New Bank Opens Tomorrow.

The Platte Valley Bank, North Platte's newest financial institution will open for business tomorrow, the non-arrival of furnishings having delayed the opening for a week. The new institution is handsomely furnished with mahogany counters and desks, one six ton safe for records and a manganese steel time-lock safe for the cash. These furnishings, with the neat papering, painting and floor covering, gives the room an attractive appearance.

The officers and directors of the institution are experienced bankers and business men, conservative in their business transactions and enjoy the confidence of the people.

House Party.

A score of ladies were entertained by Miss Grace Payne Tuesday afternoon in honor of her eight house guests. Card games were played during the afternoon and a delicious lunch served.

The following afternoon a Bridge party was held to which twenty-five ladies responded to invitations. The decorations consisted of red, pink and white roses. Light refreshments were enjoyed after the games.

On Wednesday evening forty-five young ladies and gentlemen were received. Card playing was the principal form of entertainment and continued until midnight when all partook of an elegant spread. Bouquets of pink and white flowers predominated in the decorations and the color scheme was carried out in the place cards and desserts.

Mrs. Cornelia Daw died at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. H. Fletcher in this city Wednesday afternoon of heart trouble, at the age of sixty one years, although she had suffered with the disease for several months her condition of late was such that her death came as a great shock to the relatives. Tuesday evening she attended the Chautauqua meeting and to all appearances was in the best of health but at noon of the following day she was taken violently ill and death followed in the space of a few hours. Mrs. Daw came to this city from Ohio about one year ago to make her home with her daughter. Funeral services were held at the house yesterday morning by Rev. Charles Harman and remains taken to her former home in Zanesville, where her son resides.
