is cordially invited. The church is on the corner of Fourth and Willow. It is expected that the new church will be ready for use before the cold weather.

A Sutherland special to the Bee says: At a meeting of the water users under the Keith and Lincoln counties irrigation district ditch an attempt was made to arrive at some decision regarding the improvement and betterment of the ditch and water service. The problem of tunneling the hill west of Sutherland for the purpose of better getting water onto the land in that section was discussed at some length. It was voted to employ a competent engineer to go over the long canal and size up the opportunity of straightening it and getting a better fall wherever practicable.

To the Public.

As tomorrow (Saturday) is the Jewish Atoneament Day, The Leader will be closed until 5:30 p. m.

A Wyoming disoatch states that the Burlington will have its Worland line completed by January 1st, which is much earlier than anticipated. That fills up one of the gaps on the Missouri River-Billings short line; the next gap to be filled will probably be the line from Kearney to Bridgeport. The early construction of the Platte valley line seems to grow brighter.
