DISASTER IN A MINE

FOUR HUNDRED MEN ARE BURIED DEEP UNDER EARTH.

SIGNALS COME FROM BELOW

However, There is Great Fear That All Who Are Entombed Will Be Lost.

Cherry, Ill.—Nearly 400 human beings, men and boys, it is now believed, are dead or perishing in the St. Paul mine here, where an explosion occurred on Saturday, though experts, who succeeded in penetrating the smoke-filled air shaft to a depth of 300 feet late Sunday, returned with a ray of hope for the grief-stricken relatives of the entombed men.

That the fire has been extinguished was the conclusion of mining experts and inspectors sent here by Governor Deneen to investigate the calamity and the cause.

For more than thirty hours the prisoners have been cut off from fresh air, and undoubtedly have been subjected to smoke-filled veins. That life could exist under such conditions is doubted by many, but because no trace of high temperature was found in the depths of the mine Sunday night, friends of the miners and even those of the company here, hope that the victims may have found safety in remote recesses of the mine.

A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, who has not slept since arriving on the scene of the catastrophe, received an encouraging report after heroic efforts had been made Sunday to open the mine for the release of the entombed men, or the discovery of the much feared mass of dead.

At a late hour Sunday night the air shaft in the mine had been sealed tightly where it was opened during the day. Opening of the main shaft is expected to begin at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

It is expected the nine inspectors will call for more volunteers from the miners who are acquainted with the plan of the mine. Oxygen apparatus for a sufficient crew to make a successful exploration in the main shaft has been ordered and is expected to reach here early in the day. Five men will be ready to go into the shaft as soon as the seals have been broken, provided conditions are safe.

The explorers will be sent into the mine in the regular cage. This plan was adopted because the bucket scheme was found impracticable, insofar as the movements of the men below were concerned. They could not get out of the bucket.

From the son of one of the missing miners, a young man named John Reid, the railroad president heard that a concussion of the earth had been felt by farmers half a mile south of the main shaft. The report was sent to Henry Burke, an official of the mining company. Burke rushed to President Earling in the office of the company.

"I've heard signals from the men," he said excitedly.

"What do you mean?" asked the railroad president. "What signal?"

"John Reid's boy said that he and farmers whose land is over the southern end of the mine felt several concussions of the earth this afternoon. There were several shocks, and the men who felt them are convinced they were shots fired by the imprisoned miners and that they were meant for an assurance that at least some of them live.

OPPOSED BY BARTON

STATE AUDITOR AGAINST SELLING OF INSURANCE STOCK.

WILL ASK FOR LEGISLATION

Adjutant General Issues Orders in Reference to State Guard.—Capital Matters in General.

State Auditor Barton is opposed to insurance companies selling stock through agents whose pay is taken out of the money paid for the stock.

Along the same line he will ask for legislation making it illegal for any insurance company to transact business in Nebraska whose capital stock has not been fully paid up and to prohibit any insurance company hereafter formed to do business in the state if the cost of its organization and stock sales has exceeded 5 per cent of the total sum contributed by the stockholders.

The state auditor believes the practice of insurance companies putting stock salesmen out on the road selling stock and paying these salesmen out of the money they secure from the stockholders is not only bad practice, but argues well for someone to lose money. For that reason he intends to fight the practice if such is the practice in Nebraska, and he warns the people against buying stock in such companies.

This question was taken up at the meeting of the insurance commissioners from many states and a resolution was adopted asking all the states to enact legislation along the lines above set out.

It was brought out at that meeting that from 20 to 30 per cent of the stock on the market and that per cent, therefore, of the capital stock never reached the treasury of the company.

FOR A NEW CAPITOL.

Gov. Shallenberger Declares for the Same.

Governor Shallenberger believes the next legislature should take steps to secure a new capitol for Nebraska.

"The next legislature should make an appropriation to start the new building," said the governor. "We could secure a magnificent building for $3,000,000 and there is no reason why a portion of this amount should not be appropriated by the next legislature, say enough to construct one wing of the building."

"I am opposed to spending any $650,000 for a building to house the State Historical society when the state so badly needs a capitol. That is why I vetoed the appropriation for the historical society building. To my mind that historical society building is what Joe Cannon would call an ulcer on the body politic. The society wants $25,000 this time, $50,000 the next time and so on. As a matter of fact, with the construction of a new capitol there could be made a place for all the records that the society will ever collect which will be of real value to the state."

"The time has certainly arrived for a new state house. This building has outlived its usefulness, it is too small, in bad condition, unsanitary and not worthy of the state."
