A team of horses, belonging to John Staple of Nichols precinct, took fright Saturday morning, ran away and broke the harness and buggy. A large number of citizens, particularly members of the Masonic fraternity, were at the east bound train Saturday noon to greet the San Francisco delegation of Shriners en route to Rochester, N. The party comprised about thirty members of the fraternity and ten ladies. An exhibition drive was fully appreciated by the many spectators. It was a merry crowd and they got all the fun out of their trip that it is to be gotten.

The Cross Country hikers returned Friday evening from their two weeks outing, sunburned, footsore and hungry, but they had a jolly time and are glad they went. No a cidents or sickness intervened to mar their pleasure. They pulled stakes early Thursday morning, and got home about 9:00 o'clock Friday night, having rode part of the way. After traveling 10 miles out of Curbin an axle of the wagon broke, and they were picked up by Lawrence Carpenter who kindly transported them to his home, gave them a pigeon breakfast and sent them on their way again in high spirits. The boys were all but fagged out when they got back to town. The youngsters all had the same reply when their mother asked what they wanted to eat. "Anything you got, just so there is plenty of it." It is needless to add that the nice soft bed and comforts of home were never so fully appreciated before as when they tumbled into bed that night.

Deputy Postmaster Sturges has a badly bruised hand obtained in a peculiar way. He dreamed a few nights ago that he was busy at his postoffice desk when a couple of fellows began bothering him with foolish questions and actions. Street Commissioner Salisbury filed a complaint against W. T. Banks Friday charging him with obstructing the sidewalk with boxes, and upon being arraigned before Judge Warren, was fined one dollar and costs. A Correction.

North Platte, July 10, 1911.

Editor Tribune: In your issue of July 7th I am quoted as stating at a recent council meeting, that the title to the Unitarian hall corner was not clear. This is inaccurate. So far as I know the title now held by the Baptist church is good, and it would have good title to the property to be used for church purposes.

This property was deeded to the Unitarian Association to be used for religious purposes and the Unitarian Association can sell to any other church organization who will use the property for religious purposes, but I think it extremely doubtful if the property under the present title can be sold and used for business, or other than religious purposes. Yours respectfully,
J. J. HALLIGAN.

Democratic Convention.

About fifty democrats of the county met in mass convention at the court house Saturday afternoon and selected delegates to the state convention, and elected a chairman and secretary of the county committee. Later the temporary organization was made permanent.

Delegates to the state convention were selected as follows: M. K. Neville, Dr. N. McCabe, Thomas Healey, Wm. Beatty, S. S. Reynolds, J. B. McDonald, J. G. Beeler, T. T. Marcott, and W. B. McNeil.

J. R. White was elected chairman of the county central committee and A. F. Beeler secretary.

Frank Dixon.

Mr. Frank Dixon is a brother of A. C. Dixon of the Moody Church, Chicago, and of Tom Dixon who wrote the "Leopard Spots." These three brothers of this famous family have each achieved in some particular line. A. C. as a preacher, Tom as an author and Frank as a popular lecturer.

Mr. Fred W. Bartell, manager of fourteen Chautauquas says: "No other attraction gave so much universal satisfaction as Mr. Dixon." Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus often referred to as the world's greatest preacher says: "I have followed him with a consciousness that no audience in America can well afford to omit such serious and inspiring studies as he presents."

Mr. Dixon's popular lectures are entitled, "The Man Against the Mass," "The Square Deal," "The Coming American," and "Government Ownership."

He is on the Chautauqua program here and we are promised a treat.
