

VALUES THAT TELL.

There is no value that tells as much as watch values. You can buy a watch at most any old price you want to pay. A cheap watch may be all right for a boy or a youngster, but when it comes to buying a watch for a "grown up" see that value is there. A watch may have a solid gold case set with diamonds and yet not be a good watch. Its the works that count. A well made watch will keep just as good time in a filled case as in any other kind. We show a full line of watches in all styles or sizes and at all prices. Included in our assortment you will find

Ball Watches,
Elgin Watches,
Waltham Watches,
Hamilton Watches, Etc.
Each one will be found to be "utmost" in watch value.

Absconds with Wife's Money.

Upon complaint of his wife, Jesse Grable, former night policeman of this city, was arrested at Julesburg Wednesday on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mrs. Grable had turned several hundred dollars over to her mother Mrs. Pickett, for safe keeping, which sum was coveted by Grable. This covetness grew so strong that he finally went to Mrs. Pickett and told her his wife had sent him for the money. It was turned over to him and he started for the west but had only reached Julesburg when Mrs. Grable authorized a telegram for his arrest. She went to Julesburg and receiving the greater part of the money returned home, allowing her husband to proceed west.

Carnivals Galore.

With the week beginning August 15th, North Platte will have two carnival companies at the same time; one will show on the north side west of the round house, the other at the south end of Dewey street. A representative of the Reiss carnival company arrived in town yesterday and after making partial arrangements, discovered that another carnival company had secured grounds and would be here the same week. He telegraphed Reiss the condition of affairs, and the latter in reply told him to go ahead with his arrangements for the week beginning August 15th. Therefore for six days and nights the atmosphere on both the north and south sides of the city will be resonant with the cries of the player.

Drought Broken.

The drought which had been on in this immediate section was broken Wednesday night and yesterday morning by a rainfall of a little more than a quarter of an inch. This rain was local and only extended for a short distance surrounding the town. Local rains have fallen in several sections of the county this week, but in each instance only a small territory was covered.

A Bill Nye Story.

According to the Bookman, Bill Nye once made a short speech at an authors' dinner in London that was much relished by the bookmen present, including the publishers, at whom it was indirectly aimed.

"Just a year ago," said Nye, "I was walking on the principal street of Indianapolis when I met a man whose appearance showed that he was reduced to the very depths of poverty. His clothes were ragged, his face unshaven, his hair long and matted and his feet unshod. As I passed him a look of recognition came into his eye."

"Nye, old fellow, don't you know me? Don't you know Abel P. Jones, who was your classmate at college?"

"What, Jones! Is it really you? Well, well! What can I do for you?"

"For heaven's sake, help me. I am starving. Lend me half a dollar."

"I felt in my pockets. They were empty. I had no money myself. But a bright thought flashed through my mind."

"Abel, I can't lend you the half dollar. I haven't got it. But, look here, I'll tell you what I will do—I'll let you publish my next book."

"Gentlemen, that was just a year ago, and this month Abel P. Jones sent me an invitation to go to Europe with him in his steam yacht."

Life on Panama Canal
has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Waterworks Company Appeals.

As was expected, the North Platte Waterworks Company has appealed from the verdict recently rendered in the federal court at Omaha by Judge Munger. The case goes to the U. S. circuit court of appeals of the Eight district, and the company gives a cost bond of $250 and a restraining bond of $5,000. Authenticated copy of the depositions, which covers several hundred pages, go to that court. It is generally believed by attorneys that the court of appeals will reach the case the early part of next year.

Dahlman Will Speak Here.

Hon. Jas. C. Dahlman, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will be the guest of Mr. Fred Garlow at the Scout's Rest Ranch next Monday, August 8th, at three o'clock. A speaker's stand will be erected and Mr. Dahlman will address the people on the political situation. Mr. Garlow expects to make this a regular old time political occasion and the public is cordially invited to attend as a good time is assured everybody.

Indians Defeat Locals.

The Cherokee Indians defeated the local team in ball games played Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. In the first game the score stood seven to six, in the second eleven to three. Jones and Mann was battery in Wednesday's game, Walz and Pass yesterday. On account of lack of practice and team work the locals did not put up a very strong game.

Baptist Church.

The pastor expects to be in his pulpit both morning and evening. The morning subject will be "A Voice." At night an evangelistic service may be expected. All the evening meetings will point toward the evangelistic campaign to be held the latter part of Sept. Bible school and B. Y. P. U. in regular order.

Notice for Bids.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the county clerk up to 12 o'clock noon of August 13th, 1910, for transcribing all city indexes and additions, excepting the city of North Platte and additions. Bids to be submitted by the job or by the line.

Next Door to it.
An acquaintance of the late Josh Billings was one day talking with him about the remarkable increase of imitations and substitutes for original articles, as "oleomargarine" for "butter," "celluloid" for "ivory," and so forth, "and," said he, "many of the substitutes go ahead of the real thing. I guess in time there will be a substitute for everything, though I don't know about 'wisdom.'"

"No," replied the humorist, "up to the present time at least there is no really good substitute for wisdom. But silence is the best that has so far been discovered."

No Criterion.
Once during the progress of a certain case Sir Charles Darling remonstrated with a barrister for the way in which he was arguing a point.

"You will pardon me, my lord," said the latter, "but perhaps I may remind you that you argued a case in a similar way yourself when you were at the bar."

"Yes, I admit it," replied his lordship, with a quiet smile, "but that was the fault of the judge who allowed it!"—London Tit-Bits.
