Mrs. Julius Pizer was hostess at two functions this week, both of which were given in favor of Mrs. Ralph Bixler. The first, Monday afternoon, was a Kensington and it proved a very delightful affair to the two scores ladies present. The rooms of this spacious and handsomely furnished home were made resplendent by the profuse floral decorations. An elaborate luncheon was served. Wednesday afternoon the entertaining feature was high five, thirty-two ladies being present. The first prize, a half dozen handkerchiefs, was won by Mrs. D. T. Quigley, and the consolation prize, a handsome scarf, by Mrs. Thos. Healey. The afternoon was greatly enjoyed by the guests, as were also the refreshments. The hostess on both occasions was complimented upon the success of her functions.

A Miraculous Escape.

A ten year old boy had a most miraculous escape from death late Monday afternoon at Gothenburg. As train No. 9 was passing that point making about thirty miles an hour the boy attempted to cross the track two blocks west of the depot with a pony and small spring wagon. The pony got clear of the engine but the wagon was smashed to pieces and it appears was knocked from under the boy with such force as to throw him headlong to the front of the engine. In some unaccountable way he slid under the front of the engine and passed through the hole surrounding the cinder hopper and when the train was stopped three blocks west he was found under the cow-catcher with his shoulder on the front engine truck journal with one leg caught on the pilot brace and his arms around the journal holding on for dear life but not severely hurt as was thought at the time; only a slight cut on his head. Engineer White got under the cow-catcher and rescued him so that the fireman could pull him back the same way he went down. While he was scared speechless he did not lose consciousness.

"The Man of the Hour."

Sun, moon and stars will all shine bright on "The Man of the Hour," when it comes to the Keith Theatre on Saturday, Oct. 16th, for the first time here. "The Man of the Hour" is absolutely new and original, bright, witty and above all, clean. The play is sustained by its own real merit, not depending upon any clap-trap or scenery to please the audience. The dialogue is brilliant and at times exasperatingly funny. It is a play of real life, and it is impossible to witness it without fish-out prototypes in real life of the characters that are depicted on the stage. It has been termed "America's greatest play" and bears out the letter this description. It is safe to say that no other play in the English language presents so powerful, so clear and so effective an object lesson in every day life. It fairly bristles with bright, sparkling comedy, strong heart interest, tender sentiment, and is full of lively situations. Managers William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer's special cast will appear here.

Cost of Primary Election.

The Omaha Bee has collected figures showing the cost of the late primary in Nebraska, the total amounting to nearly $57,000 in seventy-three counties reporting. The cost in Lincoln county was $1,355.00 and the number of votes cast was 1,300, so that the cost for each vote was slightly in excess of one dollar.

The primary method of nominating officers is probably all right, but in a sparsely settled and large county like Lincoln it is a question whether the interest taken justifies the expense. Add to the $1,355 primary expense the expense of the election and you have a total of $2700 each year.

U. P. Surveyors at Work.

The Cheyenne Tribune of Tuesday contained the following: A party of surveyors who admit they represent the Union Pacific, have been working in the vicinity of Grant for several weeks, presumably attempting to locate a grade for an extension of the North Platte valley line from North Platte through that section. This survey is in conformity with the repeated reports of the Union Pacific's intention to extend its North Platte valley line to a junction with the main line near Medicine Bow.

H. L. Walsh Dead.

H. L. Walsh, a former resident of North Platte, died at his home in Pittsburg, Kan. Monday of Bright's disease. Mr. Walsh came to North Platte in 1884 and purchased The Nebraskan newspaper, which he published for several years. Later he accepted a position with the Union Pacific as fireman. From here he went to Pittsburg and prior to his death was engineer on a switch engine. He was a member in good standing of the local lodge of the A. O. U. W. His old-time North Platte friends will regret to learn of his death.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The meeting Sunday afternoon promises to be one of exceptional interest. Rev. W. S. Porter will bring a vital virile message to men. The solo, by Arthur Boyd will be a rare treat to all lovers of music. We venture to assert that the fellow who comes to the song service, and puts his souls into the songs will have a more elastic step, will think a little more of his fellow, will get under the other fellows load a little more, and will stoop a little lower to raise the fellow that's down.

The following is a list of men who have recently become members of the Y. M. C. A.: W. C. Patterson, H. R. Reese, Arthur Donagan, Ellis R. Hart, Steve Cole, Glenn Moore, H. W. Bird, Herman Stitth, F. M. Stewart, S. F. Chorpensing and C. A. Bowman. We welcome you to your association rooms. Get busy fellows, get a member and help us boost. If you want a new building boost for it, breathe and talk it.

There passed through town the early part of the week an individual known as "A No. 1 the Rambler," who for twenty-six years has been tramping over the country and during that time has traveled 462,146 miles, and expended but $7.61 for railroad and boat fare. On the streets he appears well dressed, but on the road dons overalls and jumper.
