Martin Michelson, a former Hershey merchant now living at Oakland, Cal., visited friends in town yesterday, and left for his home last night.

Miss Lucy Dunn who has been visiting relatives in Omaha and Grand Island for three weeks is expected home the first of next week.

Reports of death from the horse disease continue to come in, notwithstanding it was predicted that wet and cooler weather would arrest the progress of the disease. Nearly every horse owner who has not lost by the disease is liberally using preventatives of different kinds.

The movement of cars through the local yards for the first eighteen days of this month exceeded in number any similar period in the history of the road. Owing to the increased tonnage per train, the number of trains were somewhat less but the number of cars has never before been equaled, not even in 1907, when all previous records were badly smashed.

According to the heads of the veterinary department of the Kansas agricultural college $6,000,000 will not cover the loss in western Kansas alone by the horse plague. These experts estimate that over 20,000 horses have already died in the western counties of Kansas from the disease and the plague is still spreading at an alarming rate—even into other states. It is figured that not less than 110,000 or 120,000 horses have died in Kansas and Nebraska, making the total financial loss to the farmers of the two states not far from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Death of J. S. Clinton.

J. S. Clinton died at the home of his son Charles Clinton, at 4 o'clock this morning after a short illness.

For a number of years Mr. Clinton had been suffering with stomach trouble and ailments customary to advanced years, but his condition was not considered serious until Saturday evening. Shortly after retiring his condition became more serious and from that time he grew gradually weaker and and for several days no hope for his recovery was held out by the attending physician. Early this morning he fell into a deep sleep during which he peacefully passed away.

Mr. Clinton came here in 1886 and was one of the most respected citizens of the city, and during his residence always took an active part in the betterment of local conditions. For a number of years he lived on his ranch near the city, and later was employed in the local shops. For five years his health had been such that he was unable to engage in active employment and he divided his time with his sons in different cities, hoping to be benefited by the change of climate.

Mr. Clinton was eighty years of age. He was born at New Haven, Conn., and after his marriage moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., and later about ten years ago, he became a resident of Denver until the death of his wife when he returned to this city to make it his home.

To mourn him are left two sons, Charles S. Clinton of this city, and Ben Clinton, of St. Paul, Nebr.

The funeral will be held from the Episcopal church on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and will be in charge of the Masonic lodge.

Secretary of State Wait yesterday morning decided that the candidates nominated by the "progressives" or bull moose party are entitled to places on the state ballot. The contention of A. M. Morrissey, democratic candidate for attorney general, that the primary law of 1909 repealed the election act of 1906 was held by the secretary of state to be without merit. The affidavit that the petition is inadequate was also rejected. Attorneys for Mr. Morrissey announced that they would ask the district court of Lancaster county for an order restraining the secretary of state from putting the progressive ticket on the official ballot and will take the matter to the supreme court on appeal.

Robert Cary Passes Away.

North Platte people were shocked last night to learn of the death of Robert Cary, which occurred at Missoula, Mont., yesterday morning. Death was due to kidney trouble, which developed about a year ago, and though treatment was taken from specialists during the summer, not much hope was held out for ultimate recovery, though the end was not so soon expected.

Robert, who had been physical instructor of the university of Montana, was up to a year or so ago an athlete, a robust specimen of manhood, and while at Yale college had gained prominence as a track runner. Following his graduation he went to the northwest and later accepted the position at the Montana university. When he came home to spend the summer vacation his kidneys were badly troubling him and he went east for treatment. Temporary relief was given him and a couple of weeks ago he returned to Missoula. Wednesday Mr. Cary received a letter that his son was in bad shape and he was advised to start for Missoula, which he and Mrs. Cary did, but they only had reached Alliance when word of his death was received.

The remains will be taken to Webster Grove, Mo., for interment.

Congressman Kinkaid in Town.

Congressman Kinkaid is spending today in town, having arrived last evening from Flats, where he attended the fall festival. The Judge, who is a candidate for re-election, is here for the purpose of meeting friends and inquiring into political conditions. By reason of his wonderful activity in looking after the wants of his constituents, and the many measures he has introduced and had passed effecting homestead and irrigation matters, he has made himself very popular.

A very successful and enjoyable social was held by the gentlemen of the Baptist church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Loudon last evening. An interesting and amusing program of games was provided by the committee. Refreshments were served late in the evening. The attendance was gratifying to those in charge.

A social dance will be held at the Kelso home west of town tomorrow evening which a number of young people from town will attend.

Ben Clinton, of St. Paul, will arrive tomorrow to attend the funeral of his father, the late J. S. Clinton.

THE QUALITY PLACE.

Wright Here Friday Sept. 26th.

Clyde J. Wright, the candidate for governor of Nebraska on the Socialist ticket, will give a political address at the Lloyd opera house on Friday evening Sept. 26th, at 8 p. m. This will be a speech on political economy and industrial democracy, such as you will not have another opportunity to hear again this year, and every one should hear him. Mr. Wright is a student and thinker of wonderful ability, and as a philosopher has no equal in the state of Nebraska. The campaign of 1912 is on and there are some vital political issues that every voter should hear discussed before going to the polls on election day.

He will tell you something about the high cost of living, and what the ills of society are and suggest a remedy.

This will be a good opportunity for Teddy's bull moosers and all progressives, to get some more thunder, and the stand patters should come out and hear how it is done.

Every one come out and hear this learned politician explain the political problems which are perplexing the American people today. Ladies especially invited. COMMITTEE.

Wm. K. Peck, advance agent of the Barnes circus, which will exhibit here October 4th, was in town yesterday making the necessary contracts with local people.

Two score of little folks were guests of Master Charles Hays Wednesday afternoon on the occasion of his eighth birthday. Games and a nice lunch made the afternoon a pleasant one for the little people.

J. L. McBrien, former state superintendent of instruction, now devoting his time to the candidacy of Roosevelt, spent a day in town this week inquiring into the political conditions. He left for the east last evening.

Quite a number of our people will go to Stapleton next week to attend the fall festival, which will continue for three days.

Hide your money in our Bank: it will be safe there.

The best place to hide money is where they have vaults for safely protecting it. Every week we see newspaper accounts of people having been robbed. Sugar bowls, rag-bags, under the carpet, behind pictures, and all of those other places where people conceal their money, are well known to burglars. Hide it in OUR BANK, then you know you can get it when you want it.
