Announcement

I herewith announce my candidacy for county commissioner on the republican ticket and ask the support of all citizens and pledge to conduct the county affairs in an economical and business way if elected.
 IRA L. MILTONBERGER.

In the electrocution of seven men at Sing Sing prison Monday morning the majesty of the law was vindicated, and yet the thought of it is revolting. In the course of a few more years we will become more "civilized" and abolish capital punishment.

The veterans dependent upon pensions, who are feeling the pinch of poverty because the pension office is "broke," are not alone in their dilemma. Practically all the regulars at army posts in the United States have received no pay since June 1. This extraordinary situation was caused by the delay in passing the general deficiency bill. It is probable that this deficiency bill and the regular civil appropriation bill will pass within the next week.

Mr. Bryan made a grave mistake four years ago in selecting Governor Haskell of Oklahoma as treasurer of the democratic national committee. The governor proved to have had a Wall Street record which Hearst exposed and Roosevelt denounced in a series of statements from the White House. Yet there is Geo. W. Perkins of Wall Street, trust promoter and formerly a partner of the banking house of Morgan, which raked in a $60,000,000 fee for organizing the Steel trust on a rascally fictitious capitalization—here is George becoming the financial manager of the Roosevelt third-term campaign.

By a narrow margin of five votes Tuesday the house passed the wool tariff revision bill over the president's veto. The vote, 174 to 80, was made possible only by the defection of twenty-one republicans, who voted with the democrats. The announcement of democratic success created a wild scene in the house, and amid great confusion the republican leaders protested that Speaker Clark must count as voting ten members who answered "present" to their names, a ruling which would have defeated the democratic program by overcoming the five-vote margin and making impossible the recording of the necessary two-thirds vote of the house. This the speaker declined to do.

In giving his recollections of the Greeley movement the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: "Now and then it is an advantage to get the backward look in our politics. The Greeley campaign of 1872 will recall how many hitherto important republican leaders then left their party because of the scandals that had grown up during the administration of General Grant. Foremost leaders in reform work throughout the country declared against the administration. The newspapers of that time were filled with repudiations of the republican party. Much more than now it seemed as if the dominant party were condemned by popular opinion to death beyond resurrection. The story of that which followed is history. The mass of republicans declined to leave their longtime moorings when election day came around, and the country gave to the G. O. P. its renewed lease of life. The noise and political shouting died down and the old political lines remained in force."

The World-Herald, which in this instance is disinterested witness believes the strength of the Roosevelt sentiment in the west is overestimated. It takes the case of Kansas and says: Kansas is supposed to be a very hotbed of Roosevelt progressivism. It is the home of Bristow and Murdock and William Allen White and Stubbs. It was strident in its support of Roosevelt in the republican national convention. And yet, at the primaries the other day on a clean cut issue and with a large vote polled, Senator Curtis, a stalwart and unyielding standpatter, denounced as such on every hand, polled several thousand more votes for re-election than were cast for his opponent Governor Walter Roscoe Stubbs! True, Stubbs appears to have captured the nomination, since according to the Kansas law the nomination is determined by legislative districts. But Curtis, defiant reactionary, who even voted, in the last congress, against expelling Lorimer from the senate—Curtis polled several thousand more popular votes than Stubbs! And Stubbs is the peerless red-headed darling of Kansas radicalism. If a mossbacked conservative like Curtis can poll more votes in Kansas than a militant radical leader like Stubbs, who is going to say that Roosevelt is so much stronger than Taft?

Roosevelt says it may take fifty years to carry out the plans he has in mind; and the Colonel is probably sorry he cannot live long enough to be the only boss of the job.

Eighteen head of steers averaging 1,657 pounds, sold in the South Omaha market Tuesday for $10.35. When a steer sells for $160, what is "T" bone steak worth per pound; and how many of us can really afford to buy a choice steak or roast?

Roosevelt denies the story emanating from Omaha to the effect that to win the support of Governor Aldrich of Nebraska he had promised the governor a federal judgeship in the event of his election to the presidency. Colonel Roosevelt said he had never heard of this until he saw the dispatch in the newspaper.

George W. Perkins is one of the elect who stand at Arahgeddom and battle for the Bull Moose and the Lord. Officially he is keeper of the dough bag, for the hosts of reform cannot subsist upon hysteria. Incidentally it may be observed that Mr. Perkins by unanimous vote the third term delegates from New York was elected a member of the Progressive national committee. He therefore will be close to the fountain of financial distribution. Mr. Perkins is a careful business man. While others do the shouting he will keep an eye on the dough bag. For heavy responsibilities rest upon him. He has to "deliver the goods" in behalf of a number of great philanthropic institutions whose direct representative he is.—Kansas City Journal.

Auto Kill Passenger Business. Omaha World-Herald: Automobiles are becoming the bane of the passenger departments of Nebraska railroads, and the same condition is said to exist in all other states. Local officials admit that "business is rotten" and lay the blame at the feet of the autos.

So serious has the situation become that the Burlington railroad went to trouble of corresponding with the secretary of state of Nebraska to get data on the automobile question. It was found that there are over 30,000 automobile numbers registered in Nebraska, some of which are dead numbers and some motorcycles, leaving over 25,000 autos actually in service. This is one machine to every forty-eight citizens in the state.

"People are now taking auto tours on their vacation," said a Burlington passenger official yesterday, "instead of patronizing the railroads. What is more the citizens desiring to go from one town to another, or business men living out of town invariably use their cars instead of ours. The loss to the railroads is tremendous—greater than anyone would imagine."

Big Rally at McPherson. The Sunday school rally or convention held at the Fort McPherson school house last Sunday was one of the best of the several recently held in the county. Five schools were represented, in addition to many visitors and Sunday school workers, and the addresses and discussions were very helpful and interesting. The interest evinced by those present showed that the work of the Sunday school is dear to them.

The schools represented certainly did themselves proud in entertaining the big crowd and furnishing them with a dinner that was fit for a king.

Fire! Fire! Fire! What would this cry mean to you if it should happen to be your property? Would it mean not considerable loss by only being partly protected by having sufficient insurance or by having insurance that you could not rely upon, or would you feel absolutely safe by having one of Temple's policies stored away in a safety deposit box. If the former, or worst still, if you have no insurance, see me at once for phone Red 500 and I will call on you.

A Merchant of Brady came into our store the other day and purchased 2,000 cigars for his trade. Though he is a new customer, it didn't require any talking to sell him the goods; he knew the name of J. F. Schmalzried on a cigar box means quality; a well made cigar from the best brands of tobacco. Certain brands of our cigars have been on the market for twenty-five years—if they were not good smokers would have declined years ago to buy them. They have been tested by critical smokers and not found wanting in any particular.

Baled Hay Most Profitable
 WHETHER you feed your hay or sell it, you profit most by baling it. Baled hay may be shipped where the price is highest. It takes up only one-fifth of the storage space required by loose hay. It retains its feeding value longer, and is easier to handle. These advantages more than offset the cost of baling, which is very small when done by an

International Hay Press Motor or Horse-Driven
 The International motor press is a combination of two machines in one, a hay press and a portable IHC engine for which you will find many other uses. The hay press works on the powerful toggle-joint principle, the power being applied through a pull, not a push. An adjustable bale tension assures bales of uniform weight. A roller tucker folds the loose ends of each charge well down into the bale, keeping it smooth and neat. The bale chamber is so low that bales can be tied by reaching over the machine.
 The IHC pull-power press, made in one and two-horse sizes, is a similar press with a bed reach and horse power mechanism in place of the IHC engine. The ranch is only four inches high, making it easy for the horses to step over. The horses are pulling no load when they cross the reach.
 A self feeder is made for both the motor and horse-driven presses. Bale chambers are 14x18", 16x18" and 17x22" in size. See the IHC local dealer and have him show you all about IHC hay presses. Get catalogues and full information from him, or write us.

Women!
 If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

Mrs. Lula Walden, of Gramlin, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.
