Announcement

I herewith announce my candidacy for county commissioner on the republican ticket and ask the support of all citizens and pledge to conduct the county affairs in an economical and business way if elected. IRA L. MILTONBERGER.

The capita distribution of automobiles in Nebraska is one for every forty-five persons, and this state is only equaled by South Dakota, where the distribution is the same. This distribution holds good in North Platte, the number of cars exceeding one hundred. From July 1, 1911, to July 1, 1912, the manufacturers of this country produced 252,569 cars of all classes. The average price of each car was $1,089.30.

The republican party wreckers, more familiarly known as the bull moosers, held a meeting in Kearney Saturday and nominated F. L. Armstrong, of Elm Creek, as a candidate for congress in opposition to Congressman Kinkaid. While this is not likely to result in the defeat of Judge Kinkaid, it is evidence that the only purpose of the so-called progressives is to divide the vote and elect the democratic nominee, for no sane man believes that Armstrong stands a ghost of a show of election.

That drastic action will be taken by the republican national committee at its meeting in Chicago Wednesday to oust from membership men with leaning toward Colonel Roosevelt, has been announced by William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the national advisory committee. "Every member of the committee," said Mr. Barnes, "will be required to declare himself for the republican national ticket and every one who fails to do so will be expelled from the committee."

The refusal of congress to agree to the workmen's compensation bill, pushed by the administration, has made President Taft determined to apply the bill's principles in the Panama canal zone, where his authority does not need the further sanction of congress. Under the Panama canal act the president was given authority to make the laws for the zone by executive order. Within the next few weeks he expects to proclaim as law for the canal zone a workmen's compensation act, greatly similar to that which at last session passed the senate, but which failed in the house.

If the farmers and stockmen are receiving the highest prices ever paid for their products; if manufacturers are finding it impossible to fill their orders; if workmen are receiving their own prices for their labor; if business of all kinds is booming as it never boomed before—and these are the conditions at the present time—what is the matter with the times? Surely there is no foundation for the howlings of the irresponsible "Progressives," who are simply preying upon the prejudices of the public in the hope that in the confusion they may be boosted in to office. Are the people of western Nebraska ready to vote away the good times they now have for the vagaries promised them by the so-called Progressives? Stop and think it over Mr. Voter! You have yet nearly eight weeks before election.—Bridgeport Blade.

Editor Taylor, of the Central City Nonpartisan, who is the republican nominee for railway commissioner and a radical insurgent, has the quality of being fair. In the last issue of his paper he says: After all is said that can be said on the question it will have to be admitted that there is no equity or fairness for the Roosevelt electors to usurp a place on the republican ticket and thus deprive the Taft supporters in Nebraska of a chance to vote their sentiments. If the progressive party really believes in the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal" it will have to relinquish the advantage it has with regard to the electors and form a ticket of its own. The California progressives have set a splendid example by surrendering their advantage and accepting the fortunes of a petition ticket along with the Taft men. Let the Nebraska progressives manifest the same spirit and thus justify their right to the claim that they are the real exponents of the square deal.

General Count Maresuke Nogri, supreme counselor of the Japanese empire and his wife, the Countess Nogri, committed suicide Friday in accordance with an ancient Japanese custom as a final tribute to their departed emperor and friend, Mutsuhito. The general cut his throat with a short sword and the countess committed hari-kari. Following a Semuri custom the couple had carefully prepared plans for killing themselves and timed them so they would be coincident with the departure forever from Tokyo of the dead emperor.

Maine and Colorado.

Charles F. Scott, of the republican headquarters at Chicago, in a letter to the press, says in part: "As Maine goes, so goes the Union."

If the old adage holds good this year, the election in November will be a sweeping republican victory.

For there is no doubt that Maine has gone republican. The state which gave James G. Blaine, Thomas B. Reed, Nelson Dingley and other great republican leaders to the nation has returned to the republican column. The victory was both decisive and significant. Two years ago Maine elected a democratic governor by a plurality of nearly 9,000. This year, with the governor seeking re-election, Maine elected a republican governor by a plurality of between 3,000 and 4,000. This, too, despite of the fact that the third terms obeyed instructions and voted for the democratic ticket in order to defeat the republican candidate, if possible, and thus give Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to do some more shouting.

Second only to the significance of the Maine returns is the result of the Colorado primary, where the regular republicans show a long lead over the followers of the "Bull Moose." It may be remembered that when Colorado sent a solid delegation for Taft to the national convention last spring, Colonel Roosevelt cried out with a loud voice that the state had been stolen from him by machine methods and that a state-wide primary would have shown an entirely different result. The state-wide primary has now been held and the result is the same. It is perfectly apparent that the Centennial state is not yet ready to throw the republican party into the discard.

You may deposit the money in the bank in your own name and when you are well you instruct the bank to pay us. We have adopted this method because so many have been swindled by quacks and fakirs.
