

Pure From Start to Finish.
There is perhaps nothing in daily use in the home in which purity is so important as it is in baking powder. On its purity depends the purity of the materials used, the success of the bakings, etc. And possibly the one thing that has served to make Calumet Baking Powder so much of a favorite with the critical cooks of the country, is the fact that Calumet is pure from start to finish. You can rely on Calumet's purity for the simple reason that every ounce of the materials used is first tested by experienced chemists and then mixed with the utmost care to insure its uniformity. And standing in the can or changes of weather, etc., cannot alter it in any respect.

But perhaps the best thing of all, is the fact that Calumet never fails. Every baking in which Calumet is used, is sure to come from the oven as light and as fluffy as you can wish. This not only means wholesome, tasty foods—but a big economy as well. Try Calumet next time you bake—It's the best baking powder made—for two World's Pure Food Expositions, one in Chicago, 1907, one at Paris, France, 1912—have given it the highest awards. Adv.

The KITCHEN CABINET

REASON WAS PLAIN.

"My husband has deserted me and I want a warrant," announced the large lady.

"What reason did he give for deserting you?" asked the prosecutor.

"I don't want any lip from you. I want a warrant. I don't know what reason he had."

"I think I understand his reason," said the official feebly, as he proceeded to draw up a warrant.

Breakfast Dishes.

There are few housekeepers who do not murmur over the sameness of the breakfast menu and long for something new to serve the family.

Here are a few dishes that may be varied and modified to suit the needs of the family:

Smoked Salmon Relish.—A few very thin slices of smoked salmon, dipped in boiling water and placed on rounds of buttered bread toast, a slice to each round, and a poached egg on the top.

Codfish with Rice and Eggs.—A cup of cold cooked macaroni added to a cup of codfish in white sauce, making a border around the platter of scrambled eggs, is another nice breakfast dish. Any left-overs of cooked cereal, sliced and fried in butter or meat drippings are relished for a cool morning breakfast.

Date Torte.—Beat the whites of three eggs very stiff, add the beaten yolks, add a cup of sugar. Mix a cup of bread crumbs with a cup of chopped dates, add a half cup of chopped nuts, and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake slowly in a moderate oven, and serve with whipped cream.

Date Souffle.—Stone and crush a pound of dates, to a paste. Beat the whites of four eggs very stiff, add gradually a half cup of sugar, then stir in the dates. Bake in a buttered baking dish and bake until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Date Fritters.—Sift one and a third cups of flour with one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add two-thirds of a cup of milk, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, and a beaten egg; mix well and add a cup of halved dates. Fry by teaspoonfuls in hot fat. Roll in powdered sugar and serve.

Date Fudge.—Cook together two cups of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, half a cup of milk, two squares of chocolate. When tested as usual, add a half cup of dates and a teaspoonful of vanilla.

Brown Bread Relish.—Put a little bacon fat in a frying pan and when hot add a few slices of Boston brown bread; brown carefully and slip a poached egg on each slice and serve hot.

Mexican Eggs.—Split three green peppers lengthwise, remove the seeds and fry in butter five minutes. Lay thin slices of broiled ham on buttered toast, then place the pepper with a fried or poached egg in each pepper.

In some form very frequently. The following are a few of the many ways that dates may be served:

Fruit Cheese.—Chop six dates, three figs, a half cup of blanched almonds; mix with a cup of cream cheese, a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a seasoning of salt. Make in balls and serve garnished with half of an almond on each ball. This may be served with mayonnaise if placed on lettuce, making a very acceptable salad.

Date Souffle.—Stone and crush a pound of dates, to a paste. Beat the whites of four eggs very stiff, add gradually a half cup of sugar, then stir in the dates. Bake in a buttered baking dish and bake until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Date Fritters.—Sift one and a third cups of flour with one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add two-thirds of a cup of milk, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, and a beaten egg; mix well and add a cup of halved dates. Fry by teaspoonfuls in hot fat. Roll in powdered sugar and serve.

Helpful Suggestions.

For those who must provide for the winter supply of eggs, it is wise to preserve them when the price is reasonable. If eggs are packed as late as September or October, a pint of water glass to twelve or fifteen gallons of water will be a safe preservative. The water glass is a thick transparent liquid which is added to the boiled water and allowed to cool before putting in the eggs.

Another simple and easy solution to prepare is lime water and salt. A pint of slaked lime, a pint of salt and three gallons of water. The lime will make the water a creamy consistency.

Something New in Potato Pancakes.—Sift together a cup of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a half teaspoon of salt and a scant cup of milk, a yolk of egg well beaten. Mix all together and fold in the white of the egg. Grate a layer of cold cooked potato over the griddle, then pour over the mixture and bake until brown, turning and browning on the other side.

Streusel Apple Cake.—Add a cup of sugar to a tablespoonful each of lard and butter, break an egg into a cup, and fill it with milk; add two cups of flour sifted with two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Cover the cake with eighth of apple and sprinkle with two-thirds of a cup of sugar mixed with half a cup of flour and two tablespoonfuls of butter.

Kidney Bean Salad.—Combine a cup of cooked kidney beans with a cup of tender cabbage, shredded; add one sweet green pepper chopped fine and cover with French dressing.

An unusual combination for a salad is a slice of Bermuda onion and a slice of orange served with French dressing.

Fruit Salad.

This can be made of almost any fruits, such as bananas peeled and sliced, oranges broken up into sections, and, if fresh fruit is unobtainable, use tinned apricots, peaches or pineapple. Stone and cut up the fruit used with a silver knife, and let it all soak for an hour or so in syrup flavored with liquor. Serve in a china or glass bowl with whipped cream.

To Can Wild Plums.

Wash them good, then put on the stove to boil with water just enough to cover them. When they have boiled fifteen or twenty minutes, add one level teaspoon of soda in every gallon of fruit. Do not add sugar, because it hardens them. Can in sterilized jars. When ready to use, they may be pitted and sweetened to taste.

News for Dolly.

A pretty little girl, in common with many others, finds theological things bewildering. When a fresh difficulty presents themselves in the course of the Scripture lesson at school she is accustomed to turn to a sympathetic aunt for enlightenment. "Auntie," she observed one evening, "when God made everything, didn't he work on Sunday?"

"No, dear. When he created heaven and earth in six days, he rested on the seventh day."

Big Catch.

"I understand the Marsons are very much elated over their eldest daughter's splendid match."

"Yes; she married a New York policeman."

MORAL FOR THE MONEY-MAD

Hope of Becoming Millionaires About on a Par With the Washerwoman's Delusion.

Prof. Warren M. Beider of Bethel, Pa., in a recent address made the striking assertion that the American people, money-mad, taught their children how to earn a living, but not how to live.

"There is no viler, and there is no valuer ambition," said Professor Beider to a reporter, "than that of the American boy to become a millionaire. What percentage of our boys do become millionaires? It would take a good many decimals to work that out, believe me!"

"The boy who sets his heart on a million fares like the washerwoman who set her heart on a cross-eyed aeronaut."

"I hear you married that cross-eyed aeronaut last week?" said a friend.

"Yes, I did," replied the washerwoman, as she rocked back and forth over her tub. "Yes, I married him, and I gave him $500 out of my buld'in' association to start an airship factory."

"That so?" said the friend. "Where is he now?"

"I don't know," said the washerwoman. "I'm waitin' for him to come back from his honeymoon."

PIMPLES COVERED FACE

1613 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill.—"My face was very red and irritated and was covered with pimples. The pimples festered and came to a head. They itched and burned and when I scratched them became sore. I tried soaps and they would not stop the itching and burning of the skin. This lasted for a month or more. At last I tried Cuticura Ointment and Soap. They took out the burning and itching of the skin, soothing it very much and giving the relief that the others failed to give me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about three weeks and was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mueller, Mar. 16, 1912.

Eggs Clotworthy Ate.

Harry Clotworthy, who is an expert on military affairs, entered the dining room of the National Press club one morning and carried with him a ravenous appetite. Having eaten one breakfast, which consisted largely of eggs, he ordered another breakfast, which consisted even more largely of eggs. After his repast he went to the writing-room to get off some letters. Half an hour later the steward of the club found the colored waiter loading about the entrance of the writing-room and asked him what he meant by being absent from his post.

"I got a good excuse," exclaimed the waiter, exhibiting the check for the egg breakfast. "Mr. Clotworthy done eat $2 worth of eggs and I ain't goin' to let him git away from here without payin' for them, high as eggs is now."

Explains the Undertaker's Grouch.

"Who is that fellow sitting humped up and muttering to himself out there on the horse block?"

"Aw, that's Ezra Toombs, the undertaker," replied the landlord of the Skeedee tavern. "He's feeling sore over the way his business has been going of late. You see, the doctor gave Judge Feebles two weeks to live; that was six weeks ago, and the judge is up and around now and figgerin' on marryin' again. Every time Ezra meets the doctor he asks him, 'How about it, hey?' and they have a row. And now he's sittin' out there watching a tramp painter gilding the weather vane of the church across the street. Ezra says, by Heck, he's about ready to move away, things is so dead here."—Kansas City Star.

His Point of Vantage.

The mayor of a small town was trying a negro for abusing his wife. She claimed he got drunk and tried to beat her and she hit him.

The mayor turned to their little girl and asked:

"Girl, was your father under the influence of whiskey when your mother hit him?"

"No, sah! He was under the kitchen table," she very quickly replied.—Mack's National Monthly.

Unspontaneous.

"Darling," said the fond youth, producing a ring, "which is the right finger?"

"For goodness sake, Algy!" responded the maiden. "don't you know? Nineteen years old and never been engaged to a girl before!"

Good Time to Do It.

"Is your daughter going to practice on the piano this afternoon?"

"Yes, I think so."

"Well, then, I'd like to borrow your lawn mower. I've got to cut the grass some time, anyway."—Judge.

Submits Tamely.

"Is Scribble what you would call a struggling author?"

"No, indeed. When an editor puts him out he doesn't offer the slightest resistance."

Wise Young Man.

That was a very wise Cambridge student of whom the London story tellers were talking some time ago. One of his college friends finding himself without funds, went to this Solomon of students to borrow. He found him in bed. Seizing him by the shoulder, he shook him.

"I say," he said, "are you asleep?"

"Why do you ask?" queried the other, sleepily.

"I want to borrow a sovereign."

"Yes," said the other, turning over and closing his eyes. "I'm asleep."

Takes Ugliness Philosophically.

A man whose face is heavily pitted through a case of smallpox in his infancy, has been able to extract amusement from his appearance. Once he gave an explanation of it by saying that he had fallen down a shot tower.

Asked how he was able to shave himself, he answered:

"With a bell punch."

"No; that victory is properly credited to Wellington. Blucher didn't relieve him until about the eighth inning."
