Weather forecast: Generally fair tonight and Saturday. The maximum temperature yesterday was 87; a year ago 84; minimum this morning 58; a year ago 54.

An exchange tells of a newspaper reporter who interviewed thirty successful business men and found that all of them when boys had been governed strictly and frequently thrashed. He also interviewed thirty loafers and learned that twenty-seven of them had been "mamma's darling," and the other three had been reared by their grandmothers.

Mrs. John McGraw entertained a dozen young ladies at a morning party yesterday in favor of her sister Miss Maud Rees. The hours were from nine to eleven. Pink and white sweet peas were the house decorations and this color scheme was carried out in the very palatable refreshments served. The function was a pronounced social success.

Lost—On Dewey St., a bunch of keys on solid silver ring. Finder will be rewarded by returning them to this office.

The attraction at the Chautauqua grounds yesterday afternoon was a monologue recital of "Seven Oaks," by Everett Kemp, which is pronounced to have been one of the most enjoyable numbers yet given. This story by Holland is a most interesting one, and in the hands of Mr. Kemp it proved doubly so. In the evening the Eureka male quartette entertained the crowd.

Special Oxford Sale. Small, The Big Shoe Man.

The state board of irrigation instructed the state secretary to see that the North Platte irrigation ditch received the water to which it was entitled under its filing, but this order has not been complied with. For two weeks past there has not been enough water coming down the North Platte to supply the needs of that particular ditch, in fact there has practically been none. Evidently the ditches in Scotts Bluff county have been taking all the river water regardless of the order of the state board. State Engineer Simmons arrived in town yesterday and after investigating conditions here expects to go to Scotts Bluff county to make further investigations.

Mr. Builder: Do you know that there is nothing more important to be figured on, when figuring on that new building, than your insurance. We write for the best of companies at the lowest possible rates, and can give you expert service.

TEMPLE REAL ESTATE & INS. AGENCY. C. F. TEMPLE, Mgr.

Charles Jerome, the two and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ottenstein, of Salt Lake, died at the Cunningham hospital in this city Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Mrs. Ottenstein, in company with her sister Miss Cricker, had been in the east visiting and shortly after leaving Chicago enroute to this city the child was taken ill, and though careful attention was given, when the mother arrived here Wednesday afternoon the condition was so serious that Dr. Quigley recommended the child being placed in charge of a nurse at the hospital. This was done, and the best medical skill given, but the spirit of the little one took its flight a few hours later. Occurring in the manner it did, the death is a particularly heavy blow to the parents and relatives in this city, and to them the sincere sympathy of our people is extended. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at three o'clock from the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ottenstein.

The Hub extends a cordial welcome to all Chautauqua visitors and all teachers. Come in and make yourselves at home. The stock of merchandise we carry will command your attention, while at this time we have many lots to close out at greatly reduced prices in dry goods, notions, shoes, millinery, ladies' wool and wash suits, children and misses' wash dresses, carpets, matting, rugs of all sizes and quality, men and boys' clothing and furnishings, trunks and valises. Remember this, that we do not mark up goods and then come down one-fourth or one-third, but we give you all reduction from regular prices. Yours for Business, THE HUB.

Scott Keith Will Return.

Scott Keith, one of North Platte's former business men and an old timer, will return to this city. P. W. Sittin informs us that he has been notified that Mr. Keith on August 1st will be checked in as cashier at the Pacific Hotel. The old town has changed since Mr. Keith left, as has also the people, but he will still find many old friends who will give him the glad hand of welcome.

City Property Selling Fast.

Yesterday the Temple Real Estate & Ins. Agency closed a deal for the sale of the Leo. F. Simon's property on east 6th St. to Dr. J. R. McKirahan of the Physicians & Surgeons Hospital. This makes the fourth piece of city property sold by this firm this month.

We are Now Bigger.

Governor Shallenberger last Monday issued a proclamation declaring North Platte to be a city of the first class having more than 5,000 and less than 25,000 and subject to the provisions of the law governing cities of that class. This passing of North Platte from a city of the second class to the first class gives the mayor and council greater privileges than formerly; none of which, however, will be abused.

Mrs. Lydia Lincoln.

Mrs. Lydia Lincoln, mother of J. D. W. Lincoln, of this city, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. L. E. Garrison on west Third street Wednesday after an illness of but two weeks.

Mrs. Lincoln was born in New York in 1835 but for the past eight years has made her home in this city and during that time has shown herself to be a woman of strong character, devout in her religion and enjoying the esteem and respect of her many friends and neighbors.

Three daughters, Mrs. L. E. Garrison, of this city, Mrs. J. E. House, of Chamberlain, S. Dak., and Mrs. C. C. Clark, of Maxwell, and one son J. D. Lincoln, survive her. There are also eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Garrison residence this evening in charge of Rev. R. B. Favoright, of the Baptist church, and the remains, accompanied by J. D. Lincoln will be taken to Britt, Iowa, for interment.

F. L. Farmer, of Arapahoe, is spending this week in town with his son Frank Farmer.

Aveline Gates has accepted a position as messenger boy and is succeeded by Jay Smith in the Stone Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Peters returned last evening from Wisconsin, where they had been called by the death of Mrs. Peters' father.

Butler Miltonberger underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Cunningham hospital yesterday. His condition is reported very favorable.

Miss Kathryn McCusker, of Ogalala, who had been spending several days with friends in town, left this morning for Keystone.

The Flying Dutchman.

The Flying Dutchman was a ship which was sometimes visible from various points of land, but more particularly from the Cape of Good Hope in very stormy weather. The story runs that her captain once swore so fearful an oath that as a punishment for his blasphemy he was condemned to beat about the oceans until the day of judgment. The Flying Dutchman was never known to get into port and was generally seen sailing under full canvas before a strong wind. The myth is generally understood to have had its origin in the waterspout, which in the distance resembles a sailing vessel.

Very Fortunate.

One evening just after dinner a young husband of Indianapolis was, in accordance with his custom, giving his better half the gist of the news when suddenly he laid down the paper with this exclamation:

"By George! Here's an account telling how during the recent storm off the New England coast a ship loaded with passengers went ashore. Why, that vessel belonged to my uncle Tom in Portland!"

"How fortunate!" returned the young wife. "And just think how glad those passengers were to get to dry land!"—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Poor Milkman.

A family living in an eastern city found a good deal of cream on a bottle of milk which had been standing overnight, and when the driver called in the morning the pleased servant held it up to the light and said, "Look here, I have never seen anything like this before on your milk."

The man looked at it for a moment, scratched his head and replied, "Well, I don't know what's the matter, but you can throw it out, and I'll give you a fresh bottle in its place."

Rebuked.

Higgins—How is it you are always idling about? I never see you when you have anything to do. Wiggins—The fact is it takes so much of my time looking after other folks' business I have none left for looking after my own. Don't you find something like the same trouble yourself?—Boston Transcript.
