FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1910.

In Lancaster county, which of course includes the capital city, there are eighty-three applications for divorce on file in district court. And yet they point to Lincoln as a model city of happy homes.

Nomination of future presidents by direct primaries is one of the reforms Senator Cummins, of Iowa, hopes to secure. This reform is probably some distance in the future, but it will come and will be a stepping stone to the election of a president by a direct vote of the people.

The fight between the "Old Guard" and Roosevelt and his followers for the control of the New York republican state convention, resulted in a Roosevelt victory, the Colonel being selected temporary chairman by a vote of 567 against 445 votes cast for Vice President Sherman. In his speech Roosevelt bitterly assailed the old party bosses.

Nearly every week the state dispatches tell of elevators being purchased by farmer co-operative companies. They seem determined to get rid of the "middlemen" and get all there is in marketing their grain. In these days of concentration of business, the farmer probably feels he must dip in for self protection.

The irreconcilables who hoped to bring about a break between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt will get very little consolation out of the colonel's utterances at the New York convention. Mr. Taft wisely kept his hands off the New York fight, and Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of the president is so frank and unequivocal that it ought to dispel all talk about a rupture between these two men.—Bee.

Custer county holds the record this year of being the largest corn growing county in the state. The assessor's figures show an acreage of 275,638. Gage was second with 185,804, and Knox third with 158,494 acres. Twenty-five other counties reported an acreage exceeding 100,000. Adams county with 109,871 acres of winter wheat leads all other counties by a large margin, Clay being second with 102,296 and Red Willow third with 89,479. Southwestern Nebraska's importance as a winter wheat section is illustrated by the fact that in the counties of Adams, Clay, Chase, Dundy, Franklin, Frontier, Furnas, Franklin, Frontier, Gosper, Hall, Harlan, Hayes, Hitchcock, Kearney, Nuckolls, Perkins, Phelps, Red Willow and Webster, comprising the Fifth congressional district and eighteen counties in all, had nearly a million acres of wheat out of the 2,375,000 planted in the entire state. The total oats acreage was in excess of this figure, and in this northeast Nebraska comes to the front. Knox county leads with 93,714 acres. Cedar 89,489, Antelope 79,925, Pierce 74,336, with others in that neighborhood well up.—State Journal.

No Just Cause to Bolt.

The Custer County Republican well says that no republican who regards the success of the principles of his party of greater importance to the general welfare of the people has a right to bolt his party nomination. Mr. Aldrich's nomination was clearly the will of the majority. His character and ability is commended by the party as well as some of the leaders in the democratic and populist parties.

No excuse is offered for any republican to oppose his election or vote for democaatic nominees.

The rule should not only hold good as to the republican candidate for governor but every candidate that is worthy and capable to fill the position for which they have beed chosen. Let loyalty to the patry nominees be the principles that actuates in every ward and precinct in the state and success is assured.

The Brewers Can't Beat It.

It is not in the realms of possibilities for Mayor Jim to win in the campaign. Thousands of his own party recognize that his nomination came about thru the votes of "wet" republicans who voted for him. They do not want the voters of another party to furnish their candidates for them; or, if they concede that privilege they reserve the right to make their own selection of a candidate and will vote for C. H. Aldrich.

R. L. Metcalfe, who has a large democratic following and who stood at the primaries as a democratic candidate for United States Senator, has endorsed C. H. Aldrich.

W. J. Bryan, the greatest democratic leader since Jefferson and Jackson, the idol of thousands of Nebrarka democrats, has repudiated the candidacy of Mr. Dahlman.

The populists of Nebraska, 15,000 or 20,000 strong, who declared for county option in their platform will not vote for Dahlman, leaving the governorship blank on their ticket.

The Nebraska Methodist Conference, for once in its history, digressed from sectarian and religious action long enough to repudiate Mr. Dahlman, and to enthusiastically endorse Mr. Aldrich.

The nominee for governor on the Prohibition ticket resigned and the name of Mr. Aldrich has been substituted therefor, and 4,000 or 5,000 so-called Third party voters of the state will, to a man, go to Mr. Aldrich.

And the end is not yet.

The brewers can not beat that kind of a combination with a fragment of the democratic party and a few thousand "wet" republicans.—Fremont Tribune.

Bad Fire at Ogalalla.

A disastrous fire, which originated in an attempt to light a gasoline stove in a restaurant, occured at Ogalalla Wednesday night, resulting in the destruction of a half block of buildings. Among the buildings was the Harrington store, the restaurant in which the fire started, the garage, the postoffice building and a building occupied dy the telephone office and a real estate office. The front of the Whelpton bank was also burned, The town is without fire protection and little progress could be made in extinguishing the flames.

A Good Company.

In speaking of "The Flower of the Ranch," which appears at the Keith tomorrow evening the Hancock (Mich.) Daily Journal says:

"The Flower of the Ranch," a merry pot pourri of all the Joe Howard shows that have gone before, played to a good-sized and delighted wet-weather audience and at the Kerredge last evening. The songs are rollicking and tuneful, the lines snappy and well delivered, and the comedy, in the hands of Jess Harris, irresistable.

The company, while not as large as some which have appeared here, is unusually well balanced. The chorus really sang, and there were several quartettes and other musical numbers which produced more harmony than is often the case with musical comedy features.

Brown-Graham Wedding.

Howard H. Graham and Mrs. Ida Neir Brown were united in marriage at the bride's home in the Trustee's Addition on Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony, which was a very quiet one, was performed by Rev. Chas. F. Chapman, of the Episcopal church, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride wore a very beautiful gown of gray satin and was attended by her cousin Miss Blanche Fonda. Max Hensolt acted as groomsman, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Earl Stamp.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on No. 12 for a brief visit with relatives at Omaha and Aurora. Upon their return they will make their home at the bride's residence on east Fourth street.

The bride is an estimable young woman who has made her home in this city for a number of years and has a large number of friends and acquaintances who unite in wishing joy and happiness to her and the man of her choice. Mr. Graham has only made his home in this city for a short time but has won the esteem and respect of many. He is employed as baggageman on the North River Branch train.

The Tribune extends congratulations and best wishes.
