Wienburg-Surber.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wienburg, eight miles southwest of town, on Wednesday evening occurred the marriage of their daughter Marie to Mr. Roy Surber, of this city. The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by Rev. Harman, of the Lutheran church, in the presence of about twenty-five guests, those present being only relatives and the most intimate friends.

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk and was attended by her sister Miss Ida Wienburg who wore blue silk. The groom was attended by George Wienburg, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

Both young people are well known in this city. For a number of years past the bride has been employed as teacher in the rural schools and was one of Lincoln's county most successful teachers. Mr. Surber for some time past has been working as contractor, and during his residence in this city has won many friends.

The young couple will make their home in the south part of town, where the groom has built and furnished a home.

STYLE.

It does not require the change in the atmosphere for you to know that autumn is approaching, for you will see through the store from day to day many new faces, figuratively speaking, in the merchandise line. New garments are coming, great numbers of new dress fabrics in both cloth and silk, and, by the way, has it ever occurred to you that most of the good things are brought here for you first before other stores have them.

Saved by Her Voice.

When traveling to Paris with some other ladies on one occasion Mme. Gris had a thrilling adventure. At a small wayside station a man entered the carriage, and it soon became evident from his threatening gestures and eccentric behavior that he was a dangerous lunatic. Though her companions were panic stricken, Mme. Gris retained complete presence of mind and with the utmost composure began to sing. At once the maniac was quiet. His whole attention was riveted on that magnificent voice, and he remained the most appreciative of listeners until the train reached the next station, where he was secured. It transpired subsequently that he was a maniac with homicidal tendencies who had escaped from an asylum.

"Peddler's Acre."

Lambeth "old" church has numerous historic monuments, and in one of the windows is the full length figure of a peddler with his pack, staff and dog. This is supposed to represent the unknown person who presented "Peddler's acre" to the parish upon condition that his portrait and that of his beloved canine companion should be preserved in the church and that his dog should be buried in consecrated ground.—London Saturday Review.

A Jolt.

A middle aged matron addressed a middle aged woman who sat next to her in the street car, whom she thought she recognized as an acquaintance of her girlhood. "Pardon me," she said, "but wasn't your maiden name Blank?" "It is," was the laconic reply.—New York Sun.

Surely Not.

Mariner (relating some of his active service adventures)—An' me an' my mates was lost in the virgin forest—virgin, so to speak, because the hand of man had never before set foot there.

Good Luck.

Mr. Juggins—A black cat came to our back fence last night. Mrs. Juggins—Did it bring you good luck? Mr. Juggins—That's what it did. I hit it the very first time I fired.

Her Pet Name.

Judge—What is your name? Young Wife—Caroline Augusta Emma. Judge—And how are you generally called? Young Wife (bashfully)—My sweet dinkie.
