A Banner Attraction, "The Barrier." Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Garlow entertained eight couples at 500 last evening in favor of their guest Miss Thomas, a function that partook of the nature of a St. Patrick's Day affair so far as decorations were concerned. The prizes, which were won by Mrs. Quigley, Mrs. Walker, Mr. Fleishman and Mr. Stone were of Irish hue, and the table decorations at the chafing dish luncheon were of the same color. At each plate lay a small green snake, the carnations were green, and over the table hung a green pig. The party throughout was very unique.

Mayor Patterson States Position North Platte Nebraska, March 16th, 1911.

E. H. Evans, Esq., Chairman Republican City Central Committee, Dear Sir:—

Two years ago, when I was requested by citizens of North Platte, Democrats and Republicans, to become a candidate for Mayor, I then said that I would not be a partisan candidate, that I did not believe that partisanship should have any more weight in the selection of city officers than it would be in the selection of the officers and directors of a corporation, that if the good people of North Platte, regardless of party, desired me to be their candidate, I would accept the office and serve them to the best of my ability, but that I would not enter into a personal contest for votes.

It was under the same circumstances that I was renominated and elected one year ago.

It was by the adoption and maintenance of the principle of non-partisanship in the affairs of the city that we were able to unite our people on a practical solution of the water works problem. There are other problems coming up for settlement in our city that should be solved in the same way, to the best of all the people, and not in the interest of any political party.

The water works problem is only half won. To garner the fruits of our victory it will be necessary for our people to present a united front. And believing, as I do, that it would be detrimental to the best interests for our people at this time to divide on political lines, I cannot consent to be a party to such division by accepting the republican nomination tendered me.

And unless an arrangement can be effected by which my candidacy will receive the non-partisan support that it did one and two years ago, I will be compelled to decline the republican nomination for Mayor.

Sincerely thanking the members of the republican mass convention for the honor of the nomination tendered me, I remain very respectfully yours,
THOS. C. PATTERSON.

A general meeting of the city fire department was held at the court house last evening, practically every member not at work, being in attendance. Mayor Patterson was present and addressed the meeting on the subject of the new city hall, explaining the plans and arrangement of the building, the advantage it would prove to the department and the cost in taxes to the average homeowner. The members present appointed a committee to prepare an address to the voters of the city, which will be published in the local papers next week. The members seemed to be heartily in favor of the proposition to erect the needed building.

School Notes.

A number of the teachers in the Ogallala city schools visited in the different rooms of the North Platte city schools on Monday of this week.

The students of the High School are working on their entertainment called "High School Night". It is intended to show all the phases of school life, particularly those interests which are not represented by the course of study. Full announcements will be made later. In matters of quarantine the city schools and the officers of the school and board of education have no part. The Board of Health make all decisions of this nature and we are glad to abide by them as strictly as possible.

The attendance at the Central and Washington schools is improving but other schools show a low per cent. Pupils should not be rushed back to school after having the measles. The eyes are weak and the general physical condition is low. Three weeks absence on account of measles is none too long.

Victor Halligan will represent the North Platte High School at the Central Nebraska Debate which will be held at York this year. The question is "Resolved that the policy of maintaining our navy at its present standard of efficiency is preferable to materially increasing it."

Classes have been organized in all of the Eighth grades in the Geography of Nebraska. Outlines have been and the subject is being studied from the standpoint of resources and material conditions.

Master Mechanic Niland was down from Cheyenne Wednesday.

Spencer Brooks, Union Pacific tariff inspector, visits the local freight office yesterday.

W. E. Price, claim adjuster of the Union Pacific, transacted business in town yesterday.

W. L. Richards, of the B. of L. E. protective board, has been transacting business in Omaha this week.

John Mellen, traveling passenger and freight agent for the Northwestern road, spent yesterday in town.

Yesterday was pay-day for Nebraska division employes, and on Monday the Wyoming division checks will be delivered.

The Union Pacific board of examiners arrived with the instruction car Wednesday and will be here for some time examining employes on train rules and the workings of air brakes.

This pleasant weather means big trains over the Union Pacific. Eighteen and nineteen hundred ton west bound trains are made up in the local yards and taken through to Sidney.

Word received from Omaha yesterday announced the death of W. L. Kinglety, formerly a North Platte engineer but of late years in service at Sidney. He had been taken to Omaha for treatment.

Quite a number of Lincoln county people are taking advantage of the cheap rate to the Pacific coast points. At the local ticket office it is said three or four of these tickets are being sold each day.

Long freight trains, and growing longer each day, is the rule on the Burlington. A few days ago a train with ninety-nine cars all loaded, carrying a tonnage of 3,274 was pulled into Lincoln. The next day there came into the same city behind one engine a train consisting of 107 cars and carrying 3,850 tons.

Leaving Grand Island at 1:23, thirty-eight minutes late, the train reached this terminal at 4:52, covering the 137 miles in 154 minutes from register to register. Out of this time can be taken a five minute stop at Kearney, two minutes lost at Odesma on account of slow down, six minutes at Lexington on two slow downs, three minute slow down at Brady, and three minutes lost at bridge junction. This stop and slow downs cut the actual speed time down to 135 minutes for 137 miles, or an average of over a mile a minute. Part of the distance was skimmed off at the rate of seventy-five miles per hour.
