

"I Have Been Advised to Buy My Diamonds at DIXONS."

This was the statement of a gentleman who purchased a hundred and twenty-five dollar diamond on Thursday of last week. He came to us because he said he knew nothing about a diamond himself but did know of our reliability. It took less than twenty minutes to make the sale and our new customer went away not only delighted but perfectly secure that he had gotten the fullest value possible.

As a matter of fact it was not only the protection against poor value the customer received here, but we doubt if he could have purchased the same diamond elsewhere for anywhere near the same price. We buy our diamonds direct from the cutters thus getting the very lowest prices obtainable. We want every sale to make new friends and new confidence for us. Under no circumstances will any one purchase a diamond without knowing absolutely the truth about it. Whether it is a $10 diamond or a $500 one you can depend on our diamond stock and our reliability to give you perfect satisfaction. We invite you to inspect our superb stock of loose and mounted diamonds. Remembering we do our own diamond mounting in our own shop.

Harrington Wants to be Congressman.
The Denver Times Sunday contained a full page write-up and a large portrait of our former citizen M. C. Harrington, who is a candidate for the democratic nomination for congressman in the First Colorado district. The primary election will be held today, and here's hoping that Mike will win.

Makes Appearance in this County.
Spinal meningitis, which has caused the death of so many horses in western Kansas and south western Nebraska, has made its appearance in Lincoln county, Wm. Ebricht living south-west of town having lost two head and one is sick on the Fred Payne place. Steps were taken yesterday to notify the state veterinarian at Lincoln, and the county commissioners will probably take some measure toward establishing a quarantine.

Sturges Breaks Ribs.
Under the new postoffice law reducing labor in the local office Deputy Postmaster Sturges was enabled to observe Sunday as a day of rest and recreation, the first Sunday to be so observed in several years. Freedom from work brought out the exuberance of his pent up spirit and in his friskiness he fell and fractured a couple of ribs. Sturges now threatens to get out an injunction against the government restraining it from granting him a holiday on Sunday on the grounds that it is detrimental to his health.

Westgard Arrives in Town.
The "Pathfinder" car in charge of A. L. Westgard traveling eastward on the "Overland Trail" stopped in our city Sunday. Mr. Westgard was well pleased with road conditions and was making good time through this locality. He however criticized the officers of the local association in permitting the promiscuous use of road markers claiming that our city resembled a "Mystic Maze" to the traveler and requested that they mark the official route with larger and more distinguishing markers. Mr. Westgard expects to arrive in New York late in September, preparatory to starting west again on the third leg of the triple transcontinental tour arranged earlier in the year.

Have You Seen the Season's Newest Coat Fashions?
An Interesting and Comprehensive Gathering of them Awaits You at This Store.

You have rarely, if ever before, had offered to you in this city such a complete assemblage of new Fall Coats; nor have you ever seen such effective styles and such altogether charming models as we now offer for your selection.

Of course, it isn't our fault that the season's coat styles are so becoming and so fascinating; that is due to the Fashion-creators and designers. But we do take credit to ourselves for having assembled here the handsomest and best of the season's fashions and for having excluded from our assortments the style-impostors which falsely claim authority and correctness.

You will find this collection of the new Fall Coats to be one of the most interesting you have ever had the pleasure of viewing. And our remarkable prices will certainly win your favor!
