Playing Cards For a Treaty.

Years ago I was in America and went down with the English minister in the United States to a small inn in Virginia where we were to meet Mr. Marcy, the then United States secretary of state, and a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States was to be quietly discussed. Mr. Marcy, the most genial of men, was as cross as a bear. He would agree to nothing. "What on earth is the matter with your chief?" I said to a secretary who accompanied him. "He does not have his rubber of whist," answered the secretary. After this every night the minister and I played at whist with Mr. Marcy and his secretary, and every night we lost. The stakes were very trifling, but Mr. Marcy felt flattered by beating the Britishers at what he called their own game. His good humor returned, and every morning when the details of the treaty were being discussed we had our revenge and scored a few points for Canada.—Henry Labouchere in London Truth, April 12, 1877.

Cost of Floral Decorations.

Millions of dollars are spent on floral decorations in America every year. It is said that the amount spent for decorative purposes each year is sufficient to build three battleships and place them in commission. It is considered nothing unusual for $1,000 to be charged by florists for decorating a banquet hall, while as much as $15,000 has been paid for home decorations. The decorator has to go through a hard and long school of experience before he is able to command the salary of an expert, for the materials at his command are of a fragile nature, and it is next to impossible to experiment with them. Certain set forms are known and prescribed for certain occasions, but when a carte blanche order is given then the art of the decorator comes into play, and his artistic sense is well tested, for it depends upon him to please his patrons in an artistic way, and also by the wonderful blending of his flowers. —New York Sun.

Certain brands of our cigars have been on the market for twenty-five years—if they were not good, smokers would have declined years ago to buy them.
