Appropriates Money.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met last evening and appropriated $225 for band concerts during the summer season and $500 for a Fourth of July celebration. This is about one-half the sum needed for each of these purposes, but the board concluded that if one-half of the necessary sums were donated by the members of the publicity fund, the citizens at large should contribute the other half. There are ninety men who have contributed to the publicity fund; if these ninety pay half the expenses, the other one thousand men in town should be sufficiently public spirited to make up an amount equal to that given by the ninety. Band concerts and Fourth of July celebrations are pleasurable and interesting to all, and all should be willing to contribute. The average business man reaps no pecuniary benefit from band concerts or celebrations, why should they put up all the money?

Junior Normal Opens.

The Junior Normal opened yesterday morning with an attendance of one hundred and twelve, and during the day this number was increased to one hundred and twenty. Today there were other arrivals, and it is expected that new names will be added each day for the next ten days. These students come from this and adjoining counties, one young lady coming from her home one hundred miles north.

Following is the faculty for the session: Supt. Wilson Tout, principal of the Junior Normal; Miss Cleo Chappell, registrar of the Junior Normal and conductor of the institute; Supt. L. A. Quivey, of Cozad, arithmetic, etc.; Supt. D. F. Dickerson, of Lexington, penmanship and drawing; Supt. W. H. Coleman, of Ogalalla, geometry and geography; Supt. A. H. Nichols, of Elm Creek, grammar and algebra; G. W. Williams, of Lincoln, history and civics; Miss Maude Molleneaux, of North Platte, primary work and reading and Mrs. Cramer, of North Platte, music.

Among the features of the week that will interest the students are the graduation exercises of the Lincoln county eighth grade students at the Keith Wednesday afternoon, the address on agriculture by Prof. Gamlich of the university school of agriculture at the high school building Thursday afternoon and the entertainment by Prof. Knox at the Keith Thursday evening.

Last evening a very successful and pleasant reception was tendered the Junior Normal students at Odd Fellows' hall. The attendance was large, fully 100 students being present in addition to nearly as many town people. A musical program was rendered, and later a receiving line was formed in which were Supt. Tout, Supt. Chappell, Mayor Patterson and members of the Junior Normal faculty. Following this feature punch and wafers were served in the dining hall, the bowls being presided over by a dozen well known young ladies. A half hour or more was then spent in "getting acquainted."

The funeral will be held today from the Maloney undertaking room and interment made in the North Platte cemetery. A Greek priest from Omaha will conduct the services.

Arranging for Fourth.

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration, have held several meetings during the past week, and have the preliminary arrangements well in hand. Sub-committees will be appointed to look after the various phases of the celebration and nothing will be left undone to make the day a very interesting and pleasurable one. As soon as the program is completed, it will be published, in the meantime residents of the county should make their arrangements to come to North Platte to celebrate the Fourth. They will certainly have a big day.

If the crop is not insured against hail, see Bratt & Goodman. Don't put this off until too late.

Medical Society Meets.

The Lincoln County Medical Society met at Dr. A. J. Ames' office Thursday evening, May 30, and the following resolutions were made: Resolved, that we, the members of Lincoln County Medical Society in regular meeting convened, do hereby express our profound sorrow and lament the loss which our society has sustained in the death of our highly esteemed fellow member and president, Dr. Fifield H. Edwards-Banks Wedding.

The Kearney Hub of yesterday gave the following account of the wedding of Miss Bertha Banks of this city:

At high noon Sunday, June 2, at the home of Prof. and Mrs. O. W. Neale, Twenty-ninth and Central avenue, occurred the wedding of Miss Bertha Banks of North Platte to Mr. Norman Edwards of Brady Island.

At the appointed time Mr. Neale escorted the bride into the parlor where the groom and E. M. Johnson, the officiating clergyman, awaited them. In a short ceremony the vows were made and congratulations were in order.

The five course luncheon, prepared and served in Mrs. Neal's inimitable way, to which the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Neale were seated, was such as would delight the taste of the most fastidious. An hour was most pleasantly spent over the delicious dishes, spiced with joy of the day.

Miss Banks, a niece of Mrs. Neale, is one of Nebraska's successful school teachers. The past year she was principal of one of the Lexington schools. Mr. Edwards is a prosperous druggist at Brady Island.
