The Grand Island Independent this week published an account of the elopement of C. E. Pickering of Kearney who for a number of years has been state organizer for the A. O. U. W. lodge and Mrs. Durya wife of a blacksmith of Arcadia, who left her infant child with her parents and met Pickering at Grand Island. Their disappearance at the same time aroused suspicion and upon investigation it was found they had reached Hastings and were in the custody of the police. Pickering had been pursuing his work for the lodge in and around Arcadia for several weeks and his attentions to Mrs. Durya were marked. His wife is a resident of Kearney and refused to believe the story. Pickering is well known among the local Workman having organized several classes here.

Chautauqua Notes.

The big auditorium tent is on the grounds and will be erected today. It is one of the largest used by any Chautauqua.

The management has provided free settees, similar to those used last year, for about 800 people. 300 chairs will be sold at 5 cents for a session. Plank seats will be provided for the remainder of the crowd.

Headquarters tents will be located on the grounds by the Yeomen, Catholic ladies and the Order of Protection. These tents will be rest tents where members and friends will be welcome.

Season tickets are selling as well or better than was expected considering the weather conditions of the season. Last year 600 season tickets were sold but quite a number were purchased during the season. It will be impossible to announce the number until about Friday of next week.

Twenty tents will be erected on the grounds for campers. Of these, 12 have been engaged. The low tents rent for $3 for the week and the high wall tents for $5. We put them up and take them down.

15000 copies of the Chautauqua Herald have been printed and sent out to all of the residents and tax payers of the city and county and many of the surrounding counties. Special agents were sent to Ogalalla, Sutherland, Hershey, Maxwell and Wellfleet and each of these places has been billed and posted.

It is thought that the enrollment at the Junior Normal and Lincoln County Institute will total 200 by the end of next week. The morning sessions will be on the Chautauqua grounds.

The North Platte Band will give concerts on "North Platte Day." Bills are being distributed in Hershey and Sutherland advertising Hershey and Sutherland Day at the North Platte Chautauqua. This is Tuesday, Wednesday is Wallace and Wellfleet Day and Thursday is Maxwell and Brady Day. Each of these places will be represented by good delegations.

The special tent used by Miss Wahl in the children's work is here and up. It is 20x30 feet and is used exclusively by them. Parents should see that the children have this holiday. It is instructive and educational. A child's season ticket is all that is necessary. Cost $1. Children cannot be admitted to this work on an adult ticket.

In calling up the Chautauqua grounds no number is necessary. Call for "Chautauqua." Order chairs saved if you can not get there in time, 5 cents each, place them where you wish.

Purchasers of season tickets must not expect to be admitted if they do not present their ticket at the gate. If you forget your ticket, purchase a twenty-five cent ticket at the ticket office and notify the gate keeper that you expect to present your ticket for a return of your money. When you bring your ticket at a later date present it to Secretary and your twenty-five cents will be returned.

On Saturday, July 22, at the Chautauqua Dr. W. H. Wilson, State Inspector of Nebraska, will speak at 10:30 a. m. on the Public Health question. The meeting will be presided over by Dr. D. T. Quigley of this city and some special music will be provided. The North Platte Public Health Association will distribute over one thousand buttons with the name of the association and a suitable illustration with the motto "Swat the Fly" Season tickets admit to the session without further charge.
