No Change in Strike Conditions.

The second week of the strike is drawing to a close with but little change in conditions, about the only local episodes of this week being the walking out of four apprentices employed in the shops and the return of one car repairer to work. At local strike headquarters it was said that this car repairer is the only man who has returned to work on the Union Pacific system, at least he is the only one reported.

Several carloads of strike-breakers have been taken west this week, but the strikers have failed to learn where the fellows were unloaded. It is probable that quite a large per cent of them desert the company after reaching the point of destination.

Company officials at this terminal claim things are moving satisfactorily and that trains are being moved in good shape. It is noticed, however, that some of the passenger trains arrive more or less late, and this they have been doing ever since the strike began.

Many rumors for a settlement of the strike is heard, but none so far been confirmed. Yesterday there was one to the effect that Mrs. E. H. Harman, who is a heavy investor in Union Pacific stock, had expressed a strong desire to have the strike settled, and that her efforts might prove successful.

Dies of Injuries.

Fred H. Munson, a brakeman who had worked here but a short time, died yesterday morning at two o'clock in the Sidney hospital. Death was caused by injuries received the night previous. Munson left this city on his runs usual and while walking over the cars at Perdue he stumbled. In the fall he caught the grab rod which broke with his weight and he fell to the ground and striking some new steel bounded beneath the wheels. Both limbs were crushed. The injured man was hurried to Sidney and one leg amputated, but he was too weak to survive the shock of the accident and death came as a relief.

The accident occurred at eight o'clock and the crew did not miss Munson until they reached Lodge Pole.

Relatives in Clinton, Iowa, were notified and the Secretary of the Elks Lodge at Clinton notified Secretary Redmond of the local lodge to take charge of the body until further notice. The remains were brought here yesterday afternoon.

DIXON, The Jeweler.

The card party and dance given in the Masonic hall last evening by the Knights of Columbus was one of the most brilliant and successful social affairs of the fall season. Twelve tables were used in card games in the reception rooms while thirty couples of young people were assembled in the dance hall. Stamp's orchestra furnished music for the dance which continued until after midnight. In the card playing the highest scores were made by Mrs. James Hart and Charles Martini, Sr., to the former was presented a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses and to the latter was presented a box of cigars. At intermission the knights served dainty refreshments. The most amusing feature of the evening was the rival auction between James Keefe and Louis Tobin. To W. J. Landgraf, George Tekulve, Charles Pass and others of the entertainment committee is due the credit of this enjoyable fete.

This year "McFadden's Flats" is destined to enjoy the most prosperous year it has ever had. The enduring farce which has been rewritten, reconstructed and rejuvenated and will be presented for the first time in its new form at the Keith theatre tomorrow evening. There are numerous features made up of bright and original ideas and the many infusions and changes made it necessary to add a new equipment of scenery. Up-to-date tuneful music dominates and numerous cleverly thought-out ensemble arrangements and specialties that serve to introduce a bevy of spirited young ladies, elaborately costumed, form one of the chief features.

DIXON, The Jeweler.

The funeral of the late Geo. Babbitt was held from the home of his daughter Mrs. Will Hupfer Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Harman and the Lutheran choir sang several hymns. Many friends evidenced their regard for the departed man by attending the services and sending beautiful flowers. The G. A. R. attended in a body and fired over the grave of their old comrade. Interment was made in the North Platte cemetery.

Judge Grimes did a sensible and humane thing when he permitted that man Louis Jensen to plead guilty to murder in the first degree and saved the state the expense of a trial in court. In many instances where the guilt of the accused was beyond question, the courts have denied the accused the right to plead guilty, in order that they might have a fair and impartial trial and the lawyers be given a chance to earn an honest living while enormous costs were piling up against the great common people. If an accused man is innocent, he might possibly plead guilty to save attorney's fees, but it is safe to take his word for it, and let justice be done and the matter set at rest at the earliest possible moment.—Bixby in the State Journal.
