Last Night's Banquet

About sixty men responded to the invitations sent out to the Y. M. C. A. banquet at the Masonic hall last evening, and as a booster for the local association the affair surpassed anything yet suggested and held.

At 8:30 a very nice menu was served by the Presbyterian ladies, and when the inner man had been satisfied, Wilson Tout, as toastmaster, called for responses from a number present, among whom were Rev. Chapman, Victor Von Goetz, W. M. Cunningham, Chas. McDonald, Rev. Williams and M. E. Crosby. Several of these had been notified that they would be expected to speak, and the result was the talks were interesting, each treating of a certain phase of association work, association needs and the benefits derived from a live association. The toasts closed with a splendid address by State Secretary Bailey, who gave a resume of the association work in North America, presenting figures of membership, conversions, money invested in buildings, etc.

In closing his remarks, Secretary Bailey complimented the work of Secretary McAbee, of the local association, and his assistant, stating that a noticeable change for the better had occurred since Mr. McAbee assumed charge. Mr. Bailey also stated that the association needed $1,200; that the board of directors had agreed to take care of $150 of this amount, and that $200 would be forthcoming from the Sidney Dillon fund, leaving $850 for the citizens to subscribe. Mr. Bailey divided the sixty men present into two companies, and placed L. W. Walker as captain of one and W. M. Cunningham captain of the other. These two companies will at once begin a two weeks' campaign and on November 29th another banquet will be held and the result of the campaign announced. The company securing the least money will pay the expense of the banquet.

It is expected that there will be considerably rivalry between the two companies, and that through this rivalry the sum needed will be secured.

The banquet last night gave evidence that there are many men who are enthusiastic for the success of the Y. M. C. A., but through lack of organized effort the results have not been as great as they should be. It would now seem that a new interest has been created, there will be united action, and the association will not only become better and greater, but that within a few years the association will have a $30,000 home.

Notice.

The partnership now existing between Workman & Derryberry, in the mercantile business, will mutually dissolved Dec 1st. All notes and accounts unpaid at that time will be paid to the new firm of Derryberry & Forbes.

Plenty Moisture.

The snowfall last Friday amounted to eight tenths of an inch of water, or about eight inches of snow had it laid as it fell without melting. This was a pretty good soaker for mother earth, but it was just a starter. Yesterday morning snow again began falling heavily and continued throughout the day, and when the storm was over a foot of the beautiful covered the ground. Yesterday's snow was general over the state, the storm reaching from Omaha to the western line of the state. But little wind accompanied the snow, hence there was no drifting. Railroad traffic was, however, somewhat delayed.

Wallingford Bound Over.

Chas. Wallingford, charged with stealing and receiving stolen cattle, had a preliminary examination before Judge Elder Friday and Saturday. In the complaint filed by J. H. Quinn the Judge struck out the count charging Wallingford with stealing cattle and examined him on the charge of receiving stolen cattle. These cattle, consisting of ten steers, ten cows and two calves were the property of Mrs. Jessie Bacon and J. H. Quinn. The Judge found the evidence such as to bind the defendant over to the district court in the sum of $500.

On the above counts Lee Johnson waived preliminary examination.

Amended informations, three in number, were filed yesterday morning against the two defendants and the hearing progressed during the day.

In court yesterday afternoon Lee Johnson pleaded guilty to two counts in each of three charges; on one charge for stealing and receiving twelve steers and ten heifers the property of E. M. Bird; on another charge of stealing and receiving eleven steers the property of Thos. McDermott; on the third charge of stealing and receiving four steers and two heifers the property of W. C. Nichols. Johnson will be bound over for appearance at the next term of district court.

The other counts on which Wallingford was examined have been taken under advisement by the Judge.

Going to Colorado.

On next Saturday, November 20, a party of people from this section will leave for Rout county, Colo., to inspect the land now open for entry under the Cary act.

The state of Colorado, in conjunction with the Rout County Development company, is reclaiming a large tract of rich agricultural land in the Little Snake river valley, Rout county, Colorado. This land is being sold by the state for 90 cents per acre. The water right in the Little Snake river canal system costs $35.00, distributed over ten years, $3.50 per acre being paid at the time of filing, and the payments thereafter consisting of $3.50 per acre and interest per year.

R. H. Wyckoff, who is now in North Platte, says that the showing on the farms under the completed portion of the canal demonstrate conclusively that this is one of the most fertile valleys in the United States or Canada. Mr. Wyckoff is now located at the office of O. H. Thoelecke, North Platte, and will be glad to see anyone interested.

"Commencement Days"

It is pleasant to record the success and hail the advent of "Commencement Days," the comedy of college girls life which John Cort will present at the Keith on Friday evening, Nov. 19th.

This new piece, the joint work of Virginia Frame and Margaret Mayo, comes stamped with a hearty and healthy approval. Fifty people comprise the company headed by Frederick V. Bowers.

The story of "Commencement Days" is simple, yet dramatic and compelling. A shadow has fallen across the youthful spirit and buoyancy of life at Colton College, where the scenes are laid. Various sums of money have been stolen from the students, and the truth is too sadly apparent that "one of the girls" is the culprit. Suspicion logically but unjustly falls on "Kate Wells," the class president, who, thinking to save her fiancé and her "best friend," his sister, refuses to divulge the real facts, of which she has become cognizant. As a matter of fact the money has been taken to save from disgrace another brother of the guilty girl and with the full intention of replacing it. The story is worked out to a happy culmination and mutual understandings, which prove that good sometimes results from evil.

"Commencement Days" is a play of types, the wholesome, rollicking life that abounds in American college life, the romping lovable girls that combine innocent merriment and aptitude for higher education. The girls who become the wonderful American women to whom the whole world doffs its hat.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the kind neighbors and friends who so willingly helped us take care of our dear wife and mother through her sickness and death. Mr. Nelson Trembly and children, and her sister Mrs. Katie Toftie.

The Electric Home Laundry

This laundry equipment represents the modern way, the only sanitary way of laundering in the home. It is a very moderate priced equipment, designed for practical laundry work, and consists of a Thor Electric Washer and Wringer and Thor Ironing Machine. With this plant in the home, laundry work becomes play—the servant girl question is solved—and good laundry work no longer depends on the laundress.

The Thor Electric Washer and Wringer

Reduces cost of washing to 2 cents—time to 1 hour—and does away with all the usual health-destroying work of wash day. It washes delicate laces—heavy blankets beautifully. It is equipped with a 3-roll self-working wringer and a patent gas water heater. Anyone who can insert an electric bulb into its socket can operate the Thor Electric. There is no installing to do—put the clothes into the machine—snap on the current and the Thor does all the work.

The Thor Ironer is operated by the washer motor. It is a great convenience—ironing all flat work—sheets—pillow cases—tablecloths—napkins—handkerchiefs and towels, as well as suits of underwear and women's skirts and other articles of apparel.

This machine does everything but hang out the clothes. Call at the store and see it run. Sold on reasonable terms.
