Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held in the library building Wednesday evening communications were read from U. S. Senators Brown and Hitchcock favoring the passage of the Lever Agricultural Extension bill or some bill of similar purport. These letters were in response to resolutions adopted by the Chamber of Commerce and placed in the hands of the Senators. A communication was received from Charles Ware, referring to the request made by the Chamber of Commerce for better train service, in which he said that he would be pleased to stop over at North Platte, meet our citizens and talk the matter over. The secretary was instructed to extend to Mr. Ware an invitation and upon learning the date when he could be here, to arrange a meeting. A report was received from the Special Irrigation Committee and in accordance therewith the secretary was instructed to place in the hands of the property owners under the proposed canal the report in the form of a circular letter, and to call a meeting to convene in the court house on the 28th day of December at 2 p. m. for the purpose of further considering the reconstruction of the old south side canal. A request for financial assistance from the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of buying sweaters for the 14 men of the high school who won their "N's" during the last football season, was received and upon thorough consideration it was decided that the board could not use the funds for that purpose, but appreciating the splendid work that had been done by the boys and desiring to make that appreciation substantial, three men present pledged $5.00 each toward the buying of the sweaters and Mr. F. H. Garlow was appointed a committee of one to see that the balance of the money required was pledged.

City Council Notes.

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, Councilman Herminghausen, who will take his seat as county commissioner after January 1st, presented his resignation, which was accepted. Mayor Patterson will name a successor before the next meeting of council.

The street commissioner was instructed to open up A and First street through property owned by B. A. Wilson and which the latter had enclosed. Over this matter there has been considerable discussion.

The city attorney was instructed to appeal the case of Mrs. Waggoner, who obtained a verdict of $208 for injuries sustained by a fall on the sidewalk.

Two ordinances were passed, one extending the city limits so as to include the Cody addition, the other relating to taking care of water coming from the roofs of business houses.

Electric street lighting was the subject of emphatic discussion. Councilman Hoagland favored the abandonment of the lights in the residence sections because the city did not receive the service for which it paid. Manager Walker was commended before the council, and a rather lengthy talk resulted. Manager Walker admitted that he was short of boiler capacity, and at times when the load was heavy in the business district he was compelled to cut off the lights in part of the residence section.

It is announced that Helen Gould, now past forty and worth thirty millions, will marry a plain American. As North Platte is indebted to Helen for contributions to the local Y. M. C. A., we will all wish her a happy married life.

Alfalfa millers from Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Colorado closed their semi-annual meeting at Wichita, Kan., Wednesday with a prediction that $20,000,000 worth of alfalfa products would be the output from the mills this year. Up to date they have milled 60,000 tons and will produce 40,000 tons more before the season closes.

President Taft has made up his mind to accept the proffer of the Kent professorship of law at Yale and probably will take up his duties at New Haven early in the spring. He will not be restricted, but will be permitted to lecture if he desires in other law schools or upon the platform or to engage in any other occupation which he sees fit.

The house committee investigating the "money trust" was Wednesday shown a chart defining an alleged connection through "interlocking directorates," by which members and directors of J. P. Morgan & Company, together with seventeen other financial institutions, held directorates in various corporations, from banks to railroads, the aggregate of whose capitalization was almost $20,000,000,000. While this announcement is not altogether news, for such statements have been made before, it recalls the fact that Wall Street rules the business and finances of this country. But what are we going to do about it?

In his report to the governor, state treasurer George advocates selling the public school lands of the state amounting in all to something over 1,700,000 acres. He declares that the step could be safely undertaken and that not only would the state obtain the proceeds for investment in safe securities but that also the land thus turned over to private individuals would then be assessable under the laws of the state. The return in this, he says, combined with the four and a half per cent on securities would net the state a far better return than is possible under the present rental conditions.

Hastings, upon the northwest quarter (NW $\frac{1}{4}$) of section thirty-four (34), township thirteen (13), north of range thirty (30), west of the 6th P. M., in Lincoln county, Nebraska, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note dated November 25, 1911, for the sum of \$4,000.00 due and payable five years after date with interest at 6 per cent per annum.

That the condition of said mortgage has become broken and the plaintiff has elected to declare the entire sum due and there is now due upon said note and mortgage the sum of $4,000.00 with interest at 6 per cent per annum from November 25, 1911, and that said note and mortgage has been assigned to and is now owned by the plaintiff the Racine Sattley Co., of Nebraska, and the plaintiff prays for a decree that the defendants be required to pay the amount due upon said note and mortgage or that said premises be sold to satisfy the amount due and that the defendants and each of them be barred of all right, title, interest and equity of redemption in said mortgaged premises.
