TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Mrs. J. W. Payne entertained a few friends at cards Friday evening. Following the card games light refreshments were served.

George Young, of Medicine precinct, has a hog which he is willing to wager will weigh seven hundred pounds. Some claim as well as hard to that hog.

Our values cannot be equalled anywhere in our city. We have the newest and choicest in pleasing varieties. We invite you to come and see, Dixon, The Jeweler.

The Philathea club met Friday evening with Miss Vivian Knox. Various amusing contests were the evening's amusement and at the close a two course luncheon was served. In entertaining Miss Knox was assisted by Miss Francis Bailey.

For rent—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. $10 per month. 501 East Sixth street.

George Young, of Wellfleet, was in town Saturday and made the Tribune a call. At the farmer's institute at Somerset last week he took five premiums on farm products, and at the Wellfleet institute was given first premium on hogs and first premium on yellow corn.

A local lodge of the Mutual Protective League, a fraternal and beneficiary order, was organized at the K. P. hall Friday evening with a charter membership of about fifty. J. E. Vermillion was elected secretary and Messrs. French, Kerr and Grayford as directors. The lodge owes its existence to State Manager Campbell, who was assisted in the work by Deputy Organizer Welch, both of whom are Lincoln men.

Frank Keeshan, for many years a passenger conductor between Omaha and this city, committed suicide in his home in Omaha Friday afternoon. He retired from railroading a number of years ago, and for quite a while past had been in an almost helpless condition due to a paralytic stroke.

R. B. Miller, one of the progressive young farmers of Nichols precinct, called at The Tribune office Saturday to drop some coin of the realm in the till. Mr. Miller says about a thousand tons of beets are piled up at Hershey awaiting shipment to the factory at Grand Island. It is expected that shipments of the beets will begin this week.

W. C. Cole, one of the heaviest hog producers in Lincoln county, was a Tribune caller Saturday. Last September Mr. Cole shipped over five thousand dollars worth of hogs, which he had raised and fattened on his Nichols precinct farm, to the Denver market, and still has 200 head, the greater number of which he is feeding for the market.

Chas. Bogue, chairman of the O. R. T. protective board of the Union Pacific, leaves this week for Chicago to take part in the conference between the representatives of that order and the managers' committee of fifty-nine western roads, which convenes next Monday. The question of a raise of fifteen per cent in wages is the theme to be discussed.

A local branch of the Lutheran Brotherhood, a society auxiliary of the Lutheran church, was organized Friday evening at the Tramp residence. E. T. Tramp was elected president, Albin Sandall vice-president, Oscar Sandall secretary and C. O. Weingand treasurer. The object of the Brotherhood is to assist in church work in what ever way possible.

Suggest Legislative Probe.

The Pawnee City Republican, the Hastings Republican, a democratic newspaper, and the Blue Springs Sentinel, among other state newspapers, have suggested since the election that Gilbert M. Hitchcock, United States senator-elect, ask the legislature to investigate the charges made against him before the election by Edgar Howard, or, if he does not do this, that Howard himself appear before the legislature and ask that he be either vindicated or branded as a liar.

This movement recalls the statement made just before election by a prominent democrat of Nebraska that it is quite possible that even the Oregon plan pledge will not be sufficient while these charges are still hanging fire. He pointed out that no doubt many members of the legislature would consider these charges as absolving them from their oaths.—Omaha Bee.

Ten acres of land for $650, situated just east of the city. For sale by Wm. E. Shuman.

Hallett-Sorenson Wedding.

The Los Angeles Examiner of Nov. 14th contained this notice of the wedding of a former North Platte girl: At a pretty wedding solemnized a few evenings ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sorenson, 139 North Griffin avenue, their youngest daughter, Ruby Orlean, was married to Froeman Milo Hallett.

The bridal couple entered the parlors to the wedding march from "Lohengrin" played by Miss Beryl Jeter, and stood beneath the arch of smilax and chrysanthemums while the Rev. Mr. Compton performed the ceremony.

Gowned prettily in white lingerie, the bride was attended by Miss Helen Doolittle of Long Beach, while Richard Humphrey stood with the groom. Relatives and a few intimate friends only witnessed the ceremony the out of town guests including Miss L. Stoltenberg of Grand Island, Neb., and Mrs. H. N. Peters of Omaha, aunts of the bride, and Miss Elsie Viereggs of Grand Island, who is the bride's cousin. Mr. and Mrs. Hallett left for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home at 1636 1/2 Maple avenue.

Charles Pass returned Friday evening from Salina, Kas.

The new postoffice building is now ready for occupancy and as soon as the new fixtures arrive the postoffice will be removed to the new location. The people of this community should all congratulate Mr. Springer for the excellent building he has provided for the public for it is far superior to anything along the line even in towns many sizes larger. Did you ever notice though that Brady is about seven leagues ahead of other towns our size in all respect. Well we are and we ought to appreciate the fact.—Brady Vindicator.
