Announcement

I herewith announce my candidacy for county commissioner on the republican ticket and ask the support of all citizens and pledge to conduct the county affairs in an economical and business way if elected.
IRA L. MILTONBERGER.

State Convention Today.

The republican state convention will meet at Lincoln today. Taft and Roosevelt supporters will have a fight that is worthy the name. Two hundred and fifty delegates have been contested and still more will be subject to protest on the ground of their not being eligible to sit in a republican convention. All efforts to harmonize the two factions have proven futile, and word from Lincoln is to the effect that both the regulars and the insurgents are proceeding on the theory that there will be two conventions and that the right to use the party name will be eventually brought before the court of adjudication.

Hadley or Norris—Which?

Governor Hadley of Missouri made a speech at an Illinois Chautauqua Tuesday on "republican round-up day," and told five thousand people why he had chosen to remain "regular" and support Taft for president. Hadley was the Taft leader at Chicago and had been consistently progressive from the beginning of the movement. He did all that he could, honorably, to secure Roosevelt's nomination. He declares however, that there were no unfair methods employed to secure Taft's nomination, as alleged by Roosevelt and the bolters. Surely there is as much reason to believe Hadley as there is to ruly down the barefaced assertion of George W. Norris that Roosevelt was the "legal nominee." As a matter of fact Governor Hadley has set a good example to a large number of frenzied backers of the Roosevelt boom that they could have followed with honor and profit and peace to their souls.—Kearney Hub.

Some Railroad Figures.

During the year ending June 30, 1911 the railroads of this county transported nearly one billion people—to be exact 997,469,882. This was an increase of 25,726,683 over the preceding year. The average receipts per passenger for each mile traveled was a trifle over 1 cent. The number of tons of freight handled was 1,781,637,954, a decrease from the previous year of 68,262,147 tons. The average receipts per mile for each ton handled was a fraction over 1 cent.

During the year 246,124.4 miles of line were operated, the total mileage of all tracks being 382,710.18 miles. The roads employed 61,327 locomotives and 2,369,335 cars, a considerable increase in equipment.

The total number of persons on the pay rolls of the steam roads was 1,669,809, a decrease of 29,161 as compared with the previous year.

Theodore Roosevelt least of all has warrant for protesting against the action of the republican national convention. That body was created in much the same way, and the national committee acted under identically the same rules, that were good enough for President Roosevelt when he was nominated in 1904, and for his own purpose again in 1908 when he used the entire organization and power of the party to nominate William H. Taft. If that system was an unwise one it suited the Roosevelt purpose until it was turned against him. The thing then to do is to change the system, and make it more thoroughly representative for 1916, instead of using it without protest in 1908 and condemning it for a personal reason in 1912. In his own time President Roosevelt found a pretty good political machine and developed it to a high state of perfection. He used it for himself. Also for Mr. Taft. And when he went out of office he still there, ready to be used for Taft again in 1912, in fairness and justice as against Roosevelt's demand for a nomination for a third term.—Kearney Hub.

Kansas City Journal: Governor Deneen of Illinois is one of the strong republican leaders whose support gave stability and potency to the Roosevelt candidacy. While Roosevelt was a republican and was making his fight within the party that had so highly honored him, Governor Deneen was his faithful ally. But when Roosevelt deserted he forfeited all claim to the support of republicans, and Deneen, following the example of Hadley, refused to quit the party. He has believed in and fought for so long to follow the fortunes of an ambitious bolter. As he is a candidate for reelection, Mr. Deneen may seem to have taken a heroic course in this matter, in as much as his state sent an enthusiastic Roosevelt delegation to the Chicago convention; but the governor is an astute politician and it is quite probable that he found his chances of victory would be much better as a republican than as a bull moose.

Press dispatches from Utah state that "Theodore Roosevelt is the head of a new party born in Utah," and that the resolutions passed "expressed sorrow at leaving the republican party." The Utah bull mooses do not longer consider themselves republicans, they have left the party—bag and baggage. In Utah the deserters are honest, they do not as in other states, claim to be republicans.

That water does not exist at a depth of 200 or more feet in all sections of the city, has been demonstrated by the city water department. A well 286 feet and ten inches deep has just been drilled and then abandoned for the reason that after reaching a depth of about fifty feet no water was encountered. This is evidence that the water bearing stratas do not lay together. The experience of the city is similar to that of the Union Pacific company.

Right of Way Law Against Union Pacific.

Atty. W. A. Prince of Grand Island, one of the leading lawyers employed in the fight against the Union Pacific claim of four hundred feet as a right of way, has announced the passage by congress and approval by the president of a bill restricting the railroad's claim to a good deal less than it assumed it owned.

"The effect of the bill," says Mr. Prince, is apparent and may be summarized as follows.

1. In all cases where the Union Pacific conveyed the land by deed, the purchaser will hold title to the land up to the distance of fifty feet of the center of the right of way unless otherwise specified in the deed.
2. In the case of homesteaders where the owner of the property has been in possession for ten years or more he will hold title to within fifty feet of the center of the right of way.
3. In all cases where it can be shown by the evidence that the railroad has abandoned the property for railroad purposes and people have acquired title either by deed from the company or adverse possession, they have an absolute fee simple title in the property to within fifty feet of the center of the right of way.

"In other words," said Mr. Prince in speaking of the bill, "the general effect is to narrow the right of way to fifty feet on each side of the center of the main line in all cases where the parties have a valid claim to the property up to that line. And I might further say, in reference to this bill as it was finally passed and signed by President Taft, that it granted to the settlers more than they asked for in their original bill."
