BRATT & GOODMAN.

Camp Kiddo, located at Dick's grove four miles west of town, was the scene of much merrymaking Sunday when the twelve young ladies in camp assisted by the two chaperons entertained to their best ability their guests from town. Shortly after their arrival dinner was served in true picnic style and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Tin plates were laid for forty-seven. A fishing trip came next in order, followed by a ball game which proved a very exciting event, errors and home runs forming the special feature of the game. A home talent play given by the young ladies closed the events of the afternoon and incidentally spoiled appetite for supper. In the evening a camp fire was built and several hours spent in singing and telling stories. A war dance by the "good Indians" closed a very joyful day for all and the young people returned to town voting the young ladies of the camp ideal entertainers.

For Rent.

Big Odd and End Sale of OXFORDS AND SHOES

Commences Saturday, August 6th,
Closes Saturday, August 20th, 1910.

THIS SALE IS JUST WHAT THE HEAD IMPLIES—A general clean up of the odds and ends of our stock. We do not wish to carry any Oxfords over, and we find we have a considerable number of short lots in as many different styles; we also find that we are overstocked in a few styles. We have decided to adopt radical measures to rid our shelves of this surplus. We have gone through our entire stock and sorted out every short lot and all overstocked styles and we are going to sell them regardless of what they bring.
