The following letter, relating to the original plans for terminal improvements at North Platte, was received today. The plans contemplate an expenditure of a big sum of money—over $100,000—and means that next spring a small army of men will be at work in North Platte making the improvements. Omaha, November 23rd, 1910.

Mr. Ira L. Bare,
North Platte, Nebraska.

Dear Sir: Referring to our conversation relative to improvements at North Platte; we now have authority to go ahead and make the desired improvements and it is only a question of getting the work done.

However, it is too late to accomplish much this winter and we will probably not start the work until early spring. In the end, we expect to have up-to-date terminal facilities at North Platte.

Yours truly,
Charles Ware,
Assistant General Manager.
