

VALUES THAT TELL.

There is no value that tells as much as watch values. You can buy a watch at most any old price you want to pay.

A cheap watch may be all right for a boy or a youngster, but when it comes to buying a watch for a "grown up" see that value is there. A watch may have a solid gold case set with diamonds and yet not be a good watch. Its the works that count. A well made watch will keep just as good time in a filled case as in any other kind.

We show a full line of watches in all styles or sizes and at all prices. Included in our assortment you will find

Ball Watches,
Elgin Watches,
Waltham Watches,
Hamilton Watches, Etc.
Each one will be found to be "utmost" in watch value.

A Religious Census.

Each church of the city has appointed a committee to cooperate in taking a religious census of the city. This general committee met at the Baptist church last evening for instructions and assignment of territory. The census will be undertaken next Friday and it is expected that the thirty-six members of the general committee will visit every home in the city on that day.

It is desired to learn the number of christian people and their church relations or, if not church members, their church preferences, also the number connected with any of the Sunday schools of the city. This information will be tabulated and the names of all the members of any given church, together with the names of those expressing a preference for said church will be turned over to the minister of that church.

The churches of the city desire to extend a cordial invitation to the people of North Platte and vicinity to attend their services.

Ask Twenty Per Cent Increase.

A St. Louis dispatch in today's paper says: The eight-hour day for freight conductors and trainmen and the mileage basis for passenger train crews are the two most important propositions which will be submitted to the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Trainmen in the next ten or fifteen days. Eighty thousand men will be involved on western roads in the United States and Canada.

The crews will seek the equivalent of a 20 per cent increase in wages, the concessions to be in the form of improved rules and conditions of work.

This was stated positively following adjournment of the Western Association of Railway Trainmen here tonight.

The vote will be taken under the auspices of the general committees of the western railroads. Ninety-six chairman of general committees, representing all the western lines, participated in the discussions.

If the conductors and trainmen, by their vote at the referendum, render, as they probably will, a verdict favorable to the position outlined by the western association, the matter will be taken up with the General Managers' association, representing all the western railroad, by the grand officers of both unions. The propositions will be submitted to the carriers in thirty or forty days.

Judge Grimes Dissolves Injunction.

In the district court yesterday Judge Grimes dissolved the temporary injunction issued by the County Judge of Scotts Bluffs County to the Gering Irrigation District and against the state board of irrigation which restrained the board from interfering with the headgate of that district's irrigation canal. Judge Grimes also ordered the irrigation district placed under a bond of $50,000 should it conclude to appeal from his decision, this amount to cover the loss that might be sustained by farmers using water from ditches having a prior right to the water right held by the Gering district. It is therefore probable that the Gering district will not appeal, that the headgates of that canal will be closed and that in a few days water will be coming down the river and that the North Platte ditch, which has a prior right over all other western Nebraska ditches to the water of the North Platte river, will be supplied.

Assistant attorney general Ayres represented the state board of irrigation in the suit in court yesterday, and he had been here for several days preparing the evidence. Last night he left for Gering and along with secretary Willis, of the state board of irrigation, will see that the orders of the board and court are obeyed.

Democrats Have Meeting.

North Platte democrats last night paid honor to Hon. James C. Dahlman, ex-cowboy, now mayor of Omaha, and candidate for the democratic nomination for governor on a "fernist" county option platform. Mayor Dahlman was expected to arrive in North Platte yesterday morning, be the honor guest at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Garlow at the Cody ranch and speak there in the afternoon. These arrangements had been completed when a wire from Mr. Dahlman stated that he could not reach town until 8:30 last evening. This necessarily changed the program, and it was decided to have Mr. Dahlman speak at the court house park.

Enlisting the services of the band to assist in getting out a crowd, the honorable mayor, as he stepped off the train was greeted by a crowd of several hundred people, while the band played "See the Conquering Hero Comes." Headed by the band, Mr. Dahlman was driven to the court house in company with County Chairman Neville and other leading local democrats. In the automobiles were also Willis E. Reed, of Madison, democratic candidate for United States senator, and W. J. Taylor, of Custer county, democratic candidate for congress.

A good sized crowd of men, women and children assembled at the park, and for an hour and a half listened attentively to the remarks of the speakers.

Mr. Taylor was first introduced by Chairman Neville and spoke along general lines for fifteen minutes, doing this more to place himself on "exhibition" than to convert his hearers to democratic principles. He is a rapid fire talker and seems quite an earnest fellow.

Mr. Reed followed, and in his speech reviewed briefly what might be expected of what is known as the incorporation measure, and spoke of several questions which he, if elected United States senator, would have crystallized into laws.

The chairman then introduced Mr. Dahlman, who was given a hearty greeting from the audience. Giving expression to complimentary remarks to his old friend and our neighbor, Col. W. F. Cody, the speaker turned his remarks of what he termed the paramount issue of this campaign—county option. He was opposed to the measure, he said, because it took away from towns and cities the right of self-government, and stated most emphatically that if elected governor and the legislature passed a county option bill, he would veto it, and do so in no uncertain manner and without apology. Mr. Dahlman is opposed to prohibition because it takes away from man his personal liberty. He favored the removal of the state capital to a more central location; believes that agricultural colleges should be located in different sections of the state, and is heartily in accord with the demand of the people of western Nebraska that the state be re-apportioned as to senatorial and representative districts. Taken as a whole Mr. Dahlman made a very good speech, and he seemed to be sincere in his statements as to what he would do if governor.

Man Killed at Pallas.

A man supposed, from a Y. M. C. A. card found in his pocket, to be Chas. Levherr, of Chicago Junction, Ohio, was killed, in some manner, by a train at Pallas last Friday evening. His body was first discovered along the track by the crew of a west bound freight early Saturday morning, and Coroner Longley notified. Later the body was brought to town and placed in the receiving room at Ginn, White & Schatz. The body was badly mangled, fragments of a limb being found some distance from where the body was found. Coroner Longley at once telegraphed the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Chicago Junction, asking for information as to Levherr. Through him it was learned that Levherr's parents lived at St. Joe, Ind. The parents were notified by the secretary, and they wired that they were poor and it would be necessary to bury the remains here, which was done yesterday afternoon.

As the pockets of the man's clothing were turned inside out, and it being reported that the man had money while in this city the day of his death, a coroner's jury was empaneled to secure such evidence as was obtainable. There was, however, no direct testimony as to the man's death, and a verdict was returned that Levherr came to his death in a manner unknown.

The Gypsy Encampment.

After listening to our famous band August twelfth, next Friday night, just trace your footsteps back again to the jolly rectory lawn. You'll find traveling gypsies gathered there, Famously boiling good coffee, And making wondrous ice cream, Directing music which soothes the mind, Telling fortunes lately imported from Mars, From whither comes that savory smell Down a way we follow, Then step short in pure delight For 'tis roasting weinies baked just right!

We must have something To quench this thirst Though we've tried with all our might, Yonder is a jolly tent Packed high with something white And beside them stands a pitcher with The most delectable punch. All hail this camp in pure delight, And bid the jolly gypsies Good-night!

Nat Reiss Carnival Next Week.

Nat Reiss, who signs his name "yours for a jolly, good time," believes in clean pure fun and amusement and in none of the various tented attractions with his carnival aggregation is there one that cannot be visited by any woman or child. No action done or word said that would bring the blush to the cheek of the most unsophisticated.

Mr. Reiss has demonstrated the fact that carnivals can be made a success without the aid of anything suggestive or immoral.

Arrangements have now been completed to hold the carnival on the U. P. lot, corner 7th and Locust street. Nothing has been spared to make this affair a success. The carnival has been advertised heartily throughout the adjacent country and large crowds are expected. The Nat Reiss Carnival Co., which furnishes the attractions, carries clean, up to date attractions, and intending visitors to the shows can rest assured that every courtesy will be extended, the employers takes pleasure in answering all questions, and special attention is given to women and children.

The company will arrive here Sunday and all shows will be in readiness Monday night, and a good time can be expected for the week of August 15th. Bear in mind that the Nat Reiss Carnival Co. have no connection with any other shows and have an established reputation for honesty, performing their truthful advertisements.

Novel Advertising Scheme.

The Annheiser-Busch Brewing Co. have inaugurated a novel method of advertising its products in the way of a six mule team and wagon which is making western towns having a wholesale agent. The outfit was in this city yesterday and attracted much attention. The mules are rather diminutive but are richly comparisoned with harness, and the wagon is very liberally finished in gilt trimmings. The outfit, which is in charge of Henry Siebert and Gus Hoffmier, was shipped to Glenwood Springs, Col., last night.
