Kirschbaum Clothes
ALL WOOL
HAND-TAILED

Copyright, 1912, A. B. Kirschbaum Co.

These are the widely advertised Kirschbaum specials. They are the greatest suit values in America at $15, $20 and $25. The fabrics are absolutely all-wool, and of a quality of weave that is not duplicated in any other clothes at the same prices.

Even the $15 suits are thoroughly hand-tailored; and trimmed and finished in a way that will surprise the man who has been wearing the average fifteen dollar clothes.

The range of prices give you the choice of every desirable model of the season, in all of the beautiful new shades and pattern effects. At $25 you have your pick of the finest fabrics made by the best mills in America.

Kirschbaum tailor work is famous the country over; the Kirschbaum factory is the model clothes factory of this country, if not of the world.

It is a fine thing for us to be able to offer you these superb suits; and a finer thing for you to be able to buy them at $15, $20 and $25

—just the same prices as you would be asked to pay anywhere for the nondescript sort of clothes flooding the market this fall.

It's not a question, either, of taking our say-so for these splendid clothes. We give the Guaranty of the maker with every suit, which insures the return of your money if you are dissatisfied with your purchase.

WEINGAND,
THE QUALITY PLACE.

"Officer 666"

"Officer 666," that comedy of risible tricks and many mysterious moments woven around the life of a more or less distinguished picture thief, who, in the play, has chosen a select New York neighborhood in upper Fifth avenue as his base of operations, will be the attraction at the Keith theatre next Monday evening.

"Officer 666" is another Cohan & Harris. In fact, it may be said to be the biggest success in a long list of successful plays produced by this progressive firm during the past eight years, in none of which has the atmospheric strata of merriment been displaced with such a deftening detonation of laughter as is the tribute paid to this Augustin MacHugh farce, with its plot of mystery woven in a story that is full of thrills, heart throbs and fun.

City Schools Open.

The city schools opened yesterday with apparently a record-breaking attendance, though the exact number outside the high school has not yet been obtained by Supt. Tout. The enrollment in the high school proper yesterday was 220, which is twenty-nine more than the seating capacity. In the Washington building, the east end building and the lower grades of the Central building the attendance at the opening was such as to overcrowd all the rooms, while at the Lincoln building on the north side the attendance was just about what the maximum number should be.

The attendance has been increased from sixty to seventy-five by reason of the closing of the parochial school, this increase being largely in the lower grades.

Enrollment in the high school was made last week, and an hour after the gong sounded at 9:30 yesterday morning, the work was running along as smoothly as though the work had been in progress for a month.

Supt. Tout was highly elated last evening over the splendid start the schools had made on the opening day.

Accidents of Yesterday.

Carl Broeder brought his son to town last evening to have an ugly wound dressed. The boy was driving a hay rake on the Broeder farm southwest of town when the team ran away and he was thrown under the rake. One of the teeth caught his leg and made a deep gash several inches long. He received other bruises.

The young son of a man named Van-Natta, who unloads coal at the Iddings yard, fell from a car last evening and sustained several severe cuts on the hands and wrists. The little fellow was taken to a physician and had the wounds dressed.

Mrs. Simants Killed.

Mrs. Anna Baggott Simants who had been employed in Lewellen for two months past was accidentally killed Saturday evening. With a party of friends she was riding on a speeder between Lewellen and Lisco when a large cat ran across the track was caught in the wheels and tipped the speeder throwing the occupants several feet and injuring them. Mrs. Simants was rendered unconscious and her injuries pronounced serious. Her parents who reside here were notified and reached her bed side shortly before she died. The remains were brought down last evening on the branch train.

Anna Baggott would be twenty-three years of age Sept. 12th. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baggott who survive her. Her other relatives left are brother Thomas, sisters Mrs. Mary Wilson, Emma and Grace Baggott. She was married six years ago to George Simants and resided here the greater part of her life.

The funeral will be held from the residence this afternoon.

Would Repair South Side Ditch.

The irrigation committee of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last evening and decided to have Engineer Willis, of Bridgeport, come here, go over the south side ditch and submit an estimate of the cost of putting the ditch in an operative condition. The actual acreage of land under the ditch will also be ascertained, and when such information is ascertained it will be presented to the land owners under the ditch at a meeting to be called for that purpose. With this information at hand, the land owners will be asked to decide whether they desire to form a district and vote bonds to repair the ditch and place it in successful operation.

The south side ditch when in operation was the largest irrigation enterprise in the county; it not only covered the greatest area of land but it is generally conceded that the south side bench land which it covers is superior to the bottom land of the valley.

It is hoped that the owners of land under the ditch will feel sufficiently interested to at least carefully investigate the proposition of rehabilitating the ditch.

To Fight Horse Disease.

Today's Omaha Bee says: Extreme measures looking toward checking meningitis, which has become epidemic and fatal to thousands of horses in Nebraska and Kansas, will be taken by the department of animal husbandry of Washington.

Responding to Governor Aldrich's appeal, sent to the department Saturday, an answer came yesterday announcing that Thursday of this week five federal veterinary experts would meet in Lincoln to map out a campaign of combat against the meningitis germ.

Before the end of the week it is hoped that the forces will be thoroughly organized to carry the fight to every county in Nebraska, even to the extent of employing precautionary measures in those sections where the disease has not yet appeared.

A National bank must operate under STRONG RESTRICTIONS for safety, laid down by the Government at Washington. Before the U. S.
