A so-called correspondent writing from Osgood precinct to The Telegraph prefers two very damaging (?) charges against the candidacy of W. V. Hoagland. One is that his brother A. B. Hoagland has been nominated for councilman from the Second ward of North Platte; the other that every time Mr. Hoagland leaves North Platte the papers make mention of it. Mr. Hoagland is not his brother's guardian, and is not responsible for his name appearing in the local columns of the city papers. The correspondent uses mighty weak powder in his charge.

In a bulletin issued the latter part of last week, Supt. Tout says: "The Grammar school debating league starts with 129 members. This is a fine start and promises that we will do some good work in this line. As far as I know it is the only debating league of the kind in the state. The question selected for the final debate between the schools is: Resolved, That the Electric Light is of more Use to Us than the Telephone. These debates should be held not later than Friday, May 3rd." Supt. Tout says the greatest drawback to interests like this is that of procrastination—the work is put off so long that in the final preparation the pupils find the time too short.
