Memorial Day.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed in North Platte yesterday by almost a complete cessation of business and by services appropriate to the day. In the morning detachments of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. visited both cemeteries and strewed flowers on the graves of the soldier dead, and at the city cemetery performed the ritualistic service over the grave of the last comrade buried.

In the afternoon a large audience gathered at the Keith theatre and listened to a strong address delivered by Rev. Chamberlain. Other numbers on the program were recitations by Myrtle Beeler and Irma Huffman and a solo by Mrs. Dunlap. There was a good attendance of old soldiers at this service, but each succeeding year the number grows less, the ranks are thinning; they are responding to the last reveille.

At the McPherson national cemetery there was the usual large attendance. Over 250 carriages and other vehicles were counted in addition to about forty automobiles. At this service Capt. Evans, of this city, presided as chairman, and the address of welcome was made by Mr. Ingles, superintendent of the cemetery. Other speakers were Supt. Ebright and Rev. Harman. Music was furnished by young girls of the neighborhood. Each of the 800 graves was decorated with a flag and with flowers, the latter being supplied by the W. R. C. of the state. The day was an ideal one and it was pleasantly and interestingly spent. A large number of North Platte people attended these services.

Memorial Services.

Union memorial services were held at the Keith theatre Sunday evening, an audience that filled the floor and part of the gallery attending. In these services all the protestant churches united, and Reverends Porter, Favoright, Chapman, Williams, Johnson and Harman took some part in the program. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Geo. F. Williams, who took as his theme "The Gentle yet Masterful Christ." The subject was treated in a manner that brought many compliments, one of the ministers present pronouncing it a "masterly effort."

To The Citizens of North Platte.

The Public Library Board is very desirous of securing the co-operation of the citizens of North Platte in the project which means so much to the city. It isn't possible to estimate in dollars and cents the value of a public library to any town. We can give the value of far reaching influence which a free public library exerts on any community no estimate can be made. North Platte has always been liberal in its response to appeals for projects which would of material benefit and it is hoped they will be equally generous in their response to this appeal.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has agreed to furnish $12,000.00 for a public library building if the city will furnish a site and provide a fund for the maintenance of the library of at least $1,200.00 a year. The laws of the State of Nebraska solve the problem of the maintenance of a free public library by empowering the council to levy a tax of two mills for this purpose. This levy has been made. It is estimated that it will raise $1,500.00. It will not prove burdensome to any taxpayer, being only fifty cents on each $1,000.00 of assessed valuation. We can certainly all afford to pay this much in support of a project which will be of an inestimable benefit to the youth of North Platte.

Two objections have been raised to the project. The first one—that if the council should fail to make the levy some year there would be no funds to support it and then not only the building would revert to Mr. Carnegie but the site given by the citizens would also become his property. This is not so. There is no string tied to Mr. Carnegie's gift and consequently no reversion. Another objection is that the building of this library will interfere with the work of the Y. M. C. A. and its new building. The writer has interviewed the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in regard to this matter and he states that he does not think there are any grounds for this objection. The members of the Library Board are thoroughly in sympathy with the Y. M. C. A. and its purposes and are all prepared to lend their assistance when the building project is launched.

The Board is endeavoring to secure a site which will be as central for all the city as possible. This site must be paid for by the citizens of North Platte. The Board rather judged from the amount of most of the bids which were submitted that it was thought Mr. Carnegie was to pay for the site. The Board thoroughly appreciates the public spirit shown by Mr. M. Keith Neville in offering to them free any lot in Block 168 for a site.

Any member of the Board will be glad to furnish any information in his possession in regard to this project. Anna C. Kramph, Secretary.

Will Open with Banquet.

The dining hall of the Hotel Timmerman will be opened about June 10th with a banquet that will be given under the auspices of the Commercial Club but will not be limited to members of that organization and their ladies; the plan being to have the attendance of representative citizens and their ladies as large as possible. While the price has not been definitely settled, it will probably be $2.50 per plate, which is about half the price usually charged on such occasions.

We believe that citizens generally feel that in erecting this hotel Mr. Timmerman has displayed much enterprise and is entitled to much credit, and a banquet attended by representative citizens will reflect the appreciation of Mr. Timmerman's energy and progressiveness.

Looks Suspicious.

T. M. Hainline, the launderer, is in receipt of a letter from Madrid, Spain, which is an old scheme to fleece him out of a large sum of money, though the writer proposes to give a big reward for services done. Enclosed was a clipping of a newspaper telling of arrest of a St. Petersburg banker charged with fraud and manslaughter in Spain. It also relates that the banker escaped with five million rubles which had not been located. The letter purports to be from the banker who signs his name Demodoff and says he knows Mr. Hainline only from good references of his honesty. Then he pleads, for the sake of his only daughter, that he be given assistance in raising $480,000 to be used in paying the expenses of his trial and securing his baggage. For this service he claims he will give one-third of a fortune of 5,000,000 rubles which he will be enabled to get from a document which is hidden in a secret pocket in his baggage.

This is not the first letter of the kind received in this city, and it has every appearance of an old time scheme of defrauding.—Grand Island Independent.
