The Union Pacific is the first road to adopt some of Brandeis' "efficiency" methods. It is said orders have been issued from headquarters that will save the writing of over a million letters every year by employees and officers to each other and that the record will be more perfect and more easily examined than under the present red tape thods.

The case of Taylor against Campbell, damages for false imprisonment, has been in progress in the district court since Saturday and will probably be concluded tomorrow forenoon. Taylor was arrested on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and when arraigned before a justice of the peace was fined ten dollars and sentenced to thirty days in jail. The claim is made that when the justice both fined and sentenced Taylor he exceeded his authority—he had the power to do one or the other but not both. After being in jail eleven days Taylor was released under a writ of habeas corpus.

As an engine lay "in the clear" yesterday afternoon awaiting the coming of No. 9, the fast mail, Track and Train had a talk with Fireman Seeber, who stokes coal on that run. The speed of the train was the principle subject. The distance from Grand Island to North Platte is 138 miles, and the usual running time is about two hours and fifty minutes. But much faster time than that is frequently made. Besides carrying several tons of mail the principal object of that train is to get over the road. Very often No. 9 is behind time, and that is when she whizzes. One afternoon about a month ago she was running four hours late out of Grand Island. On that particular day the run to North Platte was made in two hours and twenty-eight minutes, cutting down the last time twenty-two minutes. The train makes two stops between here and North Platte—one for water and one for coal.—Grand Island Independent.

A dispatch from Rockwell, Iowa, says: Organized for the avowed purpose of being a trust buster, the Rockwell Farmers' Cooperative society find that they are in a business that for revenue producing equals or even exceeds Standard Oil in its palmiest days. Twenty years ago some 300 shares were placed in this institution by the farmers. Shares sold for $10 and farmers hesitated putting a cent into the institution. When it was shown to them that they could save that $10 in the winter in the purchase price of coal, they took hold. Saturday at the annual meeting it was figured out that each one of these shares were worth $161.15 and at any time they could be cashed in at that price.

A watch should be cleaned every 12 or 15 months to insure the greatest amount of service as a correct and reliable time piece. Your watch is in constant service night and day and no drop of oil is sufficient to oil five watches. It stands to reason it should be cleaned and fresh oil applied. Don't you think it time your watch had a cleaning? Our work is all guaranteed.

What promises to be the sensation of the current theatrical season is Samuel E. Rork's production of the musical comedy drama, "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge," which comes to the Keith next Monday evening. In the past two seasons, probably no musical production has been so widely advertised and talked of as "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge," on account of its correct and careful treatment of night life in Paris. The production spent one entire season at the Circle Theatre in New York City, six months at the Olympic Theatre in Chicago, and has enjoyed record-breaking engagements in the larger eastern cities. It comes to this city with almost the entire cast and production intact, which will be by far the largest musical organization to be seen here this season, stage settings magnificent costumes and electrical effects for which manager Rork is famous.

Extends Front Street Siding.
The Union Pacific is so awfully busy these days that it works construction gangs at night; at least it performed such work Saturday night when it extended for nearly a block its sidetrack on the north side of west Front street. There are perhaps people who will contend that this work was done at midnight so as to escape injunction proceedings by some citizens who don't want a track down that street, and perhaps this view of the matter is correct. At any rate the length of the sidetrack was increased, and in some future night it will probably be extended east to the Pacific Hotel. You can never tell what the Union Pacific has up its sleeve; some day it may build a new depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Garlow Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Garlow entertained at dinners Sunday and Monday evenings in favor of Colonel and Mrs. W. F. Cody on the occasion of their forty-fifth wedding anniversary which occurred yesterday. The hospitality of the occupants of this "pretty ranch home, always generous, could not have been exceeded for these two functions, and they and Colonel and Mrs. Cody gave the guests a most hearty welcome.

Sunday covers were laid for fourteen and last evening for twelve, and each dinner was served in seven courses. The decorations were cut flowers and ferns, the color scheme the first evening being red and green and the second pink and green. These decoration with cut glass and silver made prettily appointed tables. Each course was nicely prepared and served, and the two hours at the table were very enjoyable, the entertaining ability of Colonel Cody adding much to the pleasure.

Preceding and following the dinners Colonel Cody entertained the guests with pictures of and specimens from his newly acquired mining properties in Arizona, among which was a nugget of pure gold weighing several ounces. He also exhibited a watch given him by the King of Italy, a locket by Queen Victoria which enclosed her picture, a scarf pin by the Prince of Wales, and other articles presented him by crowned heads of Europe. Another unique exhibit was the menu of a dinner given at his mining camp which was pen sketched on the dry hide of a wild animal.

The guests at these two functions were Mr. and Mrs. Will McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Halligan, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dixon, Arthur McNamara, Louis Tobin, Major and Mrs. Walker, Judge and Mrs. Grimes, Chas. McDonald, Colonel Getchell of Arizona, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Bare.
