the Department of Agriculture, there Ingham schools. are 21,720,000 milch cows in the United States, and these are worth $702,945,-00. The magnitude of the industry can perhaps be best understood when it is considered that these cows produce yearly about $1,000,000,000 worth of fifteenth birthday. The evening was dairy products. There is no other branch of diversified agriculture so important to the progress of a community. The fertility of the soil can best be maintained by the liberal use of barnyard manure and the dairy herd not only makes this possible, but dairying is also more remunerative than other branches of farming when properly every day a few more cultivators go carried on.

The following from an exchange applies to North Platte: Every growing, ambitious town is composed of three elements. Those who work patriotically, vigorously and intelligently for its advancement; those who are in a state of apathy or indifference, and those who take a curious delight in in discouraging the effort of others by ridciule, and by a persistent denial that any progress can or has been accomplished, and by boasts of every other town besides their own. The last class are called croakers, but they are really something worse, for their opposition does not arise simply from depondency but from that unenviable spirit that will neither act itself or suffer others to act.

Political parties are aligning themselves for the contest of this year. There is much maneuvering for position preliminary to the forming of the lines. The general question at issue will be the approval or disapproval of the course and policies of the Republican party as embodied in legislation of Congress and the action of President Taft. The new tariff law, passed at the special session last year, will be the principal matter of contention, the Republicans defending it as meeting the two necessities of the country at this time, revenue and protection to our industries, and the Democrats assailing it as being to the interest of combinations and trusts and the cause of high prices. This is the ground crats are permitted to select it, and the Republicans need have no reason to evade it, as they can win upon it again as they have in the past.

An Object Lesson.

The lynching of the Anti-Saloon league detective at Newark, O., while, of course disgraceful and lamentable as a violation of law, is yet a solemn object lesson, or ought to be, to these over-zealous uplifters who employ disreputable characters as agents in their crusades. Here is a man willing to take human life and who admits he has never engaged in a laudable means of earning a living, urging other young men to avoid the error that cost him his life.

It is a mistake for an organization which vests itself with social reform to proceed on the theory that the end always justifies the means and that it is all right to hire ex-convicts, professional strike breakers or other disreputables to do the spy work on which the league depends for information. And if this experience in Ohio does not serve to impress this fact on the minds of good men and women engaged in this and similar work, then it will fail to accomplish its best re- for presidential elector. Said sult. The Anti-Saloon league and portionment entitles the several allied organizations, their cause and their crusaders have suffered in public esteem because they employ men whose personal records would not bear scrutiny. It is simply impossible to get people to believe strongly in any cause that must depend upon such questionable methods for success.

Here in Omaha and in other towns and cities of Nebraska this has been demonstrated where men have been employed by these organizations with penitentiary records and courts asked to send men to prison on the word of hireling jailbirds. Temperance causes are not promoted by intemperate people or intemperate methods. In this state at present the Anti-Saloon league is embroiled in a Anti-Saloon league is embroiled in a bitter internal factional fight; several Medicine ......4 members have publicly resigned to avoid being ousted and recriminations of the ins and the outs are putting lith, and that the delegates present at both under suspicion and their association with crooked detectives does their respective precinct. not strengthen them in public esteem.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in North Platte. Scores of North Platte people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of such merit can be had than such endorsement? Mrs. J. C. Bowen, W. Sixth St., North Platte Nebr., says: "For the past six years I suffered terribly from backache, rheumatism and disordered kidneys. A constant dull ache across my back and loins caused me untold misery and any sudden movement or misstep brought on sharp, shooting Congress will be fought if the Demobody. I was also annoyed by headaches and dizzy spells. A few months ago a friend told me of the benefit she had obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply at McDonell & Graves' Store. In a short time after I began their use I felt hood. No pies ever taste so good, better and the backache and other what's changed? the pies? No its you. symptoms of kidney trouble soon dis-

Plaid and Tartan.

Will the southron ever learn that 'plaid" is not a synonym for "tartan?' Not long ago an Englishman came into a hosier's establishment in Glasgow and asked a man behind the counter to show him some "plaid ties." The attendant, perhaps wondering what this new and weird article of wear ing apparel could be, was completely baffled until explanation elicited the fact that a necktle with a tartan design was required. Dickens, too, is a sinner in this respect, for he makes Bob Sawyer say with regard to whether his political proclivities are "buff" or "blue"-"I'm a kind of plaid at present, a compound of all sorts of colors." Moreover, an English dietionary gives an adjectival meaning of "plaid" as "colored in squares." I've never heard such use in Scotland. Has any one else?-Scottish Field.

Hall Caine's Moonshins. Authors and artists who have be come well known by means of making the moon dance in the wrong houses of heaven are numerous, but we never expected Hall Caine to join the group. Yet in "The Scapegoat," chapter 23, on Israel's return from prison after evenfall, we find that "with a wave of his hand he was gone into the darkness. It was a wonderful night. The moon, which was in its first quarter, was still low in the east."
