The Lecture Course.

The North Platte lecture and entertainment course is again presented to the people of this city as a public institution, proposed for the uplift of the community in general and for the inspiration and instruction of its patrons. There are five numbers in the course this year.

November 21st. Benjamin Chapin, in the life and character portrayals of Lincoln. Mr. Chapin dressed in representation of the great president appears and gives scenes that are so realistic that they become thrilling.

December 2d. Strickland W. Gillilan, humorist and entertainer. Mr. Gillilan is the author of the famous "Off Again, On Again, Gone Again, Finnigan". He is a poet of more than ordinary ability and humorist, clean and pure.

January 25th. Robert S. Seeds, humorist lecturer. He is better known as "Col. Bob" Seeds and this is because of his keen native wit and happiness at all times.

February 11th. The Dunbar Concert Co. We remember the Dunbars at the Chautauqua last summer. They were dissatisfied when they left here and asked for the opportunity of giving their entertainment on some other night than Sunday. It is a clean entertainment but is full of hilarity. They will do their best.

March 2d. Dr. Frank G. Smith, lecturer and platform orator. Dr. Smith is pastor of the Warren Avenue Congregational church of Chicago and is recognized as one of the great preachers of the city. He is better known in the west as a lecturer than as a preacher.

Season tickets for the full course are $1.50. They may be reserved without extra cost. All numbers are in the Keith. This course is under the auspices of the high school but their is no financial return. Profits are to be used in bettering the course next year.

Christian Church.

Sunday services. Bible school meets at 10 a. m. and then the congregation unites with the Presbyterian brethren in the regular morning service which will be addressed by Mr. Paulson, president of state anti-saloon league. The communion and preaching will be held at 3 p. m., the evening services at 6:45 p. m. and the regular morning service at 7:30. The evening subject "Shall the Saloon Rule" will close the series of sermons that are arousing more thought and comment on the part of the citizens of North Platte than any sermons delivered in the city for many years. There were three confessions and five baptisms at the services last Sunday. All are invited to join in our worship.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Henry Denker aged 23 and Miss Fannie Jensen, aged 21 both of Gandy. The couple were married by Judge Elder.

Preaching Monkeys.

The author of "The History of Brazil" tells of a species of monkey called "preachers." Every morning and evening these monkeys assemble in the woods. One takes a higher position than the rest and makes a signal with his fore paw. At this signal the others sit around him and listen. When they are all seated he begins to utter a series of sounds. When he stops these cries he makes another signal with his paw, and the others cry out until he makes a third signal, upon which they become silent again. This author, Mr. Marekrova, asserts that he was a witness to these preachings.

A Use For Him.

"That horse of yours looks terribly run down."
"Yes," replied Uncle St Simlin.
"Why do you keep him?"
"Well, it's a kind of comfort to have him around. As long as I've got him I feel that there ain't much danger of my bein' cheated in a hoss trade."
—Washington Star.

Not a Good Son.

Necessity turned sharply to invention.
"If I'm your mother," she said, "it's your duty to support me in comfort."
But invention, as we all know, usually dodges his duty.—Chicago Tribune.

Gallant.

Nell—I have to read a paper on "Ideal Woman" at the next meeting of our ladies' club. Jack—Well, all you need to do is to stand up and let them look at you.

More Noticeable.

The more rare a man's qualities are the more he will be found fault with. Dust on a diamond is always more noticeable than dust on a brick.—Josh Billings.
