Twelve of the fifteen houses on the Burlington right-of-way offered for sale by O. E. Elder were sold within twenty-four hours. The prices ranged from $300 to $950. All told the Burlington owned twenty-one houses. The houses sold are to be removed before April 1st, 1913, so that the Burlington will not need to pay taxes on them.

Roy Spurrier, who has charge of the Union Pacific tree plantation east of town, is displaying in Huffman's cigar store window two large tobacco plants which he grew this season. He has grown about one hundred of these just as an experiment. Tobacco has been grown before in this section, J. H. Hershey having a number of years ago brought in a number of leaves and had J. F. Schmalzried make them into cigars. The cigars, however, were somewhat rank in taste.

New School Building Needed.

North Platte taxpayers might as well make up their minds now as later to vote bonds for another school building. With thirteen hundred children of school age in the city, and the number increasing at such a rate as to preclude any suggestion of race suicide, the present accommodations are inadequate to accommodate all. Yesterday it was necessary to transfer the First ward eighth grade from the central building to the west end building, where they will be accommodated by a division of the large room. This will somewhat relieve the congested condition at the central building, but before the beginning of another school year a new building must be provided. This building will be erected on the block in the east end recently purchased by the board, and will necessarily need be as large, if not larger, than the Washington and Lincoln buildings erected in 1911.

Star Route to be Abandoned.

Effective yesterday the star route from this city that has for so many years supplied the Gandy people with their daily mail was abandoned between Myrtle and Gandy, and the mail for the latter place will be carried over the railroad that now runs within long firing distance of that village.

Effective one month from yesterday, or on October 16th, the mail between North Platte and Myrtle will be discontinued and the Myrtle people will be served by a route that will reach them from Arnold, a town on the new road east of Gandy.

Little by little North Platte loses those things which tend to keep her in touch with the people who really live within the North Platte trade zone.

Move for Permanent Chautauqua Site.

The committee of ten citizens appointed to consider the proposition submitted by Isaac Selby in which he offered to sell about twelve acres of land south of the city as a permanent site for a Chautauqua ground and athletic field for the sum of four thousand dollars, held a meeting at the public library Friday evening and discussed the proposition fully but took no definite action. The plan proposed at this meeting was to incorporate an association, sell one hundred shares of stock at $100 per share, or 200 shares at $50, and with the proceeds purchase the land, erect a permanent building suitable for Chautauqua sessions and similar gatherings, excavate a lake, plant trees and make other improvements that would in the end meet the demands for a park as well as Chautauqua grounds and athletic field.

It strikes The Tribune that the proposition as thus outlined is a good one, and the publisher can be counted on as one of one hundred to furnish the necessary funds. The Chautauqua has come to stay, and the sooner permanent grounds be secured and the proper building erected the better. A well equipped athletic field is also something needed; the school boy of today is a strenuous fellow, he needs a proper place at which to expend that pent-up physical force—he can't do it by chopping wood, because we do not live in wooded country. And then, too, we need a recreation park; we made a great mistake twenty-five years ago by not then providing one; let us now correct that mistake by making the start.

There are 100 men in North Platte who can afford to donate $100 each for the good the Chautauqua brings, the benefit the boys would derive from a well equipped athletic field and the pleasure a park would bring to the people ten or twenty years hence. Boost the proposition along.
