TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

The meeting of the Altar Society announced for yesterday, will be held this evening at the residence of Rev. McDavid.

License to wed was granted Tuesday to H. L. Dimond and Bertha M. Gerkin of Wellfleet, and to C. L. Morrison and Pearl Hamilton of Sutherland.

The city council—or at least four members—met in session Tuesday evening, but the only business transacted was the allowance of claims.

The wintry weather spent its force Tuesday and the banana belt is enjoying the sunshine and warmth peculiar to this region. We needed the ice, hence the cold snap the early part of the week. Rejoice and be glad that you live in a section where you get what you want.

Chas. Snyder, of Maxwell, won the Maytag automobile in the Omaha News contest. Arthur Salisbury went to Omaha with Mr. and Mrs. Snyder and brought the car to this city Saturday. It is a two cylinder, five passenger car, and is pronounced to be well constructed.

On the occasion of his thirteenth birthday Monday, Harry Pizer entertained a number of his young friends in a very pleasant manner. Various games were introduced for the amusement of the guests, and at the close enjoyable refreshments were served.

The financial condition of the city is reported to be good. While there are $7,600 in outstanding warrants that are unpaid, the available revenue from unpaid 1910 taxes is over $11,000. These outstanding warrants can therefore be redeemed by the commencement of the next fiscal year.

All orchestra seats next Monday evening will be two dollars. The advance agent insisted that they be $2.50, but Manager Stamp held out for $2.00. The attraction on this occasion is Lillian Russell, in "In Search of a Sinner," and the price, considering the worth of the actress, company and the play, is not too high.

Before you purchase your wants, come, look and see if we cannot make you some money.

THE HUB CLOTHING DEPT.
The rainfall for 1910, as recorded by the local weather bureau, was eight and sixteen one hundredths inches less than the yearly average for thirty-seven years. With this deficiency in a country that is a little shy on rain at the best, it is almost remarkable that any crop was raised during the past season.

We wish to thank the citizens of North Platte and vicinity for their patronage, and as we are closing out will sell apples at $1.50 per bushel box or forty cents per peck and onions at $1.00 per bushel while they last.

R. E. LOUDEN & SONS.

A lodge of the order of Yeoman was instituted Monday evening with a charter membership of thirty-five. State Manager W. J. Tiley exemplified the work. The officers elected were: Honorable foreman, J. F. McAbee; master of ceremonies, Rev. R. B. Favorit; correspondent, Charles O. Troy; master of accounts, Frank Murray; chaplain, Miss Alpha Carter.

The county commissioners convened in session Wednesday and devoted the day to routine business and the allowance of claims. At noon yesterday George Roberts of Maxwell, who succeeded E. H. Springer as commissioner, took his seat. The commissioners will proceed to make semi-annual settlement with the county officials, a work that will require several days. The full proceedings will be published next Tuesday.

Never before in the history of North Platte have such prices been placed on Men's Hats, Ladies' and Misses' Suits and Cloaks as they are now sold at our sale. THE HUB CLOTHING DEPT.

A water pipe on the second floor of the building occupied by The Leader bursted or became disconnected Wednesday and flooded both floors in the rear of the building, damaging hundreds of dollars worth of goods. The leak was discovered about eleven o'clock by the night watchman who informed Mr. Pizer and a plumber was secured. Had the water run all night it is probable the greater part of the stock would have been damaged.

A Successful Ball.

The twenty-eighth annual ball of Elkhorn Lodge No. 28, B. of L. F. and E., given at the opera house Tuesday evening proved a nicely conducted function and one that was thoroughly enjoyed by attendants. While the crowd present was not as large as at some former balls of the lodge, never the less the floor was well filled with dancers and the gallery with spectators.

The decorations were simple but effective consisting of streamers of colored electric lights running from the ceiling to the gallery, and on the stage was displayed in electric formed letters the initials of the order.

Preceding the dancing, the theatre orchestra rendered several concert numbers in a manner that was appreciated. The first dance was called shortly after nine o'clock, and the whirl of gaiety—with the exception of the intermission hour at midnight—continued until three o'clock in the morning.

The music was excellent, the attendants were good dancers and among the representative young people of the city and the affair throughout was a most pleasant one.

Chairman Buchfinck, of the arrangement committee and his assistants on the several committees are entitled to credit for the success of their efforts in providing pleasant entertainment for the people.

Men's Hats, $3.00 and $2.50 qualities at $2.25 at The Hub Clothing Dept.

RAILROAD NOTES

The ice harvested from the Union Pacific lake is sixteen inches thick and of fine quality.

Charley Westerlund returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip to Pacific coast and intermediate points.

Trains on the Union Pacific are still running irregular. Yesterday morning the three night trains from the east arrived about six hours late.

Conductor Charley Breternitz left Tuesday night for New York City as a witness in a case wherein a dining car conductor, who was injured at Denver last summer, sues the Union Pacific for $25,000 damages.

The ice harvest on the Union Pacific lake east of town began Tuesday and is progressing rapidly under the foremanship of John Frazier. Sixty men are employed at the lake and about one hundred and fifty at the ice houses, the latter force taking care of the Laramie shipments as well as that which comes from the local lake.

The Southern Pacific passenger train No. 1, the Overland Limited, westbound, was held up by two masked bandits at an early hour Tuesday morning at Reese, nine miles west of Ogden. A negro porter was shot and instantly killed.

A. W. Taylor, another porter, was probably mortally wounded and a passenger was lightly wounded. One hundred passengers were robbed of their valuables. The robbers did not attempt to enter the express car, but made a thorough search of the Pullmans, making a rich haul from the California bound passengers. The robbers held the train for more than an hour and robbed the trainmen as well as the passengers.

That railroads are not altogether heartless, is shown by the manner in which they treat their employes in cases of accidents. When Fred Huxoll was injured at Sidney last Sunday the company provided a special train to take him to the Cheyenne hospital in order that he might quickly have the best possible attendance. When the train reached Cheyenne Asst. Supt. Roth and Trainmaster Smith were at the depot with an ambulance. In order to make quick time to Cheyenne, the relatives in this city were given permission to ride on the mail train, and upon their arrival a private car was placed at their disposal, and this car was used by them on the trip home. Engineers Trexler and Orton, who accompanied the injured man to Cheyenne, say everything possible in the way of courtesy was extended by the U. P. officials.

Two men in this section of the state perished in the storm Sunday. G. H. Gardner, living seven miles north of Curtis, was found dead in his fields Monday, having been overcome the day before while out after his cattle. The second death was that of George Campbell, living south of Cozad, who got up during the night, probably in his sleep, and wandered away. Later he was found near home frozen to death.

Found Dead in Bed.

James Jones, a well known man around town, was found dead in bed in a building on the island at the north river bridge Wednesday evening. Jones for some time had been making his home with Mr. Sodocott, who owns the building, and the latter left Jones in that place Saturday evening in his apparent health. He returned to the place Wednesday and found Jones dead in bed.

Coroner Longley and Sheriff Miltenberger were notified, made an examination of the remains and arrived at the conclusion that the man had died of heart trouble. There was plenty of wood and coal, also plenty of food in the house, so it was neither a case of freezing or starvation.

The deceased had made his home in North Platte for many years, and was a cripple, having lost an arm. The body was brought to town yesterday and placed in Ginn, White & Setz's receiving rooms.
