Smart Clothes for Young Men.

I am showing some very smart and snappy suits for young in all the late fall models—styled in an inimitable way—and made from the very best fabrics.

I have just opened up my store and my goods are all new, fresh from the factory. No old shelf-worn goods in my store but everything new and strictly up-to-date.

I want you to make my store a visit. Come in and look around whether you want to buy or not. It is a pleasure for us to show goods.

Eventful Day for Jack Morrow Flats. Send Us Your Shipments of Grain and Hay

A district Sunday school convention of Lincoln county was held with the Pleasant View Sunday school on Nov. 19th with representatives present from different Sunday schools, taxing the capacity of the large school house to its utmost, and standing room was at a premium.

The convention opened at 10:00 A. M. and closed at 10:00 P. M. commencing by a song and prayer service conducted by Rev. McAbee, of Brady, and the discussions of the various topics as follows: "The Necessity of Being on Time," led by Dr. Kearns with others following. Then the question, "How to Increase the Attendance," which was led by Rev. McAbee with others following in the discussion. Mr. Scott then spoke on the missionary work of the county.

This is a day to be remembered by all who attended the convention. All had brought their dinners which at 12:30 was spread, covering every desk and seat in the school house with the best things you can imagine to eat. Every person within a radius of 5 miles had come loaded with good things to spread before their friends at this time. The dinner was served by the ladies of the community and thru their thoughtfulness, hot coffee was provided for all. When they began to clear up the re-appear more than 12 baskets were left.

At 1:30 P. M. the convention convened with Mrs. Wm. Pell conducting the song and prayer service. Following this was an address by M. E. Crosby, of North Platte, "What and How to Teach," which was very ably discussed. Following this was a talk by the president on the county work.

Then came one of the most interesting parts of the convention which was the roll call of the Sunday schools represented and a report from each, and the entire afternoon was filled with short spicy addresses from the convention at large and at 4:00 P. M. adjournment was taken until 7:30.

The evening session opened with song and prayer service led by Robert Patterson, the Superintendent of the Pleasant View Sunday school, after which J. H. Van Cleave of North Platte most elegantly discussed the temperance question.

The closing topic for discussion was "The Winning of the Scholar for Christ," which was ably discussed by Dr. Kearns.

The day's service was a treat to all who attended both young and old. Everything went off like clock work and each one was congratulating the other on being present.

If there is any other locality in Lincoln county that can do the Jack Morrow Flats in entertaining, in a service of this kind they have an opportunity to demonstrate it as they certainly did themselves proud in every respect. The visitors were taken care of and provided with every convenience as well as being fed sumptuously.

A series of district conventions are being held over the county, the first one being held at Brady Island, this being the second convention, and the locality securing one of these district conventions will certainly receive great benefit and inspiration in Sunday school and Christian work.

The convention was presided over by J. H. Edmisten, its president with Rev. McAbee participating as its secretary and treasurer. Announcements for the next convention will be given out in a few days.

The Methodist Brotherhood had a very delightful meeting at the home of J. G. Beeler on Tuesday night. The discussion of the evening was along the line of active church work. Almost every one present took some part in the program of the session. After debating the question for some time the committee on constitution reported and with one or two minor changes the constitution was adopted. The next meeting will be held at the church on Tuesday evening, December 5th. All the men are invited to be present. No doubt but there will be a live program ready for discussion. The Brotherhood movement is one of importance among the several churches and is indicative of renewed activity.
