

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP WRECKED

ZEPPELIN VI.

BERLIN.—Count Zeppelin admits that he is almost discouraged by the mishap that has just overtaken Zeppelin VI, the latest model of his aerial invention. While being warped into its shed at Baden-Baden, the dirigible took fire after an explosion of a benzine tank, and was entirely destroyed. Count Zeppelin has had a constant series of mishaps. The Zeppelin I, after making an endurance flight that astonished the world, was torn from its moorings by the wind and thrashed to pieces amidst a thunderstorm. The Zeppelin II, was destroyed by a gale on April 25 last. Zeppelin III, made bad landing and was seriously damaged at Mergentheim. The Deutschland came to grief in Teutoburg forest on June 28 last.

BERLIN BEAUTY PLANS

Valuable "Plowing Strips," Mile Long, Are to Disappear.

"City Beautiful Plan" Being Taken Up in German Capital—Emperor is Deeply Interested in New Project.

Berlin.—The "garden city," or "city beautiful plan," which is causing such a wonderful transformation in the suburbs of London and other English cities, is being taken up in Germany, and Berlin is to be extended in all directions on a scale of beauty and in a way that will give American travelers new ideas on the subject of municipal adornment. The emperor is deeply interested in the project, it is announced.

Berlin has grown up in a peculiar way. The whole metropolis has been built up solidly to a height of five and six stories, and then it stops suddenly, and open farming country begins immediately beyond. This open land is divided, in old time German style, into what are known as "plowing strips." These are often only 50 or 60 feet wide by frequently a mile in length. The holder of these strips, in many cases the original peasant owners, or their descendants, are usually very stubborn, and will not consent to their holdings being cut into streets and reapportioned. This has seriously hindered the growth of Berlin beyond its original boundaries.

Some of the strips are valued at a million marks. This has been the greatest problem in the way and has required unusual skill in laying out suburbs.

The main radiating and circumferential traffic streets are to be carried out scientifically, while intermediate residential streets are to be made most agreeable places to live in. There will be intermittent use of trees, or short rows of trees, or small trees, shaped open spaces at a street corner, all of which break the line of a street and give every street its own individuality. This type of planning permits the streets to rise and fall with the natural grades in the suburbs. No street is to continue in an absolutely straight line, as in America, nor do cross streets intersect opposite to each other. The streets are to be of different widths, and even the same street will vary as to width. Some houses will set back, others will project. This will give a most picturesque and old-time air to the neighborhood.

More than $40,000 has been spent in plans, and the best architects and landscape gardeners in Germany have contributed their ideas. The New York playground plan is to be tried. A "suburb beautiful" is being laid out near Dresden, another near Nuremberg, and still another on the outskirts of Munich. The Swiss are trying the plan just on the borders of Bern. A "garden city" is growing up close to Douges, in France. The same general principles are being followed in all these, the idea being to create within easy distance of the large city an independent community on copartnership lines, with all the features of a complete town. Factories are encouraged, but they are permitted to locate only on the side where the prevailing winds will carry their smoke away from the town.

Duesseldorf and Antwerp are considering the scheme.

FURS IN ENGLAND CHEAPER

Lord Strathcona Reports Great Increase in Export From Canada—Reduces Prices.

London.—There is some prospect of a fall next year in the present high price of furs.

Presiding the other day at the annual meeting of the Hudson's Bay company, Lord Strathcona said the reports from Canada indicated that there were evidences of continued increase in the number of fur bearing animals, which justified the anticipation that there would be a further increase in the present year in the fur collection which would be available for 1911.

Any material increase in furs would have the effect of reducing the enormously high prices which had prevailed in the fur market.

Small Boy Is Millionaire.

New York.—John Arthur Hinckley, four years old, stepped into the ranks of the millionaires through the will of his father, John A. Hinckley, New York capitalist, who died at Bellport, L. I.

The child received two-thirds of the estate, the remainder going to his mother.

The son is to receive $3,000 a year until he reaches the age of 15, then $10,000 a year till he is 21, and $20,000 till he is 25. At 28 the executors are to pay him $50,000 outright. Besides, he is to receive $25,000 a year until he is 35, when he obtains half of the principal. At 40 he receives the remaining half.

Weight of Earth.

New York.—Mother Earth weighs seven trillion tons. Reinhart A. Wetzel, instructor in physics at the College of the City of New York, has finished a series of experiments by which he has computed the weight of this mundane sphere. According to instructor Wetzel the result is more nearly accurate than has hitherto been obtained. The apparatus used in the experiments was so delicate that they were carried on entirely after midnight to avoid even the jarring of footfalls in the farthest corridor.

TALES OF THE TREED RATTLER

Some of the Reptiles Certainly Roosted Above Ground, According to Pennsylvanians.

Williamsport, Pa.—Since State Economic Zoologist Surface, by doubting the statement of a Columbia county man, started the query, "Can a rattlesnake climb a tree?" the snake annals of central and northern Pennsylvania, the recognized rattler country, have been appealed to to settle the question, by the citation of actual experiences. Charles H. Ellinger of this city, a prominent sportsman and fisherman, recalls an incident where he found a rattlesnake on a tree; but the tree being in such close proximity to some projecting rocks, he concluded at the time that the serpent had first been on top of the rocks before taking its unusual position on the tree.

W. T. Miller and son, Verus, and J. C. Simcox, all of Jersey Shore, went on a fishing trip up Pine creek to Tom's Run, halting near the stream's edge at a tree to which they intended to tie their horse, they were suddenly given warning by two boys who stood in the road that they should "look out, because there was a snake up in that tree."

The tree was a beech, smooth of bark and hard, and of pretty good dimensions. The men thought the boys had seen a blacksnake among the branches of the beech; but a glance into the tree's branches, at a point about twenty feet from the ground, disclosed the mottled form of a rattlesnake—not a large one, but as yellow and as silky as if he had just slipped his coat that very morning. Mr. Miller, who is an old hunter, could hardly believe his senses until he had climbed into an adjoining tree and with a pole pushed the snake down upon the ground, where it was dispatched by his son and Mr. Simcox. It was a rattler and no mistake, for once on the ground it made itself heard with very spiteful rattling.

Occupants of a cabin on Pine creek found a monster rattlesnake on a sill of a second story window, to which a bough of an adjoining tree extended. In Nippenoss township a rattler-

TIPLESS HOTEL IS A SUCCESS

Experiment in London Has Worked Well—Guests Must Abide by Rules or Quit Hostelry.

London.—The experiment of a non-tip hotel in the Strand in London has proved a success. Since the establishment was opened a year ago there has not been a vacant bedroom, a record which could not be equaled by any other London hotel. Every day the management has had to refuse visitors. Altogether nearly a quarter of a million guests have stayed at the hotel during the 344 days it has been open.

The success of the hotel, the directors believe is mainly due to the non-tip rule. Guests are forbidden to offer to any servant of the hotel a gratuity, and any servant found accepting one is instantly dismissed. People know exactly what it is going to cost them before they set foot in the hotel, and when they pay their bill there is no need for them to put their hands into their pockets to tip anybody.

Although the rule against tipping is rigidly enforced by the management, there have been visitors who have insisted upon offering gratuities. In order to protect the servants from temptation the management has had to request these visitors either to abide by the regulations or to seek accommodation elsewhere.

The management has had no difficulty in securing plenty of waiters and chambermaids despite the fact that they receive no tips.

Finds Lost Money.

Newcastle, Pa.—Retracing his route in an automobile, W. S. Moltry of Beaver Falls found his pocketbook containing $50 in the road at Coneau Lake, 60 miles from where he had missed it. He was unaware of his loss until he attempted to pay for lunch at a hotel.

RIGHT TO SLEEP IS SACRED

Pittsburg Magistrate Fines Milkman Who Clatters About in Early Morning Hours.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The wee small hours of the morning belong to the ones who want to sleep, according to a decision by Judges J. D. Shafer and R. S. Frazer, handed down the other day in a case emanating from Craf-ton.

A milk wagon driver, Leo Harmon, is alleged by residents of the borough to have driven through the streets with unnecessary noise. His steed, according to complainants, put down his feet with such force that all within a radius of several blocks were aroused. He was arrested and fined $10 and costs.

An appeal was taken and, although a petition signed by 50 women was presented to the effect that Harmon is a model milkman, the judges upheld the magistrate.

Fishing Joke Boomerang.

Berwick, Pa.—Fred Rough, a practical joking fisherman, laughed first the other day at the success of a joke he played upon Clyde Croft, a brother angler. Clyde Croft laughed last, and he thinks he laughed best.

The two men were fishing. When Croft wasn't looking, Rough attached his companion's hook to a piece of iron under the surface. "Look, you've got a bite!" he called. "Geo, it must be a whale!" panted Croft, after tugging for some time. Then he became suspicious. He waded into the creek and pulled out a wash boiler.

Rough laughed immoderately. "That's a good one on you," he howled. Croft threw the boiler on the bank in disgust. A 12-pound rock bass flopped on the grass out of its iron prison.

NOT CUT OUT FOR SOLDIER

Widow Healy Indulges in Some Plain Speaking to Her Devoted but Timid Lover.

The courting of the Widow Healy by Terence Corcoran was a tedious affair to every one in Magray place, most of all to the widow herself, who tried various expedients to assist her timid admirer.

"I'm thinking I might go for a sojer," Terence announced one night, when his fancy had been stirred by a newspaper account of a military pageant. "I'm not so old but I could do it. I was want in a school regiment."

"You go for a sojer!" cried the Widow Healy in mingled scorn and alarm. "A man that calls on a lone widow for two years and more, wid-out pluck enough to spake his mind, hasn't the makings of a drummer boy in him."

BABY'S SKIN TORTURE

"When our baby was seven weeks old he broke out with what we thought was heat, but which gradually grew worse. We called in a doctor. He said it was eczema and from that time we doctored six months with three of the best doctors in Atchison but he only got worse. His face, head and hands were a solid sore. There was no end to the suffering for him. We had to tie his little hands to keep him from scratching. He never knew what it was to sleep well from the time he took the disease until he was cured. He kept us awake all hours of the night and his health wasn't what you would call good. We tried everything but the right thing.

"Finally I got a set of the Cuticura Remedies and I am pleased to say we did not use all of them until he was cured. We have waited a year and a half to see if it would return but it never has and to-day his skin is clear and fair as it possibly could be. I hope Cuticura may save some one else's little ones suffering and also their pocket-books. John Leason, 1403 Atchison St., Atchison, Kan., Oct. 18, 1909."

No Help Needed.

A little miss of five years who had been allowed to stay up for an evening party, was told about 8:30 to go to bed. Very, very slowly she moved toward the stair. An aunt, seeing her reluctance, asked:

"Helen, can I do anything to help you?"

"No," replied Helen, "I will get there altogether too soon as it is."

Flirting With Fashion.

That innate tendency on the part of the fair consumer to flirt with fashion, playing fast and loose with various commodities, is responsible for the uncertainties that have prevailed during the month. There was such a lack of confidence as to the ultimate acceptance of the various lines prepared by distributors and consumers that buying was somewhat minimized. Prosperity or adversity has nothing to do with the millinery business. Fashion alone makes or breaks.—Millinery Trade Review.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a bunch came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. R. R. HUBY, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ill, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.
